NEW DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Mr. Endicott Peabody Saltonstall of Chestnut Hill Appointed to Succeed Mr. Tufts

Mr. Endicott Peabody Saltonstall of Chestnut Hill was nominated and immediately confirmed by the Governor's council on Wednesday, as district attorney for Middlesex county and began his work yesterday morning.

Mr. Saltonstall was born on Christmas Day, 1872, the son of Leverett and Rose Smith (Lee) Saltonstall. He prepared for college at Hopkinson School and was graduated from Harvard in the class of 1894. He got his law degree three years later.

Mr. Saltonstall took much interest in athletics while at college. He played on the freshman eleven, on all the class eleven and was on the varsity team in two or three games. He also rowed in his freshman year. He was a member of the Institute of 1770, the Dickey, Alpha Delta Phi, Hasty Pudding and Porcellian Clubs.

In 1899 he was elected to the Newton Board of Aldermen and served five years. The last two years he was president and the two preceding years vice-president.

Following his graduation from law school, Mr. Saltonstall entered the office of Nichols & Cobb, 40 Water street, leaving there to enter the law department of the Boston Elevated. Mr. Saltonstall left the Elevated in 1902 and became identified with the law firm of Richardson, Herrick & Neave, with which he remained three years. In 1905 he entered a partnership with Albert P. Carter and Robert G. Dodge. By mutual consent this partnership was dissolved in 1910. In 1917 he formed a partnership with Charles W. Blood, who had been associated with him for 10 years, under the name of Saltonstall & Blood.

Mr. Saltonstall was married at Brookline, Nov. 2, 1898, to Elizabeth Baldwin Dupee, and has three children, Elizabeth, Endicott Peabody and Florence. He is a great lover of his home at Chestnut Hill road, Newton, where he was born and where he has lived all his life with the exception of five years of married life.

Mr. Saltonstall belongs to the Somerset, Union, Harvard and Exchange Clubs. In January, 1918, he was elected president of the Union Club. He was a member of the Newton constabulary during the war, served on the Legal Advisory Board and was chairman of the Community Labor Board in the district in which he lives.

Lasell

Miss Helene Greshorn of Chicago, Ill., has been elected leader of the Glee Club, Miss Marion Crawford of Pontiac, Ill., pianist, Miss Mayno Selzer, Shelby, Indiana, librarian, and Miss Cornelia Hemmingway, New Haven, secretary. Mr. Griffin, who conducted the Glee, Orphean and Mandolin Clubs so successfully last year is to again have charge. Even more interest than last year is being shown by the new girls, the "try outs" are still in progress. There is every evidence that the concert will be up to their usual high standard.

Brewer Eddy, always so welcome at the school, had charge of vespers last Sunday evening, giving a very practical and inspiring talk to the students.

Miss Martha Ransom, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. William Wagner of Woodland, left for Baltimore on Tuesday morning.

The pupils of the Woodland Park school went on a trip to Plymouth last Saturday.

The hockey and baseball teams are being organized and there is also much enthusiasm over the tennis tournament which is now in progress.

Western girls are particularly interested in the Harvard-Indiana game on Saturday and a large party will attend.

BURGLAR CAPTURED

The Newton police surprised two "gentlemen" burglars at work last Sunday night and captured one, the other making his escape thru a window. The police were notified by telephone of the suspicious actions of two men around the residence of Mr. Charles M. Scudder, 279 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Scudder arriving home late that evening noticed two men walking across the lawn of a neighbor, whose house they knew was closed. Mr. Scudder inquired their business and was told that they had evidently made some mistake about the house they were trying to find. In the meantime the Scudders noticed some jimmy marks on their front door and found a kitchen window open. They immediately took pains to get the number of the automobile in which the two men were driving away and notified the police by telephone. Three men were assigned to the matter and found the car parked in front of the closed residence of Mr. James F. Toomay at 849 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre. One man, Officer Murphy, was left in the automobile while the others went up to the house.

Sgt. Desmond entered the house through the front door and patrolman William Mahoney went up the back stairs. Hearing the police, one of the burglars jumped through a window on to the porch, thence to the ground, and was off. The other was surprised wearing white cotton gloves, with his two revolvers lying on the floor. He also had in his possession, they say, in addition to some loot, a steel jimmy and a flashlight.

Only $16 in cash was found on the captured man. Mr. Toomay does not know exactly how much money he lost, but he thinks one $100 bill is missing. Most of the jewelry and clothing taken from the rooms of Mrs. Toomay and her daughter were recovered.

Property valued at about $200, including silk scarfs and other articles of clothing as well as much jewelry, were recovered in the car.

The burglar who was captured gave the name of John Hamilton, alias J. John Harrington, but the Bertillon system uncovered his record, showing several other aliases, among them "John Rickles," together with a list of crimes and imprisonments. Harrington refused to tell the name of his companion.

The first report of burglar's operations came to the Newton police from Augustus H. Foucar, who lives at 95 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill. He said two men had called, while the

ALDERMEN MEET

On October 13 and 14, on the grounds and in the Parish House, the women of the Second Church, West Newton, are giving the community an entirely original affair, different from anything that has been attempted before. The aim of this entertainment is not only for the benefit of the church, but for the good of the business and social life of the community. There are many more things going on in Newton than any one dreams of. Come to the Bazaar and get a knowledge of the industries, interests, and achievements of Newton and the Newtonians.

There will be an unusual art exhibit in the chapel of the Parish House. The fine proportions of this room, the carved finish of the wood and its mellow tones make a wonderful setting for the paintings, sculpture, stained glass, Japanese prints, and embroideries, and pottery.

Art lovers may enjoy pictures by such artists as Charles Copeland, Fred H. Daniels, Charles H. Davis, Willard H. Eaton, William M. Paxton, and Giovanni Troccoli as well as sculpture by St. Gaudens and Miss Link who designed the Second Church font.

Mr. Connick will exhibit stained glass, Mr. Adalian, rugs; Mrs. Peruzzi, Florentine jewelry; Miss Morse, carved frames; Mr. Callawhill, pottery; and Mr. Kuntz of the Technical High School, choice pieces of his work. Nearly all the exhibitors are residents of Newton.

The other various rooms of the Parish house you will find turned into shops with gay awnings, attended by salespeople in Oriental garb, and here will be on sale hats, hand embroidery, aprons, Christmas cards, books, and wonderful Oriental things, and in the kitchen furnishing shop a marvellous cook book containing all the famous recipes of the West Newton housewives.

On Thursday in a specially erected Hostess House luncheon will be served by a group of young women from the Y. W. C. A. with the speed and efficiency of war times. At 6.30 the women of the Church will serve a supper.

Thursday evening Miss Sumayah Attiyeah the celebrated Syrian lecturer will give an entertainment in native costume. Miss Attiyeah is a talented speaker and thrills her audience with her dramatic stories and descriptions of Turkish life.

All day Thursday an automobile show will be held on Margin street, traffic on which will be suspended, and its use be given over to the exhibitors of a number of different makes of cars.

For the children there will be an

ORIENTAL BAZAAR

There was but little routine business at the regular aldermanic meeting on Monday night, as the board has met weekly since the close of the summer vacation.

President Harriman was in the chair and Aldermen Blake, Pratt and Rogers were the only absentees.

There were many hearings, as usual, most of them being routine affairs.

Mr. W. A. Wetherbee protested against an Edison pole on Orchard street, which he said was but 14 feet wide.

Rev. Frederick Paladino of Upper Falls made a vigorous protest against the location of a pole on Summer street by the M. & B. St. Rwy. Co. in advance of any action of the aldermen.

This pole, he said, had already been in position for two weeks.

Mr. Fred Beeler favored a sewer in Underwood avenue, West Newton.

No one appeared at hearings on Edison poles on Webster street, M. & B. poles on Commonwealth avenue, on taking land for a sewer in Morton street, on laying sidewalks on Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill, and on petitions of the Newtonville Auto Rental Co. to increase amount of gasoline kept to 2,000 gallons, of L. A. Andrews to sell gasoline at 1122 Chestnut street, of the Garden City Laundry Co. to keep gasoline at 75 Adams street and of Frederic G. Ericson for an automobile repair shop on Border street.

G. M. Briggs's petition for an automobile repair shop on Clark place was heard and leave to withdraw given at request of petitioner.

Mayor Childs sent in recommendations for $5,429 for laying water mains, to settle claim of Edison Co. for $231, for salary of a captain of police until January 1, $416, suggesting reconsideration of refusal to allow use of old Lower Falls fire station for community purposes, transmitting a petition for Bacon street, a one-way street, and petitions for widening Beacon street at Waban bridge and relative to improvements at Mason school. His appointment of Philip T. Murphy as a public weigher was confirmed.

Earl W. Bowen of Lincoln street, Arthur V. Pingree of Avon place and William S. Osborne of Cabot street were drawn as jurors for the Superior court at Cambridge.

Petitions of W. A. Sweat for an auctioneer license, W. L. McKenzie for a truck license, Thos. L. Aiken for a third-class liquor license, Domenico Rizzo for a pool room at 1244 Washington street, C. G. Marangos for a victualer license at 267 Washington street, M. & B. St. Rwy. Co. to remove poles from Homer street, Edison Co. for attachments on Watertown street, M. & B. St. Rwy. Co. for a pole on

CONSTABULARY REUNION

Four Hundred Men Enjoy an Afternoon at Norumbega and Form a Permanent Organization

About four hundred former members of the Newton Constabulary gathered Saturday afternoon at Norumbega Park for the purpose of a reunion.

The weather was perfect and a band concert by the Newton Constabulary band, and two base ball games by teams representing different parts of the city provided ample entertainment during the afternoon.

At ball, the Waban team defeated Newtonville by the score of 11 to 9, after some wild ball playing. One man who took first base by being hit by a pitched ball, went all the way home on an attempt to catch him while stealing second base.

Sergt. Edwin C. Johnson, always irrepressible, added to the hilarity of the day by depositing the band master and leading the band as it played "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

An enjoyable incident was a visit and brief speech by Governor Channing H. Cox. He was received with hearty cheers and his appearance broke up the second ball game, as the men gathered about the band stand to greet him.

The Governor was accompanied by President Frank G. Allen of the Mass. Senate.

After the Governor had left the men formed by companies and marched around the ball field before proceeding to the restaurant where an elaborate clambake with all the fixings was served.

The more formal proceedings of the day took place in the theatre, after the banquet. Major J. R. Chandler was a most efficient toastmaster and the brief speeches by Mayor Edwin O. Childs and General James G. White were well received after a musical program by the band and some good community singing.

The idea of making a permanent organization to be called the Newton Constabulary Association was unanimously approved, and by-laws and officers were immediately chosen, while some 260 members were enrolled. The officers are as follows:—President, Gen. James G. White; Vice-President, Joseph A. Bryant; Secretary, Edwin S. Drowne; Treasurer, John D. Rockefeller, and an executive committee consisting of Judge E. B. Bishop, L. B. Folsom, Robert E. Hills, George Angler, Chas. B. Floyd, F. H. Baird, Edwin C. Johnson, and Richard B. Carter.

Any person who has ever served in the Constabulary, either in Newton, or while a unit of the State Guard, is entitled to join the Association and can do so by making application to Mr. Drowne at Newton Highlands or Mr. Rockefeller at Auburndale and enclosing a membership fee of one dollar.

The object of the Association is to keep alive an organization which can be called upon if ever needed for the protection of the community.

DEATH OF FORMER RESIDENT

Mr. William Frederick Johnson, a former well known resident of this city, died suddenly on Tuesday, while on a business trip at Canaan, Conn. Mr. Johnson was born in this city 49 years ago and resided here as a young man, moving to his present home at Roslindale some 27 years ago. He was connected with the firm of Farley, Harvey Co. of Boston for 32 years. He was a past master of Joseph Warren lodge of Masons, and a member of St. Andrews Chapter, Boston Commandery, K. T., and of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Co. He is survived by a widow and one daughter, and three brothers, Messrs. George W. Johnson of Newton, Benjamin A. Johnson of Waverley, and Herbert E. Johnson of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Funeral services were held this noon at the Newton Cemetery Chapel, Rev. Dr. H. Grant Person, pastor of Eliot Church, officiating, and a male quartet sang several selections.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Auburndale Village Improvement Society held its annual meeting at the Auburndale Club, corner Melrose and Auburn streets, October 5 at 8 P. M. The following list of officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Henry L. Goodman; 3 vice-presidents, Harold W. Knowlton, Ernest Braithwaite, Henry B. Reed; secretary, James Dunlop; treasurer, Charles D. Ansley; executive committee, C. B. Conn, W. S. Wagner, Frank Cunningham, W. K. Corey, H. B. Ross.

LODGES

The Tennyson Rebekah Lodge held a successful whist party in Odd Fellows Hall on Tuesday. About seventy were present. Mrs. Alvery J. Baker of Newton was in charge assisted by Miss Nellie Lanburn, and Miss Marion Barker. Mrs. W. L. Harvey and Mr. Harry Wood were among those winning prizes.

LARGE CLASS AT NEWTON THEOLOGICAL

The Newton Theological Institution has the largest entering class for the past twenty years. It already numbers thirty. The class is probably the most cosmopolitan in the history of the institution, having three Japanese, one Chinese, one Karen, one Telugu and one from Czechoslovakia. Seven or eight are from the West, several from the East, one from Manitoba, beside the usual good delegation from the Maritime Provinces.

Commonwealth avenue, Fred G. Ericson for auto repair shop on Border street, and of Charles A. Gorman, Stearns street, Nelson P. Trickey, Pilgrim road, Carl E. Nordstrom, Cherry street and R. T. Leahy, Warwick road for private garages were granted. Other petitions were received from Murphy and Patterson for express license, for soldiers' relief from Paul W. Aywood, J. W. Withers, Margaret road for private garage, James Farquhar relative to gravel pits off California street and from Wm. F. Brennan relative to stamped endorsement made by city treasurer on checks.

C. J. Mehlman was authorized to keep and sell 1500 gallons of gasoline at 1238 Commonwealth avenue. John E. Dodge, permit for a 2-car garage Raeburn terrace, E. B. Stratton for a 6 car garage 749 Beacon street, Herbert A. Travis, 5 car garage, Webster street, Louis E. Axtman, 2 car garage, Florence street and John M. Walsh, license to sell second hand articles at 1728 Commonwealth avenue.

Leave to withdraw was granted on these matters, Elizabeth Townley, Taft avenue, and Zaida M. Chamberlin, Waltham street for victualler licenses, N. P. O'Sullivan, to sell gasoline, 945 Centre street, Geo. P. Peck for gasoline filling station, Washington and Crafts streets, J. E. Lymer to sell gasoline, 543 Crafts street, A. E. Fernald, public garage, Waltham and Crafts streets, F. H. Hosmer, public garage, Beacon street at Beethoven avenue, J. J. Connolly, for auto repair shop, Homer street, Winslow A. Dunne, for public garage, 209 Tremont street and Philip Gilsenan for auto service show on Irving street.

$1588 was granted for improving the heating plant at American Legion quarters, $350 additional for alterations at the Mason school, $431 for new automobile for Library Dept, $231 for settlement of claim of the Edison Co., and $400 additional for care of Police automobiles.

The matter of appropriating $32,400 for new fire station at Auburndale was referred to the Finance committee.

The proposed improvements to the Davis school and the matter of electric lighting of schoolhouses was referred to the next city government. Soldiers relief was granted to Saye Leone, Wallace E. McNeill, Nora E. Farrell, Alyse LeCroix, Nicholas Tambascio, Domenico Dentato and John Mazzoli.

The board also voted to make Bacon street a one way street for a period of six weeks, entrance being allowed from Washington street.

Alderman Young called attention to the need of haste in making an appropriation for building the new fire station at Auburndale if the present bids were to be accepted?

Alderman Nichols called attention to the way in which the new tax rate had been made up, with special reference to the fact that for the first time in the history of the city, the rate of the previous year was an estimate of receipts for the present year. He stated that he had been informed that there was to be a large reduction in the amount received from corporation taxes, and that the city, might in consequence, be faced with a serious financial situation. He believed the board was entitled to the facts in the case and on his motion the board requested the chairman of the assessors to be present at its next meeting and explain the situation. This was not done, however, until after Alderman Heathcote had doubted the wisdom of this course.

The board adjourned at 9 P. M.

FORTNAM—SEDGLEY

On Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alton R. Sedgley of 23 Webster street, West Newton, the daughter, Olive M. Sedgley and Mr. William Fortnam of Dedham, were married by Rev. Austin Rice, D. D., pastor of the Wakefield Congregational Church.

The bride was attired in a gown of white crepe de chine with bridal veil and carried white roses. Miss Helen Fortnam of Dedham, sister of the bridegroom was the maid of honor. She wore a dress of turquoise blue crepe de chine with silver trimming and carried pink roses. David Burke of Dedham was the best man. Miss Anna Farrell of West Newton was the pianist, and Esther Murray of Walpole, N. H., was the flower girl.

On their return from a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Fortnam will make their home at 23 Webster street, West Newton.

AN APPEAL

As you are cleaning your book-cases this fall will you not put aside for the Union Bazaar the books for which you have no further use? There is the current fiction which you will never re-read and there are standard works of which you have more than one copy. Picking out these will cost you practically no effort, but they will be a very material help to the Bazaar and give the purchaser the pleasure which they originally brought you. If you find any such books will you kindly notify Mrs. W. B. Emery, 13 Ivanhoe street? She will see that they are collected Monday or Tuesday, November 7 or 8.

One other attractive feature of Mrs. Emery's department will be the Christmas cards. Be sure that you see these before leaving the Bazaar, for they are most artistic and will well repay your attention.

VASSAR COLLEGE ENDOWMENT FUND

The chairmen interested in the Vassar College Endowment Fund in this city are as follows: Mrs. Harold G. Gidding, chairman for the city of Newton; Mrs. Frederick Fessenden, District Chairman for Mass. and Rhode Island; Dr. Mary Wright, Chairman of the organization committee; Mrs. Charles Andrews, Chairman for Eastern Mass.; Mrs. E. F. Gibbs, Treasurer. The local chairmen are Mrs. Harold M. Bowman (Newton Centre and Newton Highlands); Mrs. Robert W. Leff (West Newton and Auburndale); Miss Ann Weed (Newton and Newtonville); Mrs. Charles C. Barton, Jr. (Chestnut Hill).

PLAY SCORELESS TIE

Last Tuesday afternoon, the Orange and Black gridiron gladiators, under the command of Coach Dickinson and Capt. Jake Stanford, motored to the town of Franklin where they engaged the Dean Academy second eleven in a game that was interesting although scoreless. Newton was unable to cross the Academy's goal line and the Dean boys were up against the same impossibility when they tried to cross the Newton goal line.

During the first half the Franklin boys had much the better of the argument, making substantial gains in midfield, but lacking the punch to shove the ball over when they came within striking distance of the Newton goal line. During this half the Newton line was in far from the right working order, while the backfield work of the Orange and Black was nothing to get excited about. In the second half, after one of the famous Dickinsonian lectures, the Newton team seemed to take on renewed life, with the result that Dean was outmaneuvered and that the first two games seem to have given the impression that this year's Newton team is below the average. Such is not the case. The team that carries the colors of the Garden City for the season of 1921 is only in the making and we venture to say that by the time the leaves are all off the trees and the snap of the air tells us that it is late autumn, you will find that this year's Newton eleven is to be classed with the very best of them. Furthermore, it is always a good thing to remember that Coach Dickinson is a firm believer in the idea of making haste slowly. A Dickinson team must learn football, and to learn football the way it should be taught takes more than one or two preliminary games to accomplish it. A Newton team plays its best football in late November, that is as it should be. There is nothing erratic about an Orange and Black grid team. The movement is always forward and the result of the hours of painstaking coaching will prove its worth as the days go by. So if by any chance you think the 1921 Newton eleven is below par withhold your decision until after Thanksgiving Day, at which time we think you will be more than ready to retract it.

In regard to the Dean game at Franklin last Tuesday, we should like to mention the fact that Newton was outweighed about 20 pounds to a man. The Dean team was the best second eleven that Coach Dickinson has ever seen at the Academy. We have this on the authority of the Newton gridiron mentor. Thus the showing that the Orange and Black made against a team that would give many a college eleven a run for their money is to be considered a satisfactory one.

Next Wednesday morning, Columbus Day, Newton travels over to Everett, where they are scheduled to open the Suburban schedule with Coach Hazen's Red and Blue team. It is to be hoped that a goodly sized crowd of followers will accompany the team to Everett and help cheer the boys on to their first Suburban victory. It will be a good game for the teams appear to be about evenly matched just at present.

Other games of interest to Newton sport followers are the Dean 2nd-Cambridge Latin game at Franklin this afternoon, which game will give the Orange and Black grid a good line on the Cantabrigians, and the Malden-Haverhill, and Medford-St. John's Prep game on Saturday.

K. OF C. INSTALLATION

The newly elected officers of Newton Council, K. of C., were installed Tuesday evening by District Deputy William F. Madden of Waltham, State Deputy William C. Prout made his first visit to Newton Council and outlined the work which the order expected to undertake the coming year.

District Deputy James F. Gallagher, on behalf of the council, presented lecturer Louis S. Tabaldi, a diamond-studded K. of C. charm. Mr. Tabaldi, who is well known in musical circles in Newton, coached the minstrel show which was presented by the council last Spring.

The officers installed were: Grand knight, Thomas F. Hession; deputy grand knight, William J. Certy; chancellor, Daniel F. Hargison; warden, Edward Maguire; financial secretary, John F. Gallagher; recording secretary, Walter Kearns; treasurer, George Linnehan; lecturer, Louis S. Tabaldi; advocate, James A. Waters; inside guard, Thomas J. Joyce; outside guard, John McElroy; trustee, William A. Sprout.

Following the installation refreshments were served, and members entertained the gathering with songs and instrumental selections.

NEWTON MAN HONORED

Mr. Charles Raymond Cabot of Watertown street, Newtonville, was named by Attorney General J. Weston Allen last Saturday afternoon to take charge of the office of the District Attorney for the county of Middlesex, as soon as the decision of the Supreme Court removing Mr. Tufts from that office had been received.

Mr. Cabot is thirty years of age. He is a graduate of Newton High School, Dartmouth College, '12, and Boston University Law School, 1915. In the latter year he entered private practice in the law office of John E. Hannigan of Boston. At the outbreak of the World War, he entered the first Plattsburg Training camp, served overseas with the 103rd Infantry, 26th Division, and returned a major. He was named by Attorney General Allen as an assistant attorney general on Aug. 7, 1920. He lives in Newton, at the home of his father, Charles D. Cabot. Mr. Cabot was born in Newtonville. Mr. Cabot's occupancy of the office was terminated by the appointment by Governor Cox of Mr. Endicott P. Saltonstall on Wednesday.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The bowling committee consisting of Messrs. Cooper, Haynes, Drisko, Birdsall, Mason, and Tucker, have arranged for a candle pin tournament to open on Monday evening, October 10th. Entrees for this tournament are now being received.

The opening night on the alleys under the auspices of this committee was a busy one. The fortunate winners of prizes were: F. H. Drisko, A. F. Tucker, P. R. Morton, and John R. Rooney.

Prospective students are still welcome to visit the Accountancy class which is held every Monday and Wednesday evening at the Newton Y. M. C. A. Business Law is on Thursday evening. These subjects may be taken together or separately.

The Annual Canvass for funds will be conducted by representative business men during the week of October 17th to 22nd. Money raised at this time will be for the expenses of the coming year.

Classes opened with good attendance. All those in the boys' classes are being given physical examination. This department of the Association attracts large numbers of men and boys.

26TH ANNUAL BANQUET

The Clifton Guard Veteran Association is to hold its 26th Annual Meeting and Banquet at the Newton Club on Wednesday evening, Oct. 12th, and is to have as guests, several well known men in military and social life.

This Association has made in the past year rapid strides in membership. Last year the membership was announced at their Annual Meeting as 108, today they have 143 on the rolls. Their associate membership includes many of the best known men in Newton, and they hope to have at their next meeting and banquet in 1922, at least 200.

Their social gatherings have always been first class, very enjoyable and this will probably be no exception to the rule. A large attendance is expected.

Twenty-seven Colors in 150 Yard Balls.

Softness of texture plus strength and stiffness, wearing qualities, adaptability for needlework and exceptional color effects explain why jute is replacing paper, raffia and cane handicraft, and its substitution for higher priced yarns.

The ease and rapidity with which it can be manipulated gives every promise of making jute needlework the last word in novelties and as such makes its appeal to the women. The approach of Christmas assures an unlimited demand for the holiday season.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Probate Court
To Louise Hunt, of Newton in the County of Middlesex, Clara A. Perkins, of Boston in the County of Suffolk, and Albert J. Love, of West Seattle in the State of Washington:

WHEREAS, Henry H. Skelton, as he is administrator with the will annexed of late said Newton deceased, has presented to said Court his petition, alleging that you are children of said testatrix, but that she omitted to make provision for you or either of you by her will and praying for the instructions of said Court as to whether said omission was intentional or was occasioned by accident or mistake.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-eighth day of October, A. D. 1921, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, against the same.

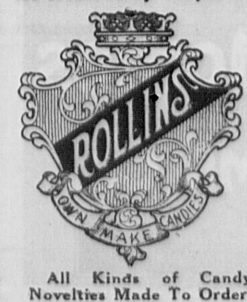

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each of you who may be found in said Commonwealth, fourteen days, at least, before said Court, or if any of you shall not be so found, either by delivering a copy thereof to you wherever found or by leaving a copy thereof at your usual place of abode, or by mailing a copy thereof to you at your last known post-office address, fourteen days at least before said Court; and also, unless it shall be made to appear to the Court by affidavit that you all have had actual notice of the proceedings, by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be seven days, at least, before said Court.

Witness, George F. Lawton, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this third day of October in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one.

Oct. 7-14-21.
Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Ernest Nickerson, late of Newton, in the County of Middlesex, deceased; intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to FREDERICK S. PRATT, Adm. (Address) 147 Milk St., Boston, September 22, 1921. Sept. 20—Oct. 7-14.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Jane Bishop, late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are hereby required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to ANDREW J. SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

Stearns

The teachers of Stearns School entertained the Mother's Club on Monday evening, Oct. 3. Miss Beatrice Walker sang a group of songs, accompanied by Miss Doris Logue. Miss Mary Broughton rendered several violin selections, and Miss Alice Winters played for community singing.

The Junior Girls' Club held its first meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 5, at Stearns School. Plans for the winter program were discussed at the business meeting, and dancing followed. A new committee was appointed to increase the membership of the club including girls from fourteen to eighteen years of age.

Miss Vera F. Ross of Boston is taking Miss Trask's place in Grade II.

High School Notes

Candidates for the Girls' Field Hockey team assembled at Cabot Park, September 19th for practice. If conditions are favorable, a good team should be developed, as a great number of experienced players reported.

The Sophomore class of the Classical High School has organized a football team. They practice several times a week on the athletic field under the supervision of Mr. Altman, one of the physical directors. Le Roy Fay has been elected captain.

The "K. O." Club held a dance on Friday evening, Sept. 29th, at the Northgate Club, West Newton. Considerable interest was displayed in the initiating of several new members. Higgins' Jazz Orchestra furnished the music.

Middlesex County Teachers' Association Convention will meet on Friday, Oct. 28th. All schools will close on this date.

Candidates for the Tennis Team are playing their games off at every possible chance, and it has now been reduced to a squad of about fifteen.

BOY SCOUT COURT OF HONOR

The new policy of the Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, requires that the Court of Honor be a public function to which parents and friends of scouts, and any other persons interested may come. At the Court of Honor scouts from all over the District will appear and be presented with advance rank and badges. This ceremony is very interesting and gives to the scout a sense of responsibility for which it stands. At the last Court of Honor, held Sept. 28 at Scout Headquarters, and which was the initial Court under the new plan the following scouts were advanced and awarded the badges of the various ranks:

To Second Class Rank—Scout Eugene Pierce, Troop 11, Newton Corner; Scout John W. Fellows, Troop 11, Newton; Scout Julius Ober, Troop 8, Newton Centre; Scout Albert Greaves, Troop 6, Nonantum; Scout John Hawley, Troop 2, Wellesley Hills; Scout John Lawson, Troop 2, Wellesley Hills; Scout Ralph Davis, Troop 2, Wellesley Hills; Scout Amos Hamburger, Troop 2, Wellesley Hills; Scout Eugene Hapgood, Troop 4, Newton Highlands.

To First Class Rank—Scout Edwin Walton, Troop 1, Wellesley; Scout Philip Hawley, Troop 2, Wellesley Hills; Scout Edward Atkinson, Troop 2, Wellesley Hills; Scout Alston Harper, Troop 2, Wellesley Hills; Scout Charles Gates, Troop 2, Wellesley Hills; Scout Joseph Houghton, Troop 2, Wellesley Hills.

For Merit Badges—Scout Charles Parba, Troop 11, Newton, in Firemanship in Athletics; Scout Edwin Walton, Troop 2, Wellesley in Carpentry; Scout Lloyd Hazen, Troop 4, Newton Highlands in Scholarship, Athletics and First Aid.

Scout Lloyd Hazen has acquired ten Merit Badges and is now entitled to rank as a Life and Star Scout. These ranks are among the highest a scout can attain, the highest being secured by being a First Class Scout with twenty one Merit Badges, ten of which are prescribed. The Star and Life Badges will be awarded to Scout Hazen at the next Court of Honor.

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor of the Graphic,
Dear Sir:—
It is interesting to bird lovers to know that on September 26, Monday, a very large flock of blue birds came to the river at Cold Spring Grove. There may have been a thousand. They were all over the house and the ground was just blue with their fluttering wings. They were feeding and bathing in the overflow at the spring and were in constant motion with much chattering. They were around for two or three days but by Thursday all were gone. It must be that this is a blue bird sanctuary, and that they make their stopping place there on their way south.

After every cold snap, now, in the early mornings we see streams of birds flying over towards West Roxbury and Milton probably guided by the Blue Hills.

Twice we have seen a gray pigeon. At first we could not understand it but later we found that Mr. Morgan on Winchester street is a timekeeper for these homing pigeons, and the little gray bird must have been on its way at that time.

Once we saw a long legged crane and there are still many commoner birds about although so late in the season.

We think the blue birds must make a short flight, and I should be glad to know if anyone else has seen this flock. In that way we might trace them and know "whence they come and whither they go."

MRS. H. R. TURNER.

LODGES

Mr. and Mrs. Asa C. Jewett entertained the members of the drill corps of Gethsemane Commandery, K. T. and the ladies at a clam bake and where dinner last Sunday at the Jewett's summer home at Green Harbor. About 60 were present.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Last Friday was the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Coward of High street, Newton Upper Falls. They were married in Waban twenty-five years ago and have lived in Newton twenty-two years.

The house with its plain green walls and pink silk draperies formed an artistic background for the pink roses with small silver bells and horse shoes scattered among the flowers. The decorations of stairway and halls were oak leaves with bouquets of roses on the landings.

The members of the Coward family were all present with the exception of one brother. Miss Sara Coward arrived a few days previous from England especially for the occasion.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Locke of Waban, brother and sister of Mrs. Coward, and Mrs. John D. Coward, Miss Sara Coward, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Breese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coward.

The ushers were Messrs. E. D. Locke of Waban, Dr. Nutter, Mr. Karl Nutter, and Mr. James Nelson of Newton Upper Falls, Mr. Judd Breese of Dorchester, Mr. Roger Ellis of Newton Centre, and Mr. Harold Morgan of Milton. The ushers wore boutonnières of white carnations with tiny silver ladies' slippers, tiny bells, and horse shoes.

A pleasant feature of the evening was the singing of "Silver Threads Among the Gold," by the Rev. Frederick Palladino, accompanied by the orchestra, after which the guests, about one hundred and fifty in number, joined hands and sang, "Auld Lang Syne," and "The End of a Perfect Day."

There were many beautiful and appropriate gifts. The evening closed with the wishing of many more happy years for Mr. and Mrs. Coward.

Mr. and Mrs. Coward left the next morning for a trip through the White Mountains.

EDITORIAL

There are, in our opinion, three distinct phases which are prominent in the decision of our Supreme court removing Mr. Tufts from the office of district attorney for Middlesex county. The first is the pre-eminent fairness of the court's decision and the temperate and judicial tone of the whole opinion. It is not only fair to Mr. Tufts, but it arouses the highest admiration for its strong stand on what is to be expected from public officers of this Commonwealth. The Supreme Court of Massachusetts has again stood for the highest ideals and is entitled to the heartiest gratitude of every citizen.

Our own townsman, Attorney General J. Weston Allen of Newton Highlands, is also to be congratulated on the successful outcome of what was, at first, looked upon as well nigh a hopeless task. It took a great deal of moral courage to undertake this work and only a man of Mr. Allen's pertinacity and ability could have carried it through. He is fully entitled to all the popularity which the affair has brought to him.

And last, but by no means least, we feel the utmost sympathy for Mr. Tufts. We cannot help believing that he was more sinned against than sinning, and that he is more the scape goat for others than actually responsible for the proceedings the Supreme Court has condemned.

Governor Cox has risen to the full extent of his duty in the appointment of Mr. Endicott Peabody Saltonstall as district attorney for Middlesex county. For Mr. Saltonstall is one of the cleanest, and ablest lawyers in the Commonwealth and his acceptance of the office will go far towards calming the popular unrest which has been occasioned by the recent court proceedings. Years ago Mr. Saltonstall was once introduced as one whose name was the epitome of the culture, philanthropy and wealth of New England and his career since that time has fully justified what was said of his name. The Commonwealth is to be congratulated on his acceptance of the office.

A strong case was put up to the Highway Commission yesterday afternoon in protest against existing billboards on Commonwealth avenue and Washington street.

It is most unfortunate that only one member of the Commission heard the arguments, as this is the first hearing under the new regulations and the action of the Commission will undoubtedly establish its policy for the future.

However, even if the Commission does not meet the wishes of the people of this and similar communities,

It is openly admitted that further legislation is undoubtedly needed and should be asily obtained.

With the district attorney and his first and second assistants residents of Newton, it will surely be an All-Newton affair in Middlesex County.

NEWTON COMMUNITY HOUSE

We regret very much to announce to the public that owing to the lack of finance; that it will be impossible for us to open the house this fall as we had hoped. Mr. Hill the President is somewhat sorry as he had looked forward to a busy winter in training the boys that the troop would be in fair condition by spring; also work for the girls had been planned. But we are still hopeful and looking forward for some private gifts that will enable us to open the house in early spring, as we feel that the people of the Newtons will come to our rescue for such a worthy cause. We have been able to place quite a few girls in positions through the office which is now open. We also have on our waiting list, girls to accommodate by the hour, also day work and steady positions.

Young men for chore-work, caring for furnaces, etc.
Your discarded pieces of household goods and books will be greatly appreciated. See Mr. Hill, 1445 Washington street, West Newton. Tel. W. N. 904-J.

house was in complete darkness and finding some one at home, had asked if "Mr. Burns" lived there. They aroused Mr. Foucar's suspicions.

A second summons came to headquarters from Mr. Scudder.

Not long after "Harrington" had been booked, a telephone call apprised the police of the break in Brighton, at the home of Thomas B. Munroe, 1939 Commonwealth avenue. Articles found in the New York car are said by the police to check up with those reported missing from the Munroe residence.

In court Monday morning Harrington was held under $10,000 bail for the Grand Jury.

BILLBOARD HEARING

That Newton residents are interested in the billboard situation was shown by the large attendance of ladies and gentlemen at the hearing held yesterday afternoon at the State House by the Highway Commissions on 35 applications for permits to maintain billboards on Washington street, Commonwealth avenue and Beacon street, after the aldermen of Newton had disapproved of such locations.

Only one of the Commission, Mr. John W. Synan heard the arguments for and against the billboards.

City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett presented the case for the city, and reviewed the billboard situation and the power of the Commission under the statute. He urged the general principle laid down by the action of the Newton aldermen in objecting to these three streets, showing that the city had expended large sums of money on Commonwealth avenue and Washington street and that they were a valuable asset to the city. These streets belong to those who have paid for them, he argued, and not for the benefit of those who wanted to injure adjoining property and endanger traffic for their own commercial gain. He then went into detail regarding the various billboards, showing how some endangered life from being near the street line or on top of buildings, how others obstructed the view at street bends and corners and how others were very unsightly to nearby residents. He also called attention to the unsightly aspect from the rear of most of these billboards.

Alderman Philip Nichols spoke for the board of aldermen and said that the city was entitled to this protection from the Commission.

Others speakers opposed to the billboards were Representatives Rice and Brimblecom, Alderman Heathcote, A. W. Blakemore of the Newton Improvement Society, Howard Whitmore of the Newton Highlands Improvement Society, Albert M. Lyon for the Newtonville Improvement Society, F. E. Banfield, Jr., for the Newton Central Improvement Society, Mrs. S. H. Mitchell, president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, and John W. Hahn.

Former Senator William Tuttle spoke for the billboard people, and sneered and jeered at Newton, which he called a "little heaven" and admitted he knew nothing about the location of these particular billboards.

E. A. Frost for the billboard association was much fairer in his statements and admitted that the billboards must be made attractive and the advertisers on them must have the good will of the people. He wanted the opposing parties to get together and work out the problem for the best good of all concerned.

John Cronin for the Base Ball Publicity Co. argued for the location of his particular billboards and was amazed that Newton people should

NEWTON CENTRE COMMUNITY NOTES

The splendid Fall weather has been a great incentive for those who love the great "out of doors" to spend a day in the open close to nature. Mr. Leary, the Community Secretary, is taking advantage of these fine days and is co-operating with various groups of Newton Centre men in arranging outings for Newton Centre boys and girls.

Last Saturday about thirty boys and girls from the Mason School enjoyed a day in the woods at Millis, Mass. To cook their own dinners over an open fire, lighted with rubbing sticks as the Indians used to light their fires, was a new experience for these youngsters. In the afternoon there were various games for both boys and girls including a treasure hunt. Not the least among the day's events was the auto ride to and from Millis, made possible through the kindness of several parents who loaned their cars for the day.

On Saturday, Oct. 8, the Men's Club of the First Church will be host to the boys of the Church and Sunday School on a trip to Humarock Beach at Schuette. This will be the second outing of the kind held by this group during the year. A day of out-door sports at the beach is being arranged. The trip to Mt. Monadnock which was conducted by the Men's Class of the Baptist Church last Oct. 12th will be duplicated this year with the exception of a change in the date to Oct. 21 and 22.

In the next two weeks the Gymnasium classes conducted by the Secretary will be organized and in session. Last year there were five classes; two for Thompsonville boys, one at Upper Falls, one at Newton Centre for boys, and another for junior girls.

Among the guests were: Misses Louise Black, Helen Cowan, Eleanor and Marguerite Williams, Frances Comer, Eleanor Harding, Lucy Dobyns, Gladys Farquhar and Florence Avery. Messrs. Loren Benson, Gordon Stewart, Philip Reed, Albert Lythgoe, Alclair and Ian Fraser, Noble and Le Baron Griffin, Forrest Carson and Donald Harding.

—The Woman's Association of Central Church met Wednesday for the first all-day gathering with all work departments well provided with workers and all doing justice to the excellent luncheon prepared by the chairman, Mrs. J. D. Bennett, and her committee. Among the special guests was Mrs. Litcher, mother of the pastor, Miss Helen B. Calder. Secretary Woman's Board, described under the title "Seeing is Believing," her recent journey to seven mission stations in the Orient, giving her hearers vivid pictures of the beauty and dire need in those distant climes. The second October meeting of the Association will not occur until the last week.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

The spring lecture given under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton was by a well known English Scientist. For the fall lecture, announced in another column, the church has not gone so far afield, but has fittingly selected a Newton resident in the person of Willis F. Gross, C. S. B. member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, of Boston.

Mr. Gross' lecture entitled: "Christian Science: The True Import of the Word," will be an authoritative presentation and explanation of this world-wide religious belief, and will be given in Players' Hall, West Newton, Friday evening, Oct. 14th, at eight o'clock. As usual the public is cordially invited and there will be special cars from Waltham and Newton Centre, to and from the lecture.

day of a very beautiful wedding, when Miss Bessie Talbot Salmon, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Allen Salmon of Walnut street, Newton Highlands, became the bride of Mr.
Raymond Symmes Fosgate of Framingham. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Allen Knight of the Plymouth Congregational Church, Framingham Centre, the double ring service being used.The bride's gown was of creamy heavy tulle, her skirt trimmed with ruffles of the fringed silk with a court train. Her corsage was adorned with Rose Point lace with pearl beading, and she wore a small string of pearls at her throat. The bodice was the quaint, long-pointed basque effect, little changed from the time when her mother wore the same gown. The veil was also worn by her mother at her wedding, and was arranged in such a way as to stand high at the back of the head, held in place by a coronet of real lace worn by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Betsey J.
Pope. The bride carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and lilies-of-the-valley.
The maid of honor was Miss Marion Talbot of Maine, who wore a gown of pale rose color draped with orchid tulle and a hat of tulle. She carried a bouquet of Ward roses of pale pink shading toward yellow orange. There were no bridesmaids.The best man was Mr. Winslow D.
Robinson of Newton Highlands, and the ushers Messrs. Albert Mellen of Newton Highlands, William Pope
Hawley of Baldwinville, Mass., Freeman Ripley Hawley of Malden, Arthur
H. Burdick of Framingham Centre,
John Dutton Bogart of Newton Centre, and Artherton Spalding of Newton Centre.The church was artistically decorated with fir trees from Maine, and
autumn leaves. Mr. J. Angus Winter, who has accompanied the bride for many years in connection with her folk song program, was the organist.
Miss Salmon is well known in musical circles, and her many friends filled the church to capacity. An informal reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony.After a trip to the White Mountains until Nov. 1 Mr. and Mrs. Fosgate will be glad to receive their friends at their home in Framingham.HIGHLAND GLEE CLUBThe Highland Glee Club of Newton of special interest to the public, was that Mr. George S. Dunham has been secured as Musical Director for the 1921-1922 season. The club and its friends are most fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Dunham for he has the reputation of getting great

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

October ushers in another club season, a year filled with widely varying opportunities, for mutual helpfulness, and for broad service. Each year sees changes of many sorts within the individual clubs, just as it does in the family, changes in membership, changes in policy, changes which one may welcome, and changes which one may regret, but underneath them all, there is surely a strong, abiding purpose which actuates those who serve the clubs, or the whole club movement would have gone upon the rocks years ago. A new member coming into a club finds many things, and many ways of doing things, which she may not understand. But until she realizes that club membership means vastly more than a ticket to a lecture course, to be passed on to someone else if she cannot use it herself, there is likelihood of her feeling a bit disappointed in what she is getting, or even of not getting the worth of her member. Not until she has put something into her club besides her membership fee, will she fully realize the value of belonging to a club. What return may she reasonably expect from the few dollars which her club costs her?Experience in management of clubs shows that it costs around $300 to run a club of 100 members, that is, to provide a meeting place, a year book, the necessary printing, postage, stationery,
the dues for the different Federations, the various courtesies in the way of flowers for sick members or members in trouble. The expense of teas to promote sociability and numerous incidental that one does not realize until one has been behind the scenes. All these must be cared for before the program is considered at all. No club in these days is content to live merely to itself, so another $300 is easily consumed in work for the community through the committees and in answering appeals for local philanthropies. It does not take a great deal of mathematics to figure out where the program will come in, and how large a membership fee is required to fulfill all the reasonable desires of generous-hearted women. In a club with a larger membership the percentage is not quite as large for running expenses, but taking everything into consideration, not more than one-half of the dues can safely be expended upon the program without endangering the balance on the right side at the end of the year. The average dues of clubs are probably $3. If one-half goes to running expenses and the work of the club outside of the program, that would leave $1.50 as the cost per capita for the "lecture course," or from ten to fifteen cents for each meeting. At that figure has one a right to complain that she is not getting her money's worth, even though she may not have been attracted by more than a part of the speakers announced upon the program? Where can she get more for her money? If the membership meant only the program she might, but think of the opportunity for social intercourse, the friendships formed by working together, or even by touching elbows with neighbors at the meetings, to say nothing of the power for good a woman's club may be in its community. Surely such things are worth infinitely more than the few dollars invested or the same amount put into some other form of entertainment. Let women already in clubs and those considering becoming members ponder on these things and see if they have not reason to be satisfied.The club was artistically decorated with fir trees from Maine, and
autumn leaves. Mr. J. Angus Winter,
who has accompanied the bride for
many years in connection with her
folk song program, was the organist.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

In spite of the doubtful weather last Monday evening, there was a large and enthusiastic Rally for the opening of the Community School of Religious Education in the Central Church, Newtonville. Hon. Thomas Weston, Jr., chairman of the Community School committee, presided. After an interesting and unusual service of song, led by Rev. Earl E. Harper, there was an appropriate devotional period, with scripture reading by Prof. J. P. Berkeley, and prayer by Dr. Charles E. Ross.

Mr. Weston then introduced Dr. Herbert W. Gates, Director of the School, who presented the instructors, giving each a few minutes in which to describe his or her course in the School. The speaker of the evening was then introduced, Dr. Elmer A. Leslie, recently appointed Professor of Old Testament Literature in the School of Theology, Boston University. Dr. Leslie's subject was "The Value of the Old Testament in the Religious Teaching of To-day." He gave a most illuminating and masterly presentation of the power of the Old Testament teachings in their relation to modern social problems, and of its inspirational value to religious workers and to thinkers in all fields of the world's work.

REV. JOHN W. SUTER, JR.
Educational Secretary of the Diocese of Massachusetts

There were 104 registrations received at this opening Rally, and it is expected that this number will be greatly increased at the next session. October 10, when the regular class work will begin at 7.30 P. M. Visitors will be welcome to the first sessions of all classes next Monday. The largest enrollment up to date from a single school is from the West Newton Lincoln Park Baptist Church, with fifteen enrolled members of the Community School.

The schedule of classes has been revised, in an attempt to better meet the needs of many who have registered. The revised class schedule is as follows:—

First period, 7.30 to 8.15
Old Testament Narratives, Dr. Gates
Religious Training of Children, Mr. Suter

Nature and Development of Childhood and Youth, Prof. Berkeley
Methods for Adolescents, Mr. Mayer
Second period, 8.45 to 9.30
Life of Paul, Prof. Berkeley Principles of Teaching, Mr. Suter
Primary Methods, Mrs. Flitts
Junior Methods, Miss Barker
Use of Music in Worship, Mr. Harper

Prof. Berkeley stated that his course in The Nature and Development of Childhood and Youth will deal with those facts about the child and about personality which are the background for Sunday School teaching. In his course on The Life of Paul, the personality, religious experience, missionary work, and thought of Paul will be treated with emphasis upon their teaching values. Lesson plans will be made and an outline arranged for teaching the life of Paul in the Church School.

Mr. Suter's course on The Principles of Teaching is a course for teachers of all grades, dealing with such topics as lesson preparation and presentation, attention, mental images, the art of questioning, etc. His course on The Religious Training of Children is intended primarily for parents, especially for those with young children. Such topics as family prayers, private devotions, church going, keeping Sunday, etc., will be treated.

Mr. Harper stated that his course on The Use of Music in Worship will be largely practical in its nature, to help every member of the class to become a successful leader of singing in the Sunday School or in children's choirs. Music in the church and the church school is not to be called a "frill" when we realize that it is a necessary part of worship, if it is so used as to become an instrumentality for the voice of God speaking to man.

The Primary, Junior and Adolescent Method courses will lay the emphasis on the practical side of class and departmental work for children and young people of the ages, 5 to 8, 9 to 12, and 13 to 21, respectively. Pictures, models, story telling, class organization, departmental organization, training for Christian leadership, pupil participation in worship, social and service activities, and many other practical topics will be taken up.

The Old Testament course, which Dr. Gates is to teach will not be merely history and a resume of facts, but will show teaching and spiritual values of the book for our use today. The address by Dr. Leslie showed those present how much new light can be thrown on the Old Testament when we look upon it as a gospel, good news for the present day needs of the world and of individual men and women. It is also a record of preparation for Christ, who came in the "fulness of time," and whose unique message and ideals are better understood and appreciated when we know the trend of thought in Old Testament days. The prophetic spirit not only prepared the way for the coming of Christ, but the stirring words of the prophets bring to us now a message which has peculiar force in its application to modern complex living.

THE RAUSCH CONSTRUCTION CO.

"Constructor of Homes"

CORDIALLY INVITES YOU TO INSPECT

FOUR NEW SINGLE HOMES

At FAIR OAKS PARK, California Street, NEWTONVILLE

The above company organized in an endeavor to put on the market Homes, Distinctive in Design, constructed as they should be, and by quantity production, at reduced cost, now has four new homes nearing completion.

The designs are individual in type and have entrance hall, full length living room finished in gumwood, with open fireplace, paneled dining rooms, sanitary kitchens and pantries well fitted with cabinets, finished in white enamel, four bed rooms and tiled baths with built-in fixtures.

From the ground up they are built for warmth and to last. Solid concrete foundations under porches as well as main buildings, new matched rough boarding and oversize heating plants in Oak floors in all halls, living, dining and bed rooms. Battleship linoleum floors in kitchens and pantries. Gas ranges with Lorain Heat Regulators. Riverside Stack Storage System of continuous hot water, copper screens.

Situated in beautiful American neighborhood, surrounded with full grown trees, with large lots on finished streets.

By quantity production and labor saving machinery we are able to sell at prices from 25 to 40 per cent less than last fall prices.

Representative on grounds week days and Sundays. Evenings by appointment. Telephone Newton North 3126.

Griffin Hats

Interpreting Newest Paris Fashions

THIS season, as in years gone by, the world looks to Paris for new thought in millinery style and Paris responds admirably. Griffin's, in its effort to provide quality and style at lowered cost, has reproduced many of the most beautiful models shown by the best French designers and at low prices we feature these as the most outstanding values offered in the millinery trade this season. They have exclusiveness and smart elegance, yet their price is extremely reasonable.

CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION

Mayor Childs Will Run for a Fifth Term as Chief Executive of Newton

Following the recent announcement in these columns of the candidacy of Alderman Leon B. Rogers for mayor of Newton, Mayor Edwin O. Childs has stated definitely that he will be a candidate for a fifth term at the city election on December 13th.

Mr. Childs is now finishing his fourth term and his eighth year of service as mayor. In the fall of 1913 he was elected as an independent over

HON. EDWIN O. CHILDS
Candidate for Fifth Term as Mayor.

100 YEARS OLD

On Sunday, Oct. 9, appropriate services were held in the Church of the Messiah (Episcopal) Auburndale, commemorating the Fortieth Anniversary of the first service held in the original parish church. This is now used as the chapel and parish house, having been moved back from its former position facing Auburn street.

The children of the parish held their Anniversary Service and Rally Day at 12 o'clock in the Chapel, the Rector delivering the address on "Building a Church."

The evening service, attended by a large congregation, included the service of Holy Baptism and the anniversary sermon, "Building on the Frontiers of Life," by Rev. Harry Beal of New Bedford, formerly a rector of the parish of the Messiah. A letter also was read from Rev. John Matteson of Whitman, Mass., who for many years was rector of the parish. The present rector of the church read a brief historical sketch, quoting items of interest from the old parish registers. Among other things he said:

"Services of our church were held in Auburndale as early as 1857 (64 years ago) by Rev. N. Allen. A Sunday School also was started and the Mission was then known as St. Paul's. These ministrations continued about four years and a half, ending in 1862. During this period 28 were baptized and 13 confirmed."

"The official record of the parish, however, begins fifty years ago in 1871. The parish was then organized at the house of Jeremiah Allen on Washington street, West Newton. Services were held in Village Hall, West Newton, and also in the Unitarian Church. In September, 1877, services were discontinued in West Newton and transferred to the Chapel of Lasell Seminary. A lot was bought in 1880 and on Sept. 29, 1881, the chapel, then facing Auburn street, was opened for services. It is this latter event—not the actual founding of the parish—which this anniversary commemorates."

"The cornerstone of the present Church Building was laid about 10 years later by Bishop Phillips Brooks on October 3, 1892, and the first service held in it on Sunday, March 5, 1893."

During the service appropriate music was rendered by the vested choir, an interesting feature being that all the hymns sung were compositions of Dr. Horatio Parker, who in his early days was identified with the parish. A hymn of special interest was one entitled "Christ is our Corner-Stone," the tune of which Dr. Parker named "Auburndale" in memory of the old associations of his boyhood.

A spoiled child naturally must expect a rotten deal from the world.

26TH ANNIVERSARY

The 26th annual meeting and banquet of the Claffin Guard Veteran Association was held Wednesday evening at the Newton Club. These banquets are always interesting, but the one held this week far surpassed all recent events of the kind.

In the first place, the menu was most appetizing and reflected great credit on the club management.

Again, the high standing of the guests of honor, including the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, Hon. J. Weston Allen and his distinguished predecessor, Hon. Herbert Parker, called forth much comment, and last but by no means least, the eloquence of the several post prandial speakers.

The banquet was preceded by the annual meeting at which these officers were elected, president, Walter H. Stearns, vice-president, Lawrence Bond, junior vice-president, Wendall W. Patten, secretary, Major Fred P. Barnes, treasurer, Francis G. L. Henderson.

In the absence of president, Martin C. Laffie on account of illness, the president-elect, Walter H. Stearns acted as toastmaster. Seated at the head table with Mr. Stearns, besides Mr. Allen and Mr. Parker, were Adj. General Jesse F. Stevens, Col. John F. Osborn, Commander of the Engineer Regiment, Mass. National Guard, Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Rev. Dr. Edward T. Sullivan, Major C. Raymond Cabot, and Vice-President Lawrence Bond.

On the walls of the dining room, were many pictures and photographs of the Claffin Guards and behind the head table, several old flags were artistically draped.

Mayor Childs was the first speaker and extended the greetings of the city to the guests of the evening. He called attention to the fact that the Association included in its membership, men who represented the spirit of '61, the spirit of '98 and of the World War. He recalled that the qualities of a good soldier were those of a good citizen and that the best citizenship demanded an exemplification of the watchword of the soldier, "Give and not get."

General Stevens stated that these veteran associations were the backbone of the active organizations and pleaded for a better support of the National Guard. He said that the membership now was over 7300 and that Massachusetts must reach its quota of 14,400 by 1924.

Rev. Dr. Sullivan spoke of the value of the by-products of business and compared them with the by-products of a city—its charities, philanthropies and hospitals, stating that the city's

NEW PASTOR

Rev. Ralph Emerson Davis, the new pastor of the Methodist Church of Newton Centre, was born in Kansas in 1892. He was educated in the University of California, where he received his A. B. degree. He was a member of the Phi Alpha Fraternity. He later took a Master's degree in Sociology in the University.

In 1916 he came East and entered Boston University School of Theology.

When the war broke out he engaged as chaplain with the American Expeditionary Force and served in three engagements, St. Mihiel, Argonne, and Ypres. He received the croix de guerre. After the armistice, he also served with the army of occupation. In 1919 he married Helen W. Wallace, daughter of the Governor of California. In the same year he took a second year in Boston University, and before the close of the year was made assistant pastor of the Hyde Park Congregational Church. In 1920 he accepted a call to the Linden Methodist Church, Malden, from which position he came to the Methodist Church, Newton Centre.

Mr. Davis has recently been made Chaplain of the Cecil W. Fogg Post of the American Legion.

COUNCIL FIRE

Norumbega Boy Scouts Give a Unique Program in Cabot Woods

The first big event of the Boy Scout season of city work occurred last Tuesday evening in the heart of Cabot Woods. With an ideal evening nearly 200 scouts with their friends and officers gathered at the call of the Scout Executive to spend a regular jamboree around a Council Fire. There was no half way about the occasion, everything was up to highest standard and on time.

As the distant bell struck the half-hour Mr. E. J. Ovington of Auburndale, who had charge of the preparations of the Fire touched the kindling and away went the brush cracking and blustering as each moment the hungry flames gathered strength and power. With the sparks flying skyward the scouts led by the Executive rent the air with their awe-inspiring songs, the chief of which was "Old MacAndrews had a Farm."

As the flame began to settle the real program of the evening began. Each troop was called upon to perform a troop stunt and those which responded which included Troops 1, of Newtonville, Troop 4, of Newton Highlands, Troop 7, of West Newton, and Troop 11, of Newton Corner, performed their parts with genuine gusto.

Especially would we mention the pyramids of Troop 11, and the touching song of Troop 4.

Scoutmaster Woodbridge of Troop 11 appeared the imagination of the boys, both young and old, by his vivid and hair-splitting ghost story.

Following this, the Scout Executive, Mr. Wm. B. Sharratt, introduced the various Council officials present, who responded with a few words of greeting. They were, Scout Commissioner John Benbow of Newton, Vice President C. G. McDavitt of Newtonville, Treasurer Mr. John H. Eddy of Newtonville, and Deputy Commissioners

W. S. Radway, of Chestnut Hill, and Dr. Perry of Weston.

Following these the scouts were privileged to hear the Regional Scout Executive of New England District, Mr. R. N. Berry sing some of his original Camp Fire Songs to all of which they were heartily requested to join in the chorus.

As the hour of nine was fast approaching the Executive with a few words of explanation requested every one present to stand. Mr. Cotton, Scoutmaster of Troop 1, Newtonville was then asked to say a few words about the late Assistant Scoutmaster Gordon MacClellan of Troop 1, and in a few short and appropriate sentences, Mr. Cotton spoke of his genuine worth as an Assistant Scoutmaster, how he had come up through the ranks of scouting and was always looking forward to the time when he would be able to take his turn in leadership; how along with him Gordon had made plans for this season's Scout work; and then how after but three days of sickness he passed on.

To pay tribute to one whose devotion to scouting has always been a pleasure to behold, and will always be a joy to recall, each scout bared his head and for a few moments stood in silent respect.

Immediately following this, "Taps" was blown by Scout Heckman of Troop 1, and as the last notes died upon the evening air all scouts except those who had come prepared to remain over-night, disappeared from the fire into the darkness of the night, and thus came to a close the first real Council Fire that Norumbega has had.

Scouting was in real evidence that night and the boys with one accord felt that this Council Fire should be an annual affair.

COUNTRY PAPER GUARDS NATION

Rises Promptly and Capably to Every Emergency.

IS NOT ALWAYS APPRECIATED

Cements Interests of Mass of Population—Avoiding Sensationalism, in Its Clean Wholesomeness Is Its Appeal to Best Class of Citizens—Country Press a National Power.

By WRIGHT A. PATTERSON.

THE COUNTRY PAPER—the village, the small town and the small city—are the backbone of the American nation. They are the communities to which the nation turns in time of distress and emergency. They are even more than the backbone of the nation. They are the bulwark of our modern civilization. Just at the close of the World War, Mr. Balfour, foreign minister of Great Britain, said to the writer in London that the entire civilized world must look to the small towns of America to preserve for the world the civilization that it had taken centuries to build, because the small towns represented a substantial solidity that the tremendous upheaval of the war had not affected, and it was only such a foundation that would preserve the structure of civilization.

The cement that keeps the people of these country communities together, working and thinking along uniformly sane and safe lines, that makes of them that "substantial solidity" on which world civilization can rely for a foundation, is the country press—the village, the small town and the small city newspaper.

Country Paper Wholesome.

The country newspaper goes to its readers devoid of that sensationalism that is so prominent in the metropolitan papers. It carries to its readers the news items that represent the joys and sorrows of their friends and neighbors, and keeps the hearts of the people of the community beating in unison. It goes to its readers with that sane and kindly advice on local, state, national and world problems; advice that is the result of thought and study beside the hearthstones of the nation, and not in the selfish marts of trade or the bright lights of city frivolity. It goes with the influence of a known and respected member of the community—its editor back of its every word, its every opinion. It goes to a people, the people of the country communities and the farms, that are more capable of thinking along sane, unselfish and practical lines than are those who are surrounded by the selfish and many times evil influences of the large cities.

But the influence of the country newspaper goes far beyond the community in which it is printed. National legislators in the halls of congress realize that this influence is a power to be reckoned with. That when the country press speaks in unison on any national subject it is but voicing the sentiments of that mighty force the people of the country communities, the people in whose hands, says Mr. Balfour, rests the destiny of world civilization.

Fights for Entire Country.

The country press represents and fights for those things that are of value to the country communities, realizing that in doing so it is fighting for those things that are best for the nation and for the world. It works and fights to uphold the country community, to prevent its falling a prey to the selfish greed of the cities. It champions the business, the social, the educational, the agricultural, the industrial interests of the country community not from any selfish angle, but from the broader viewpoint of national good.

Some three or four months ago there was before Congress a bill on which the press of the country was divided. The magazines, the big national weeklies, the farm press and the metropolitan daily papers were on one side and the country newspapers were on the other side. The passage of the bill would mean creating an opportunity for a greater centralization of the merchandising of the nation in a few large cities with a consequent injury to the small cities and towns, and to the people of these cities and towns and the farms surrounding them. The country press fought for the defeat of the bill, and in the end the members of the committee in whose hands the fate of the bill rested listened to the country press because they realized that the welfare of these country communities represented the best interests of the nation as a whole, and the bill was killed.

During our participation in the World War the country press stood staunchly and unselfishly back of the nation. It did nothing to create dissension among the people during the time of emergency, but it did carry to its readers a continuous message of patriotism and national unity. In each community it wiped away much of factional lines, and created an atmosphere of intense Americanism that welded the American people together regardless of place of birth or ancestry.

Value Not Always Understood.

But the people of the cities do not always understand the value of the country press. With the increased demand for war supplies there came a demand for a decrease in the consumption of the ordinary needs of peace time. Among the things the consumption of which must be cut was paper. A city man was at the head of the department that regulated the use of paper, and he felt it advisable to so limit the amount of paper available for the country press as to seriously cripple all of these papers, and to have entirely closed many of them. It was the privilege of the writer to present the case of the country press to this man, and it did not take him long to see that the government could not afford to in any considerable degree cripple an institution that represented so much of national good as did these country newspapers.

Country Press Deserves Well.

The country press deserves well of the people of the nation, and especially of the people of the country communities. Individually these papers may not be large in size as compared with the city papers, but quantity is not the measure of their value. They are worth both directly and indirectly far more than their subscription price. For that price they bring to you each week the news of your friends and acquaintances. To those who have left the country home to go either to the city or to some other country home, the country newspaper is a welcome weekly letter that keeps them in touch with friends and former associates. To those at home it carries the news of their friends and neighbors. It records the births and deaths, the marriages, the comings and goings of those in whom you are interested. It furnishes the medium of publicity through which work for a better and stronger community is maintained. It voices the consensus of opinion of the community to the representatives in the halls of the state and national legislatures. It is the paper of, for and by the people of the villages, the towns and the small cities.

No country paper worthy of the name ever seeks the support of the people of its community on any other ground than that of giving more than full value for all that it receives. You add yourself, your community, your state and the nation when you support and read your own "Home Town Paper."

The Community Newspaper

By BOB ADAMS.

OF ALL the sheets from East to West the local paper is the best. Deep is our love and deep our debt to Record, Journal or Gazette. When first I landed on this ball, a bit of flesh wrapped 'round a skull, it welcomed me with joy and pride my life has never justified. It follows me my whole life through, with words all kind and mostly true; and even after I am hauled 'till I feel my best and hide my worst. When in Oshkosh or Wicliup I wander homeward as a pup, or if in foreign lands I roam, it brings me pleasant news of home. Across the sands, across the sea, the old home paper comes to me. It is a friend both true and tried, and to it, gentle, I point with pride; yes, I will hock my Sunday pants to pay up six years in advance.

FOUND HOME PAPER IN HEART OF THE ROCKIES

And Through It Peddler Learned That Family He Had Known for Fifteen Years Were His Relatives.

"Publishing a country newspaper reminds me of tossing a pebble into the ocean. We never know how far the circles which it sets in motion will reach," said Williston Manley, publisher of The Plaindealer of Canton, N. Y., the other day, in speaking of "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week," which is to be observed the country over the week of November 7-12. "I had a good reminder of this not long ago," he went on.

"One day there appeared in the Plaindealer office a short, stubby, robust man of probably sixty. I knew the minute I saw him that he had come in from the big outdoors in some section. He told me that he had taken the paper for many years, probably forty, ever since he had left Canton, where he was born. He told me where I would find the paper going, and I found it. His post office was in a little town way out in the Rockies. He said he had come back to the old town to live. He paid what he owed and a year over for good measure, and then he sat down and I knew something was coming.

Forty Years in the Mountains.

"Say," said he, "newspapers are great things. You can never tell what they are going to do for you. I have been a peddler out in the mountains for forty years, making my trips, me and the little burro, about once in six months. There were a lot of long jumps between houses. For fifteen years I had been going out of my trail, about five miles to one side, to sell to a family that had moved in. You get rather well acquainted with people if you see them once in six months for that long, so when I got there one afternoon and didn't find anyone home—just the door unlocked, as all doors were there—I went in and made myself comfortable, and when supper time came I didn't hesitate about hunting around for grub. And while I was doing it I found a copy of the Plaindealer on the kitchen shelf, and one or two more around the house—the Plaindealer, mind you, the paper I was taking right from the old home town! And I wondered who these fifteen-year-old friends of mine were. I suddenly realized we had never talked over our pedigrees any."

"When the family got home that evening I asked questions, and what do you think?—that wife was a sort of grandniece of mine. She hadn't heard of her old uncle off stubbing around in the rocks of the Rockies, and I hadn't ever heard that anyone related to me had ever married and was out there living under another name. Your paper introduced us to each other. I just thought you might like to know about it."

SCHOOL NOTES

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

Fire Prevention Day was observed on Monday by all classes. The grammar classes went into the hall at 8.30 for general exercises and instruction as to the need and the purpose of observing the day. Facts and figures were presented by John Sullivan, grade seven, showing the losses in lives and in property throughout the United States. The causes of fires and how to prevent them were also shown: Lieutenant Richards in charge of Hose 7 Station, Upper Falls, was present and discussed the subject of fires and their prevention, drawing lessons from his 35 years of experience in the Newton Fire Department. The proclamation of President Harding was read by John McInnis and that of Gov. Cox was read by Olive DeGrasse. A fire drill concluded the observance of the day.

The class having the highest attendance for the first period was grade seven, in charge of Miss Dow. The record was 98.7.

A brief general program appropriate to Columbus Day was presented on Tuesday morning in the hall to the grammar grades. A socialized recitation on Columbus was given by grade seven in charge of Miss Gibbons, teacher of history. A poem "Try Again" was given by three girls from grade five. Doris Eyre gave a reading "The Boy Columbus." Julia Azerski gave a reading of the poem "Columbus." There was a song, "The Mighty Deed" given by the Principal. Our janitor, Mr. Percy Thomas, is going on a three months' leave of absence to New Hampshire for rest and recuperation of health. Mr. John Ward will serve as his substitute. As a mark of appreciation of the willing, good, and faithful service of Mr. Thomas the teachers presented to him on Monday a tiny trunk containing an eagle and two double eagles. In the trunk was a poem written by Miss Bassett conveying the best wishes of the teachers to Mr. Thomas.

An effort to form a school orchestra is on foot. A canvas for players was made in the upper grades last week.

Hyde School

There have been some very fine Health Posters made by the children of the Hyde School. These posters represent all the essentials of health, from eating fruits, and drinking at least a pint of milk daily, to sufficient play time and sleep. This has resulted in renewed interest in developing strong, healthy bodies.

In Miss Tabor's class (grade VI), there is great enthusiasm on the part of the children to bring their weight up to normal. Of nineteen underweight in September, fourteen have gained in the October weighing. It is interesting to know that twelve of the fourteen take milk at recess time.

Miss Esther Pendleton is taking Miss Marion Little's place in the first grade at the Hyde School.

Fire Prevention Day was observed in the classrooms of the Hyde School, Monday, October 10, 1921. At 11:30 A. M. Captain Turner of the Newton Highlands Fire Station addressed the school in the assembly hall.

There are now 3215 children taking milk and the number is increasing week by week.

The Junior All Star football team, composed mostly of Hyde boys, reports one tie, one loss.

Miss Grant, (Hyde VI) is preparing a play called "The Health Charm" to be given within two weeks. The participants are most enthusiastic and anxious that Hyde boys and girls shall receive this charm.

Lasell

Miss Sarah Snell, a graduate of Wellesley, who is on leave of absence from the missionary field in Ly, was the guest of the school on Sunday and the students had the privilege at vespers, of hearing of the "old-time" work that is being accomplished in that land.

The annual trip to Concord and Lexington was taken on Monday by a large number of students.

The Athletic Association, which is always a prominent factor in the life of the school, held its first meeting of the year on Wednesday. Miss Katherine Howe of Helen, Arkansas, was again elected president, the other officers will be chosen this coming week.

Columbus Day was observed by both Lasell and Woodland with appropriate exercises held during the morning chapel hour.

On Friday the seniors gave an "at home," entertaining in Gardner, Carpenter and Carter Halls, and a most delightful afternoon was enjoyed by the many guests.

The dancing class which Woodland has held in conjunction with the Allen Military School for the past two years resumed on Thursday afternoon. The lessons will take place this winter in Gardner gymnasium instead of the Woodland Park assembly room, where they were held last year. This evening a number of Lasell students are attending the Southern-Monrovia performance of The Merchant of Venice.

NEWTON HIGH SCHOOL

The seniors of the Newton Technical High School have recently organized a "Traffic Squad." The five or six members, under the supervision of Harold Waters, keep the students who are passing to recitations, in order on the stairways and in the corridors. This enables the pupils to get about the building more quickly and orderly.

Over 500 books were lent to students of the Newton Technical High School during the week of Oct. 3rd, and about 1400 students used the library for reference work.

The Junior Class of the Technical High School has the use of the library three times a week in connection with the English literature Reading Club.

On Monday, Oct. 19th, members of the class football teams practiced on Clafin Field.

Mason School

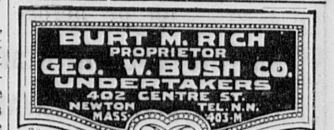

The children in Miss Hale's room had an automobile ride around Newton on Thursday.

Charles Brewster, recently home from the Newton Hospital, was the recipient of a basket of fruit from the boys and girls of Miss Tolman's room. We hope to see him in school again very soon.

On Tuesday afternoon the Mason school football team played the combined forces of the Horace Mann and Clafin schools at the Newton Centre playground. Although the opponents had a header team they were held to a 7-9 score.

The opponents got the first touchdown. Then the Mason got a touchdown and goal making the score 6-7 in favor of Mason. But at the last minute of the game a fine drop-kick gave the opponents the lead.

The line-up was as follows: Arnold Rich, Jr., Alton Chase, Jr., John Turner, Jr., Philip Lane, Jr., Wm. Cummings, Jr., Sewell Wing, Jr., Herman Saltz, Jr., Edmund Foley, Jr., Albert Rochette, Jr., Harry McDonald, Jr., Robert Barr, Jr., L. Beckerman, Jr., Wm. Chinese Armies Stopped Fighting to Let United States Vessel Pass Down the River.

Ensign William H. Galbraith, navigating officer of the United States destroyer Hart, attached to the United States Asiatic squadron in Chinese waters, in a letter tells of the intensified work placed on the hands of the vessels of the squadron in the Far East by the operations of the Chinese civil war now in progress between the Pekingese and the Cantonese sections of the nation. When armies representing these hostile sections approach cities in which American citizens are in business there is much excitement on the part of the Americans and they call urgently for the protection of the fleet, says the Columbus Dispatch.

Recently the Hart received a radio-gram call from an officer of a United States merchant vessel, stating that his vessel 50 miles up one of the Chinese rivers was being detained. The captain was anxious to put to sea, and would the Hart see that it was permitted to depart? The Hart got on the job at once and found when the scene was reached that there was no governmental authority holding the United States ship up, but the Cantonese army was drawn up on one side of the river and the Pekingese on the other and a battle was in progress, with the river, through which the United States ship must pass, between them. Naturally the captain did not fancy risking the shots that were passing across the channel. The respective commanders kindly suspended the fighting until the merchant vessel had passed.

SUCCESS SLOW IN COMING

Discoverer of Vulcanized Rubber Was at One Time Compelled to Beg Money for Bread.

Charles Goodyear, who became a millionaire and was the inventor of vulcanized rubber as well as many other forms of the tree sap products, at one time was forced to beg for $5 to keep him from starving. In 1834 he discovered that rubber could be vulcanized. It was an accident. He attempted to remove some bronze dust from a bit of rubber cloth, and after trying several chemicals tried aqua fortis, a chemical largely composed of sulphuric acid. It failed also, and he threw the cloth away. A few days later he picked it up by chance, and noted the spot rubbed by the aqua fortis had hardened and would stand a degree of heat that would have melted it in its former state.

He applied his discovery, and soon was wearing rubber shoes, coats, hats and other garments, and had a small fortune by the right of his discovery. But a year passed, and his goods were discredited and returned, rotting and broken. He was ruined. He started in again to discover a method that would vulcanize the rubber, and for ten years he kept at it, his life a long misery of hunger and cold and crushing poverty. His success came suddenly and soon he was rich beyond his wildest dreams.

Wonderful Poison Gases.

Canned, solidified, poison gas, which is claimed to be absolutely foolproof and mobile, has been perfected for use by the American soldier, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine. That two studies—defensive and offensive gas research—go hand in hand already has been demonstrated, for, in addition to the development of new forms of gas, army experts at the Edgewood (Md.) arsenal, have had to improve the gas masks to make them effective against some of the new gases brought into existence there. In technical military progress, every new weapon means a call upon the armorer for a new defense. As a result, this country today has not only gases which surpass anything used during the World war, but a mask which, in recent tests was worn 24 hours a day for a week, except at mealtime, without any discomfort whatever. Breathing was normal, speaking was simple, and it kept out all the gases thus far known.

Women Smokers "Under Cover."

The mystery of where women cigarette smokers obtain their supply is solved, in part at least, by an up-town druggist, who was asked why nearly all such stores keep their tobacco stands in inconspicuous places, says the New York Sun. He said the reason for doing so is because the druggists cater to women smokers, and this class is rather timid about purchasing in the open. The women, it seems prefer to glide back to some out-of-the-way corner, where nobody will see them. Of course, there are exceptions.

Not Much of a Party.

Seven-year-old Jean and her mother were invited to an informal party. They went. There the guests talked and talked, and finally the hostess passed for refreshments some wonderful fruit and candy. Little Jean ate with the others but looked expectantly for something else. But nothing came.

On the way home she voiced her disappointment to mother. "I don't see why they call a thing like that a party," she complained. "I don't think much of a party you don't have a drop to drink!"—Indianapolis News.

It Was Suggestion.

"So she refused you?" "That's the impression I received." "Didn't she actually say no?" "No, she didn't. All she said was 'Ha-ha-ha!'"—San Francisco Chronicle.

NEWTON DEFEATS EVERETT

Newton visited Everett on the afternoon of Columbus Day and opened the 1921 Suburban League schedule, downing the Red and Blue by a 10 to 0 score. The score does not tell the difference between the two teams. Newton was the master at all times and looked easily four or five touchdowns better than the home team. Making use of the historical present tense, which sporting writers are employing to good advantage, we submit a synopsis of the conflict.

First Period

Capt. Stafford of Newton and Capt. Oberlander of Everett shake hands at midfield and the Everett captain wins the toss of the coin. Oberlander decides to receive the kick and the two eleven men run to their places. "Shad" Osborne is having a deuce of a time trying to get the old pigskin to stay set for the kick off. A strong wind is blowing across the field and it topples the ball from the dirt mound three times. At last there is a lull in the wind and Osborne sends the ball flying across the Everett goal line. The ball is carried out to Everett's 20 yd. line and there the play begins. Two line plays fail to puncture the Newton line and Capt. Oberlander punts to Newton's 40 yd. line. Capt. Stafford grabs the kick and reels off 30 yds, before he is captured by Oberlander. (Which causes us to think that it is pretty tough when you have to do the punting and tackling by your lonesome.) Newton now misses a couple of plays and the Everett captain tries for a drop from the Everett 30 yd. line. The kick is a high one and has enough distance. It lacks direction, however, and goes to the left of the cross bar. It is again Everett's ball on the 20 yd. line. Capt. Oberlander, who packs a mean kick in his foot and who is probably acting under instructions from Coach Hazen, punts on the first play. The ball goes to midfield and an Everett end, Al Stafford in his tracks. A moment later Jake steps back and tosses a neat forward to Herb Garrity and the brother of Hank and Bob speeds 35 yds. before he is stopped. Three line plays give Newton a first down and the next play Garrity smashes through for the first score. T. Bowen kicks the goal and the score now reads, Newton 7, Everett 0. The game is just five minutes old. Osborne again kicks off for Newton and once more the ball goes over the Everett goal line. Everett doesn't seem to have much desire to carry the ball and Oberlander punts to midfield. On the second Newton play Capt. Stafford pulls off a nifty delayed pass and scurries to Everett's 3 yd. line, where Oberlander again saves his team. It seems to be a case of where Oberlander might very well sing, "All By Myself." At any rate, he is doing the bulk of the work for Everett. On the next play Newton is penalized 5 yds, for being off side. Four Newton plays fail to gain the eight yds. necessary for a touchdown and Everett takes the ball on its own 4 yd. line. Oberlander punts out from behind his goal to 30 yd. line just as the whistle blows for the close of the quarter.

Second Period

On the first play Capt. Stafford shoots a lateral pass to Garrity and the ball goes to Everett's 12 yd. line. Surely Newton will score again. The crowd seems to think so and we have a hunch that the Everett team has much the same opinion. But just a moment. Referee Woodcock of the Boston Globe is picking up the ball and is carrying it back to Everett's 27 yd. line. Look! If this penalty may save Everett. Stafford signals for kick formation and O'Donnell trots behind the line. A pretty pass from the centre, an equally pretty kick from the toe of O'Donnell and the ball soars between the posts for three more points. Score now stands, Newton 10, Everett 0. This time Everett kicks off to Newton, a short kick which Osborne grabs at midfield. This same Osborne punts to Everett's 20 yd. line. On the next play Oberlander makes 8 yds. on an end run. It is the first real gain the home team has made. The Everett leader follows his first success with another, this time for 12 yds. Good work Oberlander. Where would Everett be without you? The remainder of the quarter contains but two features, one is Capt. Oberlander's 55-yd. punt and the other is Capt. Stafford's 12-yd. dash after recovering a poor Newton pass. The half ends with Newton holding the ball at midfield.

Third Period

The cheering sections of both schools do a little warming up between the halves. We notice that Everett is still adhering to its principle of having a girl cheer leader. It seems to be a good idea. About three thousand are at the game and Newton is very well represented. The second half is now beginning. Everett is kicking off to Newton. Stafford takes the kick and the game is on once more. Nothing extremely spectacular is happening this period. The Everett defense is working a mite better although the Red and Blue can't seem to gain a yard on the offense. The Newton line is playing wonderfully well. It looks every bit as good as last year's line. Four and five men figure in every Newton tackle. It is great football. Coach Dickinson must be pleased. Newton is penalized twice during the period, although from where we are sitting it doesn't look to be entirely Newton's fault. However, —etc. The third period is about up. Osborne has caught a forward pass and is running towards the Everett goal. Twenty yards are reeled off before he bumps into Oberlander. Too bad for Osborne but we can't help but admire the great defense playing of the Everett leader. The whistle is blowing for the end of the period.

Fourth Period

Three Newton plays bring the ball down to Everett's 3-yd. line. Of course Newton will score. What's that? A fumble? Yes, so it is and Everett has recovered on its own 2-yd. line. Pretty close call. On the next play Oberlander feels the Newton line and circles his left end for 15 yds. His punt, however, is only temporarily delayed, for a moment later the ball is carried through the line by Stafford. Capt. Jake has grabbed it and is now running like a man O' War for the Everett goal. Ten, twenty, thirty, forty yards he travels before Everett catches him on the Red and Blue 25-yd. line. A few more plays and the ball ought to go across the Everett line. Guess we are right. The ball is now on the home team's 4-yd. line. Well, what do you know about that! Another Newton fumble and Everett has recovered. That's what we call tough luck, although from the noise the Everett cheering section is making you wouldn't think so. But Everett might just as well try to pierce the Rock of Gibraltar as to penetrate the Newton line. It just can't be done. Newton is again in possession of the ball and is once more on the way to the Everett goal. But there goes the whistle. It is all over. Newton wins 10 to 0. Five minutes later we are on our way to the Garden City, stopping in Somerville only long enough to hear that Cambridge Latin has beaten the Somerville team and the defeated eleven is so peeved that it is going to do all sorts of mean things to Newton tomorrow afternoon. Now we ask you, how do they get that way?

Other Suburban League scores: Cambridge Latin 14, Somerville 0; Malden 10, Rindge 0; Medford 7, Brookline 0.

COMMUNITY SCHOOL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The first evening's attendance at the Community School in Newtonville, on Monday, October 10, was excellent. Nearly 80 new registrations were received, making a total to date of 182 enrolled in the School, with several other Sunday Schools yet to be heard from. Three pastors and twelve Sunday School superintendents have registered. Two persons from Needham, which is outside the Norumbega District, are taking advantage of the courses. A delegation from Lexington came to visit.

The largest attended class is that of Dr. Herbert W. Gates, who is Director of the School and instructor in the class on Old Testament Narratives. Nearly 80 persons are enrolled in this class.

Not only was the attendance good, but there was a fine spirit of enthusiasm and fellowship pervading the class periods and Assembly.

At the Assembly period there was an important announcement made by Appleton P. Williams, of Newton Highlands, 3rd Vice president of the District Association, and representative from the District on the Massachusetts State Association Executive Committee. Mr. Williams announced the State Convention which comes Oct. 18 and 21 at Brockton, Mass.

Miss Margaret Slattery will be present at this Convention and make three addresses. Several persons closely identified with the Norumbega District have a place on the convention program. Mr. R. O. Walter is to lead the conference of District Presidents; Rev. Otto Mayer has charge of an institute period on Intermediate and Senior Department work in the local Sunday School, and Rev. Earl E. Harper is Director of Music for the Convention.

At the opening session of the Convention, there will be motion pictures based on the Twenty-third Psalm, and a film called "By their Fruits" will also be presented. A representative of the International Church Film Corporation will be in charge of these pictures.

DEATH OF MR. BENNETT

The funeral of Edmund Neville Bennett, formerly of Weston, who for many years had been identified with the wool business in Buenos Aires, took place Wednesday afternoon at the Church of the Messiah in Auburndale. Rev. John Matteson, rector of All Saints Church in Whitman and formerly rector of the Auburndale church, officiated, assisted by Rev. Percival M. Wood, the present rector. There was music by the quartet from the Arlington street Church in Boston.

The honorary bearers, all of whom are Harvard men, included Benjamin Loring Young, Robert Lane, J. Philip Lane, J. Donaldson Nichols, Gordon Donald, Abbott Stevens, Rev. Malcolm E. Peabody and Arthur Sweeney. The ushers were Stephen S. FitzGerald, Benjamin S. Blake, Charles W. Hubbard, Jr., J. R. Coolidge, 3d., Charles B. Page and John B. E. Wheeler. Burial was in the Bennett family lot in Linwood Cemetery, Weston.

Mr. Bennett leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Crocker Bennett of Weston, three brothers, Samuel C. Bennett, Jr., Milton, Roger W. Bennett and Thomas D. Bennett of Weston, and two sisters, Mrs. Louis C. Zahner (Barbara Bennett) of Groton and Mrs. George Sturgis (Rosamond Bennett) of Weston. He was a member of the Harvard class of 1910 and served in the American Army during the World War.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICE

On Oct. 6th Mrs. Sarah Ann Burns observed the 100th anniversary of her birth at the home of her son, Arthur S. Burns, 10 Circuit Avenue, Newton Highlands. Mrs. Burns is in excellent health, and her faculties are unimpaired, with the exception of slight deafness.

She was born in Annapolis, N. S., and is the daughter of William Jones, who was well known in New York as a Loyalist. He left New York to settle in Annapolis. His wife was Sarah Pickup. Mrs. Burns was the wife of Michael Burns, whose father was also a New York Loyalist, who made his home in Annapolis, and she lived there until his death at the age of eighty-six years, which occurred about twelve years ago. She then came to Massachusetts, and for the past three years has been a resident of Newton.

Mrs. Burns is a devout Methodist, though for the past six months she has not attended church. Always a great reader, she gave up the perusal of newspapers about a year ago and now devotes her attention to the Bible and to Methodist publications. She is exceptionally capable with her needle, and up to a month ago did all sorts of fine sewing. In addition to the son with whom she lives, she has another son, Edward S. Burns, of Scituate.

EDITORIAL

One of the best features of the city government of Newton is the steady change in the office of mayor, the average tenure of office of each individual having been two years. While this might be deemed a serious defect in some cities yet in Newton, where the actual detail of work is in the hands of practically permanent city officials, the new viewpoint which each mayor brought to his supervision of city affairs, left its impress on the routine work of the heads of departments. A backward glance over the past 30 years of our municipal life will clearly illustrate the point we are making. The decade from 1890 to 1900 gave the city the advice of such men as Mayors Hibbard, Fenno, Bothfield, Cobb, and Wilson. Mr. Hibbard, head of the well-known Bryant & Stratton School, supervised the beginnings of our sewer system and initiated the movement which gave us Commonwealth avenue. Mr. Fenno, a practical railroad man, furthered both the sewer work and the boulevard plans. Mr. Bothfield, a real estate trustee at the time, fathered the widening of Washington street and the abolition of grade crossings of the railroad. Mr. Cobb's administration gave us the present city charter. Mr. Wilson, a successful merchant, removed the incubus of the almshouse from Waban and sold the old reservoir on advantageous terms to the Metropolitan district.

The next decade, from 1900 to 1910, gave us Mayors Weeks, Weed, Warren and Hutchinson. Mr. Weeks, now Secretary of War, and a successful banker at that time, clarified and centralized the system of collection of accounts. Mr. Weed, an able lawyer, settled a most difficult problem in the management of the Police Department. Mr. Warren, a successful manufacturer, led off in the construction of our Technical High School, and Mr. Hutchinson, a prominent merchant, definitely settled our somewhat lackadaisical liquor policy of that time.

While these were the prominent features of administrations above noted, one should not overlook the daily oversight and supervision which these experienced and able business men gave to the routine affairs of the city. We have no hesitation whatever in stating that this work placed Newton among the best governed cities of the Commonwealth.

During the past twelve years, however, the city has had but two chief executives, Mr. Hatfield and Mr. Childs, and in consequence our city officials, lacking the new viewpoint for so long a period, have felt into ruts of routine from which it is time they should be aroused.

The policy which worked so admirably for twenty years of our civic life, is certainly well worth considering again, especially at a time when we have such serious financial problems to be solved and need the freshness and vigor of our ablest business men.

While Mayor Childs in ordering Bacon street closed to travel has bettered conditions in that vicinity a little, the real danger comes from the high board fence blocking off half the roadway of Washington street between the curb and the railway track. That fence should be moved back at once.

We trust our good people will keep their eyes open to the good work being done in this city by the Boy Scout movement.

Mayor Childs sees Theodore Roosevelt and goes him two better in asking for a "fifth cup of coffee."

Horace Mann

The Horace Mann Claffin Football team has been organized with the following lineup: temporary captain, Ned Bloom, Kenneth Martin, William Seeley, James Quinn, Williams Adams, Harold Anders, James Conniff, Warren Adams, Robert Anders, Lloyd Young, George Eames, Ned Bloom.

On Thursday, Oct. 6, the Horace Mann-Claffin team played a game with the Roger Wolcott team of Waban. The game resulted in a score of 45-0 in favor of the Horace Mann-Claffin team.

The attendance report for the first four weeks of school, shows a total enrollment of 403 pupils. Grade VII, Room 2, and Grade V are tied for the highest per cent of attendance, each having a per cent of 97.6. Grade VII, Room 1, Grade VI, and Grade V have a record of "no tardy marks" for the four weeks.

I AM THE COUNTRY NEWSPAPER.

By BRISTOW ADAMS.

I am the Country Newspaper.

I am the friend of the family, the bringer of tidings from other friends; I speak to the home in the evening light of summer's vine-clad porch or the glow of winter's lamp.

I help to make this evening hour; I record the great and the small, the varied acts of the days and weeks that go to make up life.

I am for and of the home; I follow those who leave humble beginnings; whether they go to greatness or to the gutter, I take to them the thrill of old days, with wholesome messages.

I speak the language of the common man; my words are fitted to his understanding. My congregation is larger than that of any church in my town; my readers are more than those in the school. Young and old alike find in me stimulation, instruction, entertainment, inspiration, solace, comfort. I am the chronicler of birth, and love and death—the three great facts of man's existence.

I bring together buyer and seller, to the benefit of both; I am part of the market-place of the world. Into the home I carry word of the goods which feed and clothe and shelter, and which minister to comfort, ease, health, and happiness.

A FINE OLD HOME PAPER

(Tune—A Fine Old English Gentleman.) These magazines with gravures and all these works of art. Are very well for city folks who live by dint of mart; But give me first and foremost, I hold it is the prime— That fine old home town paper—one of the good old time.

The printin' isn't perfect, the ink's not uniform, The type is set by hand perhaps,—considerably overworn, The dear old press—I know it well—It's covered o'er with grime— But it prints that old home paper—one of the good old time.

I look for it each week as regularly it comes, And when the postman brings it in, I drop all other chums, I drink it in, from start to fin, ridiculous and sublime, That fine old home town paper, one of the good old time.

Smith's cat may have some kittens; Jones is putting in new pumps, My girl chum has got married and the kids have got the mumps, Jack Wiltsey's built a lean-to, John-son's roses upward climb, Oh! I love the old home paper, boys, one of the good old time.

—GEO. E. WRAY.

Back to Town Crier

How many residents of any small community have ever considered what might happen if there were no newspapers? Just previous to "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week," which is to be observed the country over November 7-12, is a good time to recall the plight of Macon, Mo., not long ago, when fire put the Chronicle-Herald out of business for two weeks.

According to The Publishers' Auxiliary, the old town crier, relic of many years back, was yanked from his hiding place, dusted off, and put back on his job, with a jangling bell, a megaphone, and a fog-horn voice only a little worse for long disuse.

It may have been a novelty for two weeks. But think of a community without printers' ink, compelled to get its announcements of auctions, sales, court sessions, births, marriages, deaths, epidemics of sickness, dog ordinances, board meetings, commencements, tax notices, advertisements of help and situations wanted, accidents, and the rest, through a shouted word like that of the ordinary train announcer in a city depot. The town crier was a romantic figure in his day, but few towns would like to return to his ministrations now.

When one thinks of the temporary plight of Macon, and that it might become the permanent handicap of many towns, it is well to think of supporting the local paper.

He Knows His Folks.

Here are some random observations of a man who has visited and studied a good many small communities: If you read your local paper you will not miss much that is happening around home. There is no use saying that you wish your town had a paper like one in the other town, for the other fellow there is saying the same thing. The man who reads his local paper thoroughly is usually a pretty good citizen and has it all over the fellow who does not. Local papers, when all is said and done, do more to uphold the institutions of this state and country than any other known contributing force in the world's work.

Random Observations.

This isn't a country publisher talking, but the editor of a farm paper: The metropolitan daily will bring to one's doorstep the news of the world seen through the spectacles of the city editor; but it is the editor who lives in the heart of the community who is able to reflect the sentiment of the local group. He alone is the true interpreter of events as they affect the small town and the farming community that immediately surrounds the town.

standing is largely based on these factors rather than on its business. The same is also true of a man. He is not judged so much by his business as by the use he makes of his spare time—his by-products.

Col. Osborn appealed for assistance in building up the National Guard.

Attorney General Allen was received with cheers. He followed out the remarks of Dr. Sullivan by saying that the great significance of the recent decision of the Supreme Court was not in the immediate issue before the court but in its by-products, so to speak. It has taught our people to trust the courts and the law, and has made the legal profession one a young man can enter with pride and confidence.

Hon. Herbert Parker, always eloquent, was at his best and paid a high compliment to his successor in office, Mr. Allen, for his moral courage, his ability and his perseverance.

As a substitute for Col. Foote, head of the Dept. of Public Works, Mr. Parker praised the new state constabulary. The police, he said, are the front line of the government, and should be men of character and judgment, not to make the law feared, but to make it respected.

Major Cabot, as the commander of the Newton Post of the American Legion wished that the 2700 service men in Newton could have heard the speaking that night and promised to carry to them, something of the patriotism and ideals which had been heard. The evening closed with singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

CHURCH DAY

Thursday afternoon and evening was Church Day for Centenary M. E. Church, Auburndale.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock, the ladies of the Aid Society met at the Parsonage, nearly seventy in number. The rooms were elaborately decorated with autumn leaves, and vines, and flowers in profusion.

After the regular business meeting, the pastor of the church, Rev. Earl E. Harper, was introduced by the President, Mrs. E. C. Hillard, and spoke for 15 minutes on the subject, "The Ideal Suburban Church." This church "is characteristically a family church. It is definitely interested in and specifically serves the interests of every member of the family. It is as much interested in the child as the parent, the man as the woman. It is a school of religious training for all. This church takes for its text Christ's words, 'I am come that ye might have life, and that ye might have it more abundantly,' and proceeds to interpret the 'abundant life' as including cultural, social, and intellectual, as well as spiritual development. Indeed only in the development of the whole rounded life is there possible true spiritual growth. This church will interest itself in every ennobling, refining, and uplifting influence that may be brought into the lives of its members and their families. It will stand for the best as it conceives the best in music, in art, in social intercourse, and in community spirit."

He then set before the ladies the special work they might do in developing this church and urged upon them cooperation and support of the program presented to them by the pastor and the official board.

Following the address, Clara Lieber Harper, assisted by her husband at the piano, rendered a most interesting musical program.

In the evening at 7.45 the Midweek Church Service was held. The pastor's subject was "Objective and Subjective Righteousness." The message was developed by selected readings from the Old Testament Prophets, read by members of the congregation. The double character of the true religious life, the outward life of uprightness toward men, and the inward life of communion with God was resolved into the simple unity of the life that is in Christ.

The attendance upon this midweek service, as was the case last week, filled the room to overflowing and made the opening of doors and the bringing in of extra chairs a necessity.

The day was brought to a notable conclusion when at 8.30 o'clock, the men assembled in the parish house, filling it to the limit of its capacity.

The room was carefully decorated with autumn leaves, vines, and flowers and presented a beautiful sight.

Mrs. Harper repeated here the musical program of the afternoon, and then Dr. H. McIlroy Litchler, pastor of Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, was introduced. Taking for his subject, "The Vaudeville Mind," he stirred his audience to the greatest enthusiasm as he delivered a message challenging them to think, to think hard, and above all to think for themselves in matters of politics, social progress, and religion. It was such a commanding and stimulating message as will not be forgotten in many days by those who heard it.

The pastor then spoke to the men upon the same subject as he had used at the ladies' meeting in the afternoon, but relating the task of developing the "Ideal Suburban Church" to the work and service men and men only might render.

Refreshments followed and at a late hour Centenary Church day was brought to a close.

Bridgman, president of the Brotherhood will speak on "The Williams Institute of Politics." Ladies and friends are cordially invited.

THE STORY OF HOME TOWN PAPER WEEK

By M. V. ATWOOD.

Once upon a time a country editor had a great idea. This is not the first great idea which has been evolved in a country print-shop, but most of these ideas in the past have been of benefit to some one other than the editor. But the idea was to benefit editor as well as the whole community and nation.

This was the idea: Why not have a "home paper week?"

We have had every kind of a "week" from soap to electric cleaners.

Taken together, argued the editor, the country newspapers are quite the most important in the nation, even if judged by numbers; the ten or fifteen thousand of them make the four hundred big city papers and magazines seem inconsiderable, indeed.

The reason most folks do not realize the importance of the country newspaper is because they think of them individually instead of collectively; even the Atlantic ocean doesn't look very impressive when you view it merely as a cupful of water scooped up at the beach.

So this country editor began to talk about the idea and to write letters to any one who he thought might be interested. But like all great ideas, it took a long time for it to grow.

Finally a company which has done much to teach country publishers the value of system and of knowledge of costs took it up, as did also the National Editorial Association; then the state colleges of agriculture saw its possibilities because of the effect on community life; another great concern which furnishes thousands of country papers with syndicate news and features became interested; and, of course, the publishers' trade journals fell into line.

Thus a great chain of interest in "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week" has been stretched across the country, each of the thousands of country papers, of which this paper is one, a link in the chain.

November 7th to 12th are the dates set for "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week," and all who believe in the home town paper, in its possibilities for helpfulness, for creating community solidarity, for the cherishing of the homely and sacred things of the country, are being asked to help—to help, not because the country editor needs charity, but because the country newspaper is a great service agency, dignified, stable, worthy of every cent which the community invests to make it possible.

So you are asked to help make "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week" the big success it is going to be. If you do not now take your home paper, don't delay subscribing later than the week of November 7-12.

HOME TOWN PAPER WEEK.

People of the United States will be afforded an opportunity during the week of November 7th to 12th to express in concrete form their gratitude to those men and women, who through sunshine and rain, prosperity and adversity, persistently and consistently sing the song of the home town. The time long since passed when newspapers, whether daily or weekly, can subsist on the "taking it for granted" spirit of its patrons and well wishers. Costs of producing newspapers today have not decreased in anything like the proportion experienced in other lines and figures quoted recently by daily and weekly newspapers through the country have given the public a glimpse into the expense incidental to conducting the home paper.

To the newspaper men and women of each community has fallen the task of presenting the current events of a fast-moving world in accordance with the modern ideas, more or less extravagant, and keeping a smiling countenance and a courageous heart when others are prone to talk "hard times." Their loyalty to the state and their community has undergone a severe test but they met it with optimism and only a little reflection is required to show how much worse conditions might have been before the turn in the road was reached, had they pursued a different course.

Advertisers had to keep advertising whether they could pay promptly or not and business had to be kept going for the general good. The publishers and editors did their part and the second week in November is proclaimed a time when those who benefited by this policy can express it in terms of support that will insure the future of the small town paper, the backbone of every community that has the semblance of pride in itself and its neighbors.—Sloux City Argus-Leader.

ORIENTAL BAZAAR

The Second Church represented a veritable city of the Orient yesterday on the occasion of the Oriental Bazaar. Everywhere gaily colored hangings and balloons were in evidence.

On the grounds were vegetable and ice cream stands, while, in a conspicuous position was a hostess tent, a reproduction of the one at Camp Devens. About 300 people were served here at noon, and about 500 at night by efficient waiters dressed as Chinese. An automobile show on Margin street attracted many also, especially the Metz car on a revolving platform.

Rivalling the hostess house were the Girl Scouts under Miss Caroline Freeman who served "flap jacks" to an eager crowd, and the Boy Scouts under Mr. Harlan Crowell who sold "hot dogs."

Within the building one progressed from room to room, meeting everywhere beautifully and artistically gowned attendants who sold flowers, cake, candy, toys, preserves, hats, books, infants' wear, and attractive articles reminiscent of the Orient. One room was given over to Newton industries.

The entire Sunday School room was converted into an Art room, the various exhibits being arranged along the sides of the room, with rugs and tables in the centre.

Among those exhibiting were Mrs. William E. Strong, and Miss Helen Strong, of Newtonville; Mr. Frank Hamilton Daniels, Supervisor of Drawing in the Newton Schools; Mr. Charles Copeland of Newton Centre; Mr. Charles F. Connick of West Newton; Mr. Sidney T. Callowhill of Newton Centre; Mr. Giovanni Troccoli; Mr. Charles H. Davis, formerly of Newton; Mr. Willard H. Eaton, a graduate of the Newton Schools; Mr. William M. Paxton, also a Newton artist; Miss Margaret Wilkins, of Newton Centre; Miss Amy Sacker, formerly of Newton; Mr. Louis Bachrach, of West Newton; Mr. Frank Gardiner Hale; Mr. Peter J. D. Kuntz, of the Technical High School; Mr. and Mrs. Gino Peruzzi; Miss Carrie Morse, of Newton Centre; Mr. Wilbur F. Noyes; Mr. W. E. Noetzel of Newton Centre, Miss Harriet B. Newhall, formerly of West Newton; Mr. Adaline, in charge of the rugs; and Miss Lillian Link, designer of the font of the Second Church.

The fine proportions of the room in which the exhibit was held, the carved finish of the wood, and its mellow tones made an unusual setting. No one who saw the exhibit could fail to be impressed with the fact that Newton has become, through its artists, a true art centre, the influence of which is felt far and wide. One was also impressed with the great versatility of the exhibition which included paintings, cartoons, sketches, prints, glass ware, sculpture, photography, jewelry, and rugs.

A fine spirit of cooperation was also evident. Of these things, Newton may well be proud.

The committee in charge were Mrs. Frederick S. Blodgett, Mrs. John A. Paine, Mrs. Charles E. Benson. These were ably assisted by Mr. Ernest Cooper in charge of the decorations, Mrs. Charles Norby, in charge of the cafeteria, Mrs. John Morse and Mrs. Joseph Lovell, in charge of the supper, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Gross, in charge of the dancing, Mrs. Andrew Hartel and Mrs. George Hatch, in charge of the tea, Mr. William T. Glidden in charge of the outdoor market, Mrs. Walton S. Redfield, in charge of the grab, Mrs. Andrew Woods, in charge of the fancy work, Mrs. Quincy Wales in charge of the candy, Mrs. Robert H. Gross and Mrs. Herbert E. Fales, in charge of the foreign table, Mrs. Ernest S. Gile, and Mrs. Clarence R. Glazier in charge of the household goods, Mrs. Stanley M. Bolster, in charge of the canned goods, Mrs. Albert Blunt, in charge of the infants' clothing, Mrs. Harold Weed in charge of the ice cream, Mrs. Hoyt in charge of the book shop, Mrs. Edith H. Rogers, Mrs. Frederick Fessenden, flowers, and Miss Martha Dix in charge of the Art Room.

In the evening, Miss Sumayeh Atiyeh, the youngest Syrian lecturer in America gave in costume a delightful account of life in her native country. A most interesting program is to be carried out this afternoon and evening for both children and adults.

ROADSIDE MARKET SUCCEES DEPENDS UPON HONESTY

The secret of success of a roadside market seems to have been solved by the proprietors of the Mainstone Farm Co. "Ayland," who recently opened one of the most attractive markets on the Worcester road. It is but a little beyond the town of Weston at the junction of the Old Connecticut Path, the original road leading to Cohasset and Manson Inn. Their ideal in this undertaking has been to furnish strictly fresh goods at a figure below the Boston market price and by consistently carrying out that scheme they already have secured many Newton residents as regular weekly or bi-weekly customers. All of the products offered are from their own farm, one of the largest producing farms in that section, and any unsold goods at night are withdrawn from the market and not offered for sale there again. Fruit and vegetables of all kinds are offered as the seasons progress, and within a short time the cider presses will begin to work and "Mainstone Sweet Cider" will be on the market. Many suburban residents are preparing to take advantage of the excellent output of this farm by ordering their winter's supply of vegetables for delivery next month. A visit to the market is well worth while whether one wishes to purchase in small or large quantity, as an inspection of fresh goods attractively displayed, in a unique building especially designed for the location, is an unusual opportunity.

AMATEUR OPERA ASSOCIATION

The Newton Amateur Opera Association would like a few more young ladies and gentlemen for its chorus. Rehearsals will be held next Tuesday and Friday evenings at Magna Hall, West Newton.

It's funny how the other fellow's success always is due to good luck, and your own to ability.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Alexander are moving this week into their recently completed house on Fairlocks avenue.

—The first regular meeting of the Central Guild will be held on Oct. 26. A splendid program for the year is in store.

—A still alarm on Sunday was for a fire on the roof of a house at 38 Court street, owned and occupied by W. O. Harrington. It was caused by sparks from the chimney.

—The Newton Hospital Social Service League will hold its first meeting for the season in the New Church Parlors on Monday, Oct. 17. Mrs. McManamon and Mrs. Carrie Hull will be the speakers.

—The Newton Choral Society held the first rehearsal of the season in Central Church on Tuesday night. The attendance which was the largest of any first night of the club, proved that the members appreciated the value of the training which they have received in the society. Young people of high school age who like to sing, even if they have not had special training are cordially invited to join the society.

—A concert of unusual merit was held in Odd Fellows Hall on Monday night under the auspices of Mt. Ida Council of the Royal Arcanum. Music was furnished by the Glee Club of Perkins Institute, Miss Mabel Starbird, leader. Alderman George Heathcote who was present presented each of the members of the glee club with an Irish linen handkerchief. Refreshments and dancing completed the entertainment of the evening, which was in charge of the entertainment committee.

—The Eastern Star held a Harvest party including whist and dancing in Temple Hall on Tuesday. The first prize for men was won by Dr. Gerald Zedren; the first prize for ladies by Mrs. A. M. Tobey, and two second prizes for ladies by Mrs. Jennie Alexander, and Mrs. C. J. Lord. Hassermehl's orchestra furnished the music. About 100 were present, and the party was pronounced a most successful one. The officers and past matrons and patrons were in charge.

DEATH OF MRS. LIVERMORE

Mrs. Mary A. Livermore of 20 Orchard street, Newton, the wife of George F. Livermore, died on Wednesday at the Homeopathic Hospital, as the result of an injury to her hip, which she received in a fall, two weeks ago.

Mrs. Livermore was born in Boston on April 3, 1840, and was the daughter of Alvin C. and Mary (Babbidge) Dexter. Her father conducted a well-represented livery and riding school, on the site of the present Park Theatre, on Washington street, and her family lived at the old Winthrop House, which was then located where the Masonic Temple stands today.

For sixty-one years Mrs. Livermore had resided in Newton, and Mr. and Mrs. Livermore celebrated their golden wedding anniversary eleven years ago.

Mrs. Livermore was a life long member of the Eliot Church in Newton. She is survived by two sons, Messrs. Wendell B. Livermore of New York, and George C. Livermore of Bedford; also a daughter, Mrs. Mabel A. Atwood of Allston.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 at the Newton Cemetery Chapel.

In a little over three weeks the Union Bazaar will be an accomplished fact. Everybody will have seen and enjoyed it. A peep behind the scenes, however, is always fascinating, so here is a glimpse or two into the green room to see what is in preparation.

If you could get one look at the piles of lingerie waiting to find their places on the table two things would certainly happen: you wouldn't buy a garment for yourself anywhere else, and you would find your Christmas problems—fervor of your friends—solved on the spot. Such an alluring assortment is there—every thing conceivable in that line for women and children, from the plain and practical to the daintiest and most exquisite. Mrs. Deffen and her committee of 35 ladies have worked most industriously and there are already 350 garments ready. Just remember though, that the early comers will have the widest choice.

All the world loves a chance. The Bazaar is appealing to this by its Parcel Post Department. For twenty-five cents one may call at the general delivery window and receive a package whose value will be at least a quarter. Right here is an opportunity to do something to help now. Mrs. Otto Bachmann, 146 Crafts St., Newtonville, will be delighted to have any articles sent her for this grab for grown-ups. Possibly you have some white elephants on your hands that somebody else would enjoy having. Send them on—the menagerie is large enough to contain them all.

Of course everybody is looking forward to the entertainment on Wednesday evening, November 9. "The play's the thing." Surely no cleverer sketch could have been found than that selected, "Dr. Baxter's Marvellous Invention." It is admirably cast, too, so that one can be certain that the humor of every situation will be developed to the utmost. The cast is as follows: Dr. Benjamin Franklin Baxter, Mr. G. S. Sprague; Peter Crawford, Mr. D. L. Smith; Samuel Woolley, Dr. L. H. Naylor; Roxanna Tucker, Mrs. Ensign; Dorothy Tucker, Mrs. Colton; Mary Ann O'Flynn, Mrs. Bartlett.

NEWTON Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Beginning Monday there will be music for the setting-up exercises in all gymnasium classes. Miss Walsh, who played so acceptably last year will again preside at the piano.

Austin Hale's Sunday School class was the first class of the season to take advantage of the standing offer made by the Association to entertain groups of boys accompanied by adult leaders. Bowling and a swim in the pool were the chief attractions.

Ex-service men will be interested to learn that a sum of money has been placed at our disposal to assist a limited number of ex-service men in taking a course in Accountancy or Business Law now being held at the Newton Y. M. C. A. on Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings at 7.15. Call up Newton North 592 for further information.

GRACE M. BUNT, Editor.

Attention is called to the "Five F's Drive," mentioned below. The plan seems the most sensible way in which to replenish the funds of the Newton Federation, that it may continue its good work for the community as a whole. In a city like Newton where the needs of each local village appeal so strongly to the local club, it is not always so easy to see that there are needs common to the city as a whole, which can be better fostered by some central agency as the Federation. One club of the city had this fact most forcibly brought home, when one enterprise after another, initiated by the club, was found to be better administered by the broader organization and was passed on to it. Most projects for raising money are very expensive ways of securing funds, since a considerable proportion must needs go into the expenses. Then, too, there is the energy which a few must put into them in order to make them successful. With this in mind the women of Newton may consider themselves lucky to get off with merely the payment of twenty-five cents. There is an esprit de corps gained from working together, which is valuable, but there are also times when the voluntary contribution is more desirable. This fall seems to be one of them. All success to the undertaking.

Newton Federation

Monday, October 17, at 10.15 A. M., the Executive Board of the Newton Federation will hold its regular meeting at the Newton Club, Newtonville. Attention is called to the change of place.

Local Announcements

The Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls will meet at the Emerson kindergarten on Monday evening, October 17. Guy C. Caldwell will give an illustrated lecture on "American Trees, Birds, and Wild Flowers." He will also give imitations of American and French song birds.

The Newton Hospital Social Service League will meet at the New Church parlors, Highland avenue, Newtonville, on Monday afternoon at 2.30, when Mrs. Carrie Hull and Mrs. Alice MacManamon will be the speakers.

On Tuesday morning the Auburn-dale Review will meet with Mrs. H. A. Wentworth, Woodland road. The subject will be "Japan," with a paper on its art, and an especial one of an hour in length, entitled "Our Home in Japan," by Mrs. William I. Lawrence.

The Woman's Club of Newton Highlands will hold its regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon, October 18, at half past two, in the Congregational church. After the business session, Rev. Abraham M. Ribnary will speak on the subject, "Can Humanity be Civilized?"

The Newtonville Woman's Club will hold its opening reception at the home of Mrs. Donald Rust, 101 Highland avenue, on Tuesday, October 18. Mrs. Ralph Conant, chairman of the Hospitality committee, is in charge of the arrangements.

Thursday, October 20, at 2 P. M., the Newton Ladies' Home Circle meets in G. A. R. hall, Newtonville.

The committee on Group Activities of the Newton Community Club has arranged for the third Thursday of the month a series of visits to various plants and places of interest during the coming season. Next Thursday, October 20, all members of the club are invited to visit the Purity Ice Company's plant and the Garden City Laundry. Those planning to join the party will meet at the Library at 1.30 P. M.

Local Happenings

A most enjoyable program opened the season of the Auburn-dale Woman's Club at the Methodist Church on Tuesday, October 11, at 2.30 P. M. With a few gracious words of welcome the new president, Mrs. Wilbur D. Gilpatrick, greeted the members, both old and new. Then followed the usual business meeting. Mrs. Wallace Boyden, Second Vice-President of the Newton Federation, made a most appealing plea for funds for the Philanthropic work for the year. Her speech surely reached the hearts and purses of all present.

The Willis-Balcolm Duo followed with new and colorful numbers, the mirth-provoking songs of Miss Balcolm being particularly bright and charming. During the social hour which followed the officers received the club members, while delightful refreshments were enjoyed by all.

The Five F's Drive

Fill Full the Philanthropic Fund of the Federation

Since the very successful rummage sale held in the autumn of 1919, the Newton Federation has in no way taxed the club women of the city to increase the philanthropic treasury. Last spring the officers and Executive Board felt the need of some activity for this purpose, but circumstances were unfavorable and the matter was reluctantly left until autumn. Now the need is urgent! The call is imperative! In what fashion shall the money be raised? Out-of-door fetes are already under way. Fairs always come before the Christmas holidays. Whist parties are numerous. A rummage sale impossible. Why not take the path of least resistance and do the easiest thing?

If each club belonging to the Federation—and there are 17—will give at least 25 cents per member, the deed will be done. The method of raising that sum is left to each club to choose for itself. The committee is very glad to assist in any way possible and makes this suggestion right now: Don't let the member who belongs to more than one club get away with only one payment. If she pays dues in four clubs let her meet cheerfully the obligations of those four clubs by contributing at least one dollar to this cause.

The Newton Federation has contributed generously in the past to the splendid city philanthropies and has been the means of creating and perpetuating constructive measures. See to it that coming opportunities along this line may be met with in the same way. Watch for more information next week. We have until New Year's to complete the task. Fill Full the Philanthropic Fund of the Federation.

Mrs. Ernest Cobb, Upper Falls.
Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden, Newtonville.
Mrs. G. D.W. Marcy, Newton Highlands.
Mrs. H. S. Wells, West Newton.
Mrs. A. W. Lane, Chairman, Auburn-dale.

CHANNING ALLIANCE

Tuesday afternoon Channing Alliance held its first meeting of the season. Mr. Horace C. Harrington gave a vivid account of the Sunday-school Institute held at the Isles of Shoals, to which he was a delegate. Mrs. Louis P. Hash, a director of The Alliance of Unitarian Women, presented the plans of the national organization for the spiritual campaign made possible by the funds secured last year. Miss Mary F. Gill, of Milton, spoke upon the organization and work of "Junior Alliances." Miss Gill has been the inspiring director of such a branch in the church at Jamaica Plain, and told how she has been able to make it permanent by taking in each year those girls who are thirteen, and by graduating them into the senior branch when they pass out of their teens. She told of a visit to Wales during the past summer, when she was able to meet a number of Unitarian girls there, who were correspondents of some of her own Juniors.

The Alliance choir sang two songs, and tea was served during the social hour.

DEATH OF MRS. ANDREWS

Mrs. Mary Emily Andrews, widow of Dr. Robert R. Andrews, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Albin L. Richards, Collins road, Waban, on Wednesday in her 78th year. She was the daughter of Dr. Horatio LeSeur and was born in Homer, N. Y.

She married in 1870 to Dr. Robert R. Andrews, a prominent histologist and professor at Boston Dental College. She attended the Congregational Church, Cambridge, and was for many years a prominent member of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of that church.

Besides Mrs. Richards, she is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Bruce Wynn of Waban, and two sons, Dr. Horatio L. Andrews of Waban, and Dr. Robert E. Andrews, physician at the plant of the Ludlow Manufacturing Co.

Services were held at the home of Mrs. Richards on Friday, Rev. Charles H. Cutler of Union Church officiating.

valuation is $9,000. F. T. Martin of Cambridge purchases for home and investment.

TREMONT THEATRE—New York,
a hundred years ago, when Dehrosses street was far up town, when Gramercy Park was a pond and Wall street
the Fifth avenue, is shown in "Little Old New York," at the Tremont Theatre, Boston. Rida Johnson Young is the author of this charming comedy, produced by Sam H. Harris and staged under the personal supervision of Sam Forrest.

It is a delightful play interpreted by a cast of uniform excellence with Genevieve Tobin in the principal role.
In the story are people whose names are part of the city's history. There are Cornelius Vanderbilt, who runs a ferry to Staten Island, and who sees a great future for the steamboat, John Jacob Astor, who owns the twenty fine houses in Wall street and thinks Gramercy Park will some day be a residential district. There are Washington Irving, Fitz Greene Halleck and Henry Brevoort, all roistering young blades, and there is Peter Delmonico, making the sandwiches to be sold at the fight in the firehouse.

NEWELL—WRIGHT

Columbus Day was the wedding day of Miss Grace Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Weldon Wright of Allston, and Mr. Harold Pierce Newell of Newton Highlands. The ceremony was performed at St. Luke's Episcopal Church by the Rev. Charles Duffield.
The bride wore a gown of white satin with silk lace draped over it and a long train of satin, and carried a bouquet of roses and lilies-of-the-valley. The matron of honor, Mrs. F.
Cutler Smith of Allston wore blue satin with an overgrown of orchid chantality lace with flower trimming, and a large black hat draped with Spanish lace veil falling over one shoulder.
The little flower girl, Nancy Newell, daughter of the groom, was dressed in peach organdie with a touch of blue, and carried a basket of Ophelia roses.
A reception at the home of the bride followed the ceremony at the church, the bridal couple being assisted by the parents of the bride and Mrs. Carrie Newell.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda,
Mr. and Mrs. Newell will make their home at Leamington road, Aberdeen.

DEATH OF MR. MILNE

Mr. George W. Milne, who died last Friday, at his home on Washington street, Hunnewell hill, was born at Pulley, Scotland, in 1859, and came to America when very young. He lived the greater part of his life in Dorchester, but had dwelt in Watertown for 10 years. He had lived in Newton for the past year. Mr. Milne was a buyer for the Gilchrist Company, Boston, having worked for the company for 25 years.

Funeral services were held from his late home on Sunday afternoon, Rev.
Dr. H. Grant Person of Eliot Church officiating, and the burial was in Cedar Grove cemetery.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE—The Messrs. Shubert's stupendous and costly production of "In the Night Watch," acclaimed to be one of the biggest melodramatic hits emanating from the Century Theatre in New York, will play a limited engagement of two weeks beginning Monday evening, Oct.
17, at the Boston Opera House. Robert Warwick, the famous screen and stage star will appear in the role of Captain Paul De Coriaix, which won him fame as a romantic actor during the run of the play in Manhattan. Beautiful Olive Tell who is seen "In the Night Watch" with Mr. Warwick, is one of the most efficient actresses on the American stage, today.

WILBUR THEATRE—"The Rose

TRIP TO TIGNISH, P. E. I.

We left Unity, Maine, Sunday morning at 7—a beautiful day for driving, cloudy with a light fairly cool breeze. Roads were only fair as we were detoured from the "Main Street" many times.

Our first stop was at one of the State fish hatcheries, Cherryfield, for lunch from the goodly supply of edibles prepared by the girls. I was rather disappointed in the hatchery as it contained neither trout nor salmon in excess of two or three ounces in weight.

I think the most complete hatchery I have ever seen is at Tuxedo Park. It abundantly supplies the various ponds within the Park for the pleasure of angling of the wealthy New Yorkers who have their palatial summer homes there. Among them is Mark Twain's beautiful place near the Club House, where I was spending a week end, the guest of a friend. (I seem to be digressing from our present trip, but I love the right kind of digression.)

From Cherryfield we passed through extensive blueberry fields, with hundreds of people (largely foreigners) gathering the heavy crops and I wondered why we should be charged 35 to 50¢ a quart or small basket for these berries. Fires were destroying large areas of forest, blue-berry fields and farms.

We arrived at Calais at 6—our first night's objective (about 170 miles); a good dinner, good rooms and beds and a good, (really) breakfast freshly prepared us for the next lap. After passing the Custom Officials on both sides of the line with little delay, the rain and wind, which started moderately about midnight, continued to increase, together with exceedingly bad roads, rocky, rutty, narrow, and crooked made our trip from St. Stephens to St. John (with a good portion of the distance through woods) anything but pleasant. Some places the road skirts the picturesque coast but heavy fog obstructed the view—but we were happy in knowing that the fires were being quenched.

We found excellent road from St.

John to Moncton, and the rain ceased near Hampton where we discovered a broken front spring. Fortunately, however, they had one at the garage taken from another car, that fitted ours, so after about two hours we went on rejoicing. I was a pretty farming country along the valley with sufficient hills to give it variety.

We arrived in Moncton at 10—our second night's objective (about 180 miles for the day). As the weather promised propitious we decided to leave at 5 in the morning and at 7 we stopped at an inviting place near a spring, fried bacon and eggs, made coffee and toast and thoroughly enjoyed an hour. Again we found a fertile farming country through to Sackville and Cape Tormentine.

We arrived at Tormentine at 12 (about 70 miles), and, adding to our food supply from a small store, prepared to the beach for dinner—special—crab-meat salad, ginger ale, and ice cream.

Here is where the autos are run on to flat railroad cars (2 autos on a car) since the establishment of the new car ferry service, and transported to Beaton on the Island. The distance is 10 miles. Twelve freight and passenger cars can be run on to the ferry. It requires about three quarters of an hour to cross. Through my government connection at Ottawa, my cousin being the Solicitor of the Railway Commission, the Captain granted us many privileges, marine glasses, etc., had the engineer show us through the engine rooms and all other places of interest. At Beaton our niece, her husband, (John Myrick) of West Newton, who is now in business with his father at Tignish, and two other members of their family from West Newton met us in their car for a seventy mile drive up the Island.

The Tignish party had provided a most elaborate supper to which complete justice was done by the roadside overlooking Richmond Bay with its irregular shore forming landscapes and seascapes of surpassing loveliness.

In the early twilight, which is later here than with us, we arrived in Tignish. My first real impression of the place was at the first faint light of day with a stiff breeze driving large waves rocking to the beach along which I was walking. As John Burroughs would say, "One does not seem really to have got over of doors till he goes to sea; at sea he finds the roof taken off, and the walls taken down." That is the impression here—flatness of country and extensive St. Lawrence Gulf.

A lover of Nature and a seeker of trout and wild game from my boyhood, and all the expeditions in which these have been the ostensible purpose, I find this place hard to equal. Although I find there are many people in the world who profess to love Nature, but if you inquire somewhat closely you will find that, for the most part, they love her at a distance, and when they have nothing better to engage their affections. I shall never forget the German on top of a Maine Mountain. At first sight of the lovely view he went into a guttural convulsion of ecstasy—Ah! my wonder-schön!—which lasted about fifty seconds and the rest of the time he was absorbed in contemplation of sandwiches and beer. It did seem to me that he could have thus employed himself with less trouble at the foot of the mountain, but perhaps, also, with less appetite. And, after all, his passion for the beautiful may have been sincere; for it is a well-known fact that even the truest love is subject to pangs of hunger. My own test for the right love of Nature is a very simple one. He who loves Nature must be one who in making a journey between two points will choose, not the straight line, nor the smooth line, but the crooked line—the line which wanders up hill and down dale (as in New England) leading him who follows it through sweet and secret places, delaying him with fragrant meadows, babbling streams, cool shadows of trees and rocks, and bringing him at last to his journey's end with a kind of surprise and regret.

SIX—GRA ETAA

Those are the brightest flowers to me that bloom where the crowd never think to look for them. Those are the fairest views we discover for ourselves. We feel a certain proprietorship in them. It pleases my sense of originality to find that we do not need a hand-book or a guide-book to tell us when to admire.

In brief, then, I prefer the by-way to the highway. On principle, not in a lax, immoral sense; but on the soundest and most reasonable grounds. I love digressions in journeys as well as in books and in sermons.

We do not get here on the Island the noise of the New England Falls that makes constant music in your ears as the water hurries past you, and yet is never gone. The same foam flakes seem to be always gliding downward, the same spray dashing over the stones, the same eddy coiling at the edge of the pool. The fly is sent under those hanging branches, where the water swirls around by that old log then drawn up toward the foam. There is a sudden gleam of dull gold in the white water; struck too soon, the line comes back. In a current like this a fish will almost always hook himself. Try it again. This time he strikes the fly fairly, and you have him! It is a good fish and makes the slender rod bend to the strain. He sulks for a moment as if uncertain what to do, and then with a rush darts into the swiftest part of the current. You can never stop him there—let him go. Keep just enough pressure on him to hold the hook firm, and follow his troutship down the stream. He slides over a little fall, gleaming through the foam, and swings around in the next pool. Here you can manage him more easily, and after a few minutes brilliant play, a few mad dashes for the current, and one splendid leap out of the water, he comes to the net and you land him with a quick, steady sweep of the arm. What can be more delightful than to spend an hour or two in the early morning or about sundown at such sport.

You will begin to think I love digressions if this wandering pen is not checked and confined to Tignish where I am getting more of nature into me more of the wild, nearer to the birds, while threading the streams for trout than in almost any other way. The meadow brooks are always a favorite place for trout, they like them, doubtless their food is more abundant there, and usually the good breeding places are more numerous.

Numerous streams, ponds, and rivers furnish excellent sport for the angler. Trout varying from a half to three pounds, they are eager to take the fly and put up a fight that tests the skill of an experienced angler. I have never seen trout more beautifully spotted or meat unexcelled in firmness and flavor. We are revelling in them.

Among other attractions are deep sea fishing, cod, haddock and mackerel, and we can testify as to size and number, and also to the delicious flavor of the lobster. The Myrick Co. canned their usual several hundred thousand pounds this season.

Regarding the birds, there are many varieties of summer visitors; not as many, of course, as we have, except the migratory shore birds, ducks and geese. Except the geese, which breed farther north, the others nest and spend the summer here. It is strange to observe that the song of the other birds change in tone between Massachusetts and here. The birds along the beach have a human interest with their familiar notes and those of us who love to lodge with Nature find early rising quite in order for full enjoyment of them. Daylight has found me several mornings walking the beach and seated in a somewhat secluded spot calling around me the curlew, golden, yellow-legs, killdeer, ring-necked, and others. The great blue heron resemble pieces of statuary as they stand on the sand or in shallow water.

The woods here are not exactly what I call Nature's own—all evergreen, principally skunk-spruce, fir, and cedar with peculiar bark and grow very dense.

Black fox ranches at almost every corner. Some have made money, more have lost, at least, for their stockholders.

Nature on the Island is less versatile than with us, but more constant and uniform, less variety—chary of new species but multiplies the old ones endlessly. I have not observed so many varieties of wildflowers as at home but a great profusion of specimens. The goldenrod is most conspicuous of all the wild flowers. The prettiest of all is the humble roadside flowers—the buttercup and the field daisy.

Others make up in abundance what they lack in grace. I have been informed that the May flower is abundant, large in size and exquisite in color and sweetness. There are no rocks deposited by Nature on the Island. Those used in building wharves and fireplaces have been brought from various countries by returning vessels as ballast.

The beaches are level, of red sand and offer enjoyable bathing—with the water moderate in temperature.

BLAIR.

VETERANS OF THE CROSS FELLOWSHIP

Dr. and Mrs. George S. Butters, on Tuesday of this week, entertained the retired preachers of the New England Methodist Conference at their home on Newtonville avenue. These retired ministers have formed an organization known as the Veterans of the Cross Fellowship and they meet twice a year. The oldest in the organization is 97 and the youngest is 63. These veterans have given all the way from forty to sixty years to the ministry. They might seem like old men to some, but they are as enthusiastic and earnest as in their young days.

There were about twenty of the Veterans present and three of these were eighty-eight years old. Dr. Butters was the youngest of the company and he is 55. Several of these good men were accompanied by their wives. The morning was given up to two interesting papers followed by discussion and there was a season of prayer in the interest of Disarmament.

A dinner was served at the Methodist Church and an hour of good fellowship was enjoyed about the tables. Among the distinguished men present were Ex-presidents Warren and Huntington of Boston University, Dean Alfred A. Wright of Cambridge, Drs. George S. Chadbourne and Wm. G. Richardson, former district superintendents. Also Dr. Henry C. Sheldon a retired professor and four members of the first class that graduated from the School of Theology of Boston University.

It was a wonderful day for such a gathering and the old preachers were enthusiastic over the cordiality and hospitality of their Newton friends.

NEWTON ILLITERACY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8.—The Census Bureau reports that in the population of Newton, Mass., as enumerated in January, 1920, there were 730 persons 10 years of age and over who were illiterate in the sense of being unable to write. Of this total, 702 are foreign-born whites. The percentage of illiteracy in the total population 10 years of age and over is 1.9, which shows a decrease since 1910, when it was 3.7. For the native white the percentage is 0.1, for the foreign-born white, 7.0, and for the Negro, 1.9. That the younger generation in this city is less illiterate than the older, is indicated by the fact that while 2.5 per cent of the males and 2.3 per cent of the females 21 years of age and over are illiterate, the percentage of illiteracy in the population 16 to 20 years of age is but 0.2.

Newton's percentage is equalled by Everett and Somerville and only bettered by Brookline (0.2), the lowest in the state, Medford (1.0) and Somerville (1.7).

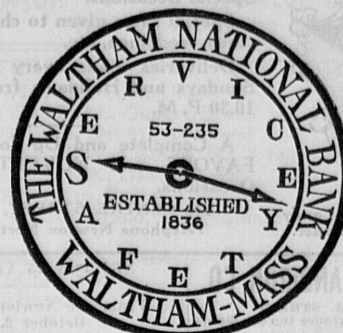

The percentage for the whole state is 4.7.

PERFECTION
Oil Heaters

Ask your dealer about the $5,000.00
Perfection Heater Contest

AUTUMN days are here, and with them chilly nights and mornings. Take the chill out of the house by using a Perfection Oil Heater.

It will provide heat exactly where and when you want it—in the bathroom and breakfast room in the morning, in the living room or sleeping room at night.

A Perfection Heater postpones the day when really cold weather compels you to light the furnace, and even then it will be found a great comfort and convenience as an auxiliary heater, when the furnace fire is low, or some room is particularly exposed to a wintry gale.

You will find, too, many extra uses for this portable Heater, such as heating shaving water or baby's milk, drying wet clothes, etc.

The Perfection Oil Heater is handsome, compact and durable, and much cheaper in operation than coal. Millions in use today.

Hardware, housefurnishing and department stores sell Perfection Heaters.

Ask your dealer to show you one, and explain its construction and smokeless wick adjustment feature.

For best results use Socony Kerosene.

But the Home Paper Told It!

"Wasn't it fine about Priscilla getting honors in her school work last term?" said Mrs. Smith to Mrs. Brown. "What?" asked Mrs. Brown. "I didn't know about it."

"But it was in the Home Town Paper," replied Mrs. Smith. "Don't you take it?" "No," said Mrs. Brown, "but I am going to."

And she did, for this is a true story.

As much a part of the community life as is the school or church is the Home Town Paper.

Strong for Home Paper

"No, I don't take the local paper any more," one farmer said to another as they were waiting at the creamery to unload their milk.

They had just been looking at a poster advertising "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week, November 7-12."

"I take a daily paper, and that's about all I need. It has a few items every week from our community, and I feel that I save two dollars a year by not subscribing to the home paper."

"Well, that's one way to look at it," said the other farmer, "but I've always felt that a local newspaper was a pretty valuable asset to any community, and if everybody took the attitude you do, there couldn't be any local newspaper. Of course we could not get along without our daily papers, because they keep us informed about what's going on throughout the nation and throughout the world, but when you say that they take care of our local news, I don't think you are sticking close to facts. They simply can't, and the publishers haven't any personal interest in our community the way our editor has."

"I have always felt that I got value received for every dollar I've paid out in subscriptions to the local paper, and I don't have an idea that running a country newspaper is any more of a wealth-producing proposition than running a farm. So long as I've got two dollars I intend that the rural mail carrier is going to take a copy of the home paper in my box every week."

That farmer knows that the community newspaper is a necessity in his home; that without it his home would be incomplete and his part in the community would be unsatisfactory to himself and his family. He knows the full value of the local newspaper as an institution.

A Community Servant.

The local newspaper is the servant of the community in which it is published, but to be a good and efficient servant it must be fed by the people it serves. It is an institution of the town quite as much as are the schools and the churches, and quite as much entitled to support.

A Necessary Luxury.

The town newspaper is both a luxury and one of the family necessities.

NEWTON VS. MEDFORD

Our Special Correspondent Forecasts the Football Game for Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon will be a big day in the annals of Newton football history, when Medford High, rated as one of the crack teams of the 1921 gridiron season, invades Clafin Field for the annual clash with the Orange and Black. The game should be an ace for excitement and the new stands now adorning Clafin Field will probably be taxed to the limit.

We pick Newton to win. We realize that Medford has a powerful eleven and we know full well that Coach Mansfield's crew is coming to Newtonville with a single slogan—Beat Newton! The accomplishment of that slogan is going to be much more difficult to bring about than some people think. We hold that the Newton line is the stronger of the two, and in so claiming we are certainly handing the home team a bit of a compliment, because the Medford line is rated exceptionally high and is especially noted for its strong defensive play. But be that as it may, we are ready to stake our hopes on the Orange and Black line and we truly think that it will be the deciding factor in the great battle of tomorrow afternoon.

Neither eleven has an offensive that is strong enough to get terribly enthused over, but it is our opinion that the Medford backfield is not quite the equal of the Newton quartet. Capt. Jake Stafford and Herb Garrity will be the men Newton will rely on to place the old pigskin behind the Medford goal line, and if you should ask us we'd say they are fully capable of doing it. Capt. Stafford is the best field general in scholastic circles; in fact we even go so far as to say that he is the best quarterback Newton has had for several years. To date Newton has displayed more midseason football than Coach Mansfield's team, and unless the visitors exhibit a much stronger offensive than they have been showing in the first few games, it looks as if Sunday morning will see Newton at the top of the Suburban League, in a tie with either Malden or Cambridge Latin, depending entirely on which one of those two elevens prevail in tomorrow's skirmish at Cambridge. There are some folks we know who feel sure that Newton's game with Medford is going to result in a tie. We don't think so. Take your choice.

And now we'll say a word about that slaughter in Somerville last Saturday, when the Newton team ran wild and piled up 41 points to the Red and Blue's nothing. It was the worst beating a Somerville team has ever received. Since that game certain Newton football fans have been showering praises on the Orange and Black eleven and have given the impression that the Newton team is unbeatable. Such compliments, although they are extended in perfect good faith, mean little or nothing to one who follows the grid game closely. Somerville had a bad day last Saturday, a very bad day indeed, and while we know that the Red and Blue could never hope to match Newton this season, we do say that Somerville is not nearly so weak as it appeared last week and that some teams are going to be disagreeably surprised if they go to Somerville under that assumption. Let Somerville settle the coaching question once and for all and things ought to go along more smoothly for the Red and Blue. They certainly have the material.

While the Dickinsonians are trying to take the measure of Medford over on Lowell avenue, there will be another great battle in progress down at Russell Field, Cambridge. Malden, the team that is getting so much publicity this year, will be matching strides with the clever Cambridge Latin outfit. It is another case of where two undefeated elevens will try to spoil each other's record, and if you want our opinion we'd say to place your faith in the Cantabrigians.

The place for every Newton sport lover tomorrow is at Clafin Field. The 1921 Newton eleven is well worth supporting, and those "wet towel" artists who seem to think the home team has no chance to capture the Suburban title again this fall may change their minds after tomorrow's game.

Inspector John H. Shaughnessy was elected a member of the executive committee of the annual meeting this week of the Massachusetts Police Association.

John Hamilton, who was captured a short time ago while entering the Suburban house of James F. Toomey on Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre, was sentenced yesterday at East Cambridge to 12 to 15 years in the State prison.

POLICE NOTES

UNION BAZAAR

Don't you want an apron? You certainly will when you see Mrs. Wallace's table at the Bazaar. She has five hundred aprons waiting to please your fancy—an apron for every occasion. There are the practical ginghams and percales, bungalow aprons that are warranted to protect absolutely any gown, trim white aprons for my lady's maid, dainty tea-aprons, fascinating chafing-dish aprons, gorgeous cretonne garden aprons, rivaling the dahlias themselves in color. Whatever happens, don't fail to see the quaint Polly Primms and the novel Auburndale house dresses. When you catch sight of your neighbor's you will be a long time forgiving yourself, if you have let the chance slip of securing one. Everything will be moderately priced and there will be no "mark-downs" at the end of the sale, so the early comers will have in every way the advantage. Besides, Mrs. Wallace will be glad to receive dusters, dusting caps, duster bags, and slipper bags for her table. Her address is 36 Vernon street.

The linen closet is also a spot which you will find hard to leave. It is just crowded with Christmas suggestions. You will find at least five hundred articles here from which to make your selection. They are warranted to fit everybody's pocket-book, for they vary in price from fifty cents to thirty dollars. You must see that thirty-dollar luncheon set. It's worth it. There are less expensive luncheon-sets, too, artistic table runners, scarfs, pillow slips, towels of every description, dainty collar and cuff sets, bags to meet every need, and such a fascinating array of handkerchiefs. You surely can't resist the charms of this table, which Mrs. Charles Peterson and her committee have worked so hard to make fill your needs.

Before you leave the hall take a peep upstairs into the children's department. Mrs. Bell is the presiding genius here who, by the wave of her wand, has made the marvellous appear. Were there ever such dolls as those adorable babies on the doll table? They are so real that you are sure they are just about to coo. They are surprisingly inexpensive, too, so that no wee girls need go home without a treasure.

There is a marvellous "grab" which Mrs. Murray is supervising. You must come to see it yourself, for it is to

APPOINTED SPECIAL JUSTICE

For the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. Frank M. Copeland as a Special Justice of the Newton Police Court, Gov. Cox has nominated Hon. Thomas Weston, Jr., of West Newton, a choice which is certainly to be approved by the Governor's Council next Wednesday.

Mr. Weston was born in this city August 12, 1875, and was educated in the Newton Schools and Harvard College where he received the degree of A. B. in 1895. In 1899 he received the degree of LL.B. from the Harvard Law School and began active practice of law in Boston. He was elected a member of the board of aldermen from West Newton in 1904 and held that office for 6 years, being president of the board in 1908 and 1909. He was elected a member of the House of Representatives from Newton for the years 1915, 1916, 1917 and 1918 and to the Massachusetts Senate in 1919 and 1920. He is a Mason and an Elk. Mr. Weston is married and resides with his family on Fountain street, West Newton.

AUTOMOBILE CLASS

A state class in gasoline automobiles, to be organized at the Vocational School, Newtonville, by the state division of university extension, will meet on Tuesday evening, October 25, at 7.30. The course, which consists of ten lectures on automobile operation and maintenance, is designated particularly for owners and operators and is said to be one of the most popular courses offered in Massachusetts under the university extension plan. Last year more than 1500 men and women in various parts of the State enrolled in similar classes. Those engaged in class organizations predict a large enrollment from the Newtons.

Class membership is open to any resident of the State, and only a nominal charge is made for enrollment including the cost of a textbook. Enrollment may be made next Tuesday evening. Among the subjects studied are engines, transmission systems, carburetors, lubrication, methods of cooling, batteries, magnetos, starting and lighting systems, and common troubles and their remedies. Emphasis will be laid on the economical running and care of gasoline cars.

The State has secured the services of Mr. Smalley, a recognized automobile expert, to conduct the class. Application blanks and information will be furnished through the office of Mr. Murray at the Vocational School.

All that artificial dignity ever draws is a laugh.

BOY SCOUTS

The regular October meeting of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, was held at the Newton Club on Tuesday evening. The Scout Executive, Mr. Wm. B. Sharratt, made a report dealing with the progress made since the last Council Meeting held in May. Among other things he said, "The prospects for new troops in Norumbega District are better this year than last." He notices a growing desire upon the part of scouts to make advancement in Scouting. Several scouts at the present time are working for the rank of Eagle Scout, the highest rank a scout can attain.

He reported the approval of New York Headquarters to the affiliation of Watertown with the Council and was enthusiastic over the prospects of developing a fine type of scouts under the direction of the various churches of that town.

Plans were presented for the season which foretell a fine program for all scouts under the Council. The first big council event occurred in Cabot Woods on October 11, when nearly 200 scouts gathered around a Council Fire. The next will be a Swimming Meet to be held in the Y. M. C. A. tank, on Wednesday evening, November 30. In December two big events will occur, the Second Swimming Meet and the coming of Dan Beard, National Commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America. Dan Beard is probably the oldest Scout of the American Movement and everyone, old and young will miss a real treat if they miss hearing him. In January the Final Swimming Meeting will take place, at which time a Silver Shield will be given to the winning troop, and coveted First, Second, and Third place honors to individual scouts. February is the scout's big month. A large Indoor Scout Exhibition and Rally will be held. It will be a real "hum-dinger" of a Scout time. In March the scouts will try out their athletics in an indoor Field Meet. April will see the whole council, both scouts and officers, on a hike to Norumbega Camp in the Ohio Region. May will see the great Out-Door Spring Rally and Contest for the Irwin Silver Cup and individual honors. June, just before the season closes, a large Council Fire will be planned for Watertown. July and August will be given over to Summer Camping.

This program of Council events will be supplemented by Troop events and every boy who becomes an active scout will be entitled to enjoy all these scout good times. Watch the papers and keep the dates free for these events. Beginning with November 1st a big

TAX RATE EXPLAINED

Chairman of Assessors Informs the Aldermen in Regard to the Estimated Receipts for 1921

The principal matter of business before the aldermen on Monday evening was the statement of Mr. Henry Baily, chairman of the assessors, in regard to the manner in which the tax rate for the present year had been made up. Mr. Baily appeared before the board in accordance with a formal request made at a previous meeting. Alderman Nichols asked Mr. Baily why his board had used every cent of the actual receipts of 1920 as an estimate of what would be the receipts for 1921, whereas in previous years, the assessors had used only a major portion of the actual receipts of the previous year as the estimate of the current year. Mr. Baily began with an extended explanation to the effect that while the assessing department was an executive department, the city clerk, city treasurer and the accounting departments were under the direct control of the aldermen. He then stated that the assessors had taken the statement of receipts sent them by the Comptroller of Accounts for this year, just as they had done in previous years. In other words the Assessors had done nothing different this year, but had accepted the statement of the Comptroller. They were not responsible, if the previous Comptroller had not certified all the receipts to them, as the present Comptroller had done.

Mr. Baily then went on to say that the information the Assessors had showed that the actual receipts as stated by the Comptroller were not what they should be. The income tax of previous years was some $15,000 more than stated and the corporation tax was some $10,000 more. Mr. Baily said that in 1917, 1918 and 1919, the aldermen had helped out the tax rate by contributions from the Excess and Deficiency account, something which was not done in 1920 or 1921. That account he said, was understood to be now in the vicinity of $245,000, although it might be called a supply account or something else. Alderman Nichols interposed to say here that according to figures given by the Comptroller the Excess and Deficiency account on October 1, was about $19,000.

In answer to various questions by members of the board Mr. Baily predicted that as the banks were evidently prosperous he did not believe the national bank tax would be affected. They had had no notice from the State House that the estimate of the corporation tax should be reduced one third. He believed the deferred income tax receipts would be a factor, for while there had been 9 and 10 distributions of the taxes in 1917 and 1918, there had been but 5 distributions each of the income tax of 1919 and 1920.

In conclusion Mr. Baily suggested that in the future the Comptroller's figures of the receipts of the previous year, as certified to the assessors should be accompanied by a recommendation by the Finance committee as to the amount the assessors should use in fixing the tax rate.

President Harriman presided and all the members but Alderman Cook being present.

No one appeared at hearings on petition for Edison and Telephone poles on Holly Road, on telephone poles on Newbury street and on petition of John J. Quirk to sell gasoline at 329 Watertown street and these petitions were granted. A hearing was also held on petition Herbert Swanson for a 14-car automobile repair shop at 1174 Beacon street.

Mr. E. B. Stratton asked that early action might be taken on the proposed widening of Beacon street at Waban railroad bridge.

Mayor Childs asked for $425 to connect the portable school rooms at the Davis school with sewer and water, for $551 for a new cement walk at Nye park and $4000 additional for Sewer House Connections. His recommendations for $1049 for additional heating at the Classical and Technical High schools, and for an issue of $15,000 school loan to pay land damages for land taken on Walnut Crafts streets, were immediately granted.

The Mayor also recommended that former Comptroller John Daboll be reimbursed for $1937.75 paid by him for work in his office and resuscitated the long interred claim of the estate of David Neagle for two years' pay as a police officer.

The board disapproved the application for a bill board on Watertown street, Nonantum.

Street Commissioner Stuart reported the cost of curbing on Chapel street as $2305.54.

These petitions were granted, John Wooden, for taxi cab license, Edison & Telephone pole locations on Grove street, Morton street and Brook street, Edison attachments on Upland road, Telephone relocations on Madison avenue, private garages to F. M. Bal-

The Newton Trust Company

Newton is a State of Mind. What it is, is what we have made it. What it can be is what we will it to be.

If its people send their trade to, bank their money in, and support the activities of neighboring cities Newton cannot hope to be more than second class.

If its people talk Newton, think Newton, boost Newton; trade at home, bank at home, and support home industries, schools and activities—then no City can surpass Newton.

The Newton Trust Company is making every effort to help and be of service to every family in Newton, and to stimulate that spirit which prompts Newton people to place their money in Newton banks where it will be used to support the homes and industries of our City.

There is no bank outside of Newton that can do more for you than the Newton Trust Company can do.

We are at present serving over 15000 customers and we invite every resident in Newton to make use of our various departments.

drive for scouts will be made by all troops in the Council. Every boy should have the opportunity of Scouting. Scout leaders are needed for these scouts. If you are twenty-one or over and wish to volunteer your services to the development of real boys into real men, telephone Newton North 3550, or either call or write the Executive Scout Headquarters, 277 Washington Street, Newton. Boys wishing to become scouts may obtain application blanks at Headquarters.

The following men were elected to membership in the Council: Mr. Elsie Spear, Jr., Newton Centre; Mr. Harvey Lucas, Mr. Walter B. Putnam, and Rev. H. M. B. Ogilby, all of Watertown. Mr. Guy Small was elected Deputy Commissioner for Watertown.

The general outlook for the Boy Scout Movement in Norumbega District is very encouraging. The mark of 500 scouts in Newton is almost within reach, out-standing men are greatly interested in the work, and the enthusiasm of all scout officials is alone surpassed by that of the scouts. With this spirit existing the citizens of Newton, Watertown, Wellesley and Weston will rally around the boys and make Scouting a vital part of boy activity.

DEATH OF MRS. LIBBEY

Mrs. Mary E. Libbey, wife of Alvah A. Libbey, died suddenly at her home, 14 Parsons street, West Newton, on Monday in her 75th year. Mrs. Libbey is the daughter of Capt. Joseph and Mary C. Alexander, formerly of Goshen, Me. Mrs. Libbey was born in Brunswick, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. Libbey were married in 1873 and lived for a time in Boston, later in Billerica, and in 1886 they came to West Newton, where they have lived ever since. Mrs. Libbey was an active worker in the First Unitarian Church of West Newton.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three children: Joseph Harold Libbey of West Newton, Commander Miles Augustus Libbey of the United States Navy, and Henry Alexander Libbey of Waban.

Services were held at her late residence on Wednesday, Rev. Richard T. Loring, and Mr. Sanderson, a friend of the family, officiating. The burial was in Newton Cemetery.

BEATS MARY'S FAMOUS LAMB

Woolly Lawn Mower Proved of Practical Value to Cincinnati Man During Hot Spell.

Louis Goecke, better known as "Pat" in amateur circles, was mowing the grass on the lawn of his home in Cincinnati recently. In the course of the work he was cutting alongside a hedge with a pair of clippers.

"Ba-a-a," came from the other side of the hedge.

Goecke looked up. A neighbor was sitting on the porch reading. Goecke resumed his clipping.

"Ba-a-a!" sounded again.

Goecke straightened up and shot fierce glances at his neighbor. But the latter's face was concealed back of the newspaper.

The clipping proceeded, and then again came "Ba-a-a!"

Finally Goecke threw down his clippers, stepped to the neighbor's porch, and said:

"Are you guying me?"

The other looked up with surprise.

"Guying you? Why, no! What makes you think so?"

"Well, stop that 'ba-a-ing!'" Goecke said.

"Oh, that's it. I'll show you what that is," and the neighbor went back among the bushes and pulled out a lamb.

"I bought it yesterday," he explained.

Immediately Goecke was seized with an idea. "Lend it to me, will you?" he asked. The neighbor was obliging. The lamb finished the grass cutting job, and Goecke enjoyed the cool and quiet of a shady nook on his porch.

GREATEST IN PLAINS STATES

Matter of Farm Risks Established by Records Kept by the Department of Agriculture.

Risks in the production of three great staple crops—corn, wheat and oats—are greatest in the plains states, extending from Texas to North Dakota. This general fact is established by the average deviation of the yield per acre from the average yield, computed by the bureau of crop estimates, Department of Agriculture, for these three crops for each state from the records of 50 years.

On the other hand, the North Atlantic and the western states are regions of comparatively low risk, or deviation of yield per acre from the average, for wheat and oats, and the entire Atlantic coast and the west for corn.

The great corn belt, with its enormous production and surplus above local consumption, is, after all, prominently subject to risks of weather, insects and disease in the production of crops, and, while it would be going too far to say of this region as a whole that the results of its agriculture are either "a feast or a famine," yet there is a tendency in this direction as the area covered by the average becomes more restricted to county, township and individual farm.

Defense, Then Prosecution Rests.

Mr. Shanigan inserted his key quietly; walked softly, undressed silently and crept into bed.

All his precautions were in vain. Mrs. Shanigan had been awake listening and waiting for him. She told him she supposed he had been working at the office again; that she did not believe that story or any other he had ever told her; that she did not have to put up with him; that she could have a career; that even now the committee was waiting to see if he would accept the nomination for mayor; that she had been warned against him; that she was not now the foolish sentimental girl she was when she married him, and then a deep snore showed that—

The defense rested.

Now everyone knows the prosecution should rest first; so Mrs. Shanigan jabbed Mr. Shanigan with her elbow; shook him; fussed, fumed, scolded and wept; but it was no use. He slept on, soundly.

The prosecution also rested.—Katherine Negley, in Judge.

Primitive People.

The natives of St. Hilda, in the Hebrides, have decided to abandon a quaint custom which they have followed for more than a century, of electing their own queen. Hereafter they will take the natural descendant. They have deposed Queen Margot and will recognize Mary as their sovereign. This news comes as the first communication from the island since last September and was brought to London by a vessel which delivered census papers at the island. The natives there speak only Gaelic, but the census papers were printed in English. Otherwise the chief happenings on the island include an influenza epidemic, which caused many deaths. Persons aboard the ship who could converse with the natives said the chief question on the island was whether the war had broken out again.

Ferryboat Pavilion.

As a fitting complement to a swimming pool built on a Connecticut estate recently, a ferryboat pavilion has been erected, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. This boat has all the fittings of a regular craft of its type, being equipped above with a lifeboat, life preservers, funnel and pilot house. The cabin is a spacious dance floor, where diversion from the swimming sport may be indulged in. The swimming pool forms a forward deck for the ferry, and is surrounded by a sidewalk set with benches and chairs.

MISTRESS OF HIGH FINANCE

One Feels That Indianapolis Woman's Abilities Are Almost Wasted in 'the Home.'

Some wives are real business women and their husbands are the only ones who do not know it. But Indianapolis holds one who recently proved her business ability to her husband. Now, she had, ever since their marriage, charged things and he had paid the bills, but when he learned that her charges were growing weekly he decided to try a new plan. He went to her. "Now, Elmer," he said, "I'm going to try a new plan. Half of my salary is yours and half mine. We'll each spend just what is necessary and see which can have the most money in the bank at the end of the year."

Delightedly the wife agreed. At the end of the first month she announced her bank balance and her husband was delighted at its size. The next month it was still larger and he was more delighted. But when the third month brought the statement that she had saved more than her half of the money his pleasure knew no bounds. Half fearfully he went after his own statement. What would he do if her bank account now was higher than his—the man who prided himself on his economy?

Then he found that he had no balance. First horror, then amazement and then something indescribable followed his discovery for that condition of affairs existing. His wife had diligently drawn out his savings (they had a double checking account) and applied them to the next month's expenses and saved her own share.—Indianapolis News.

SONG SLOW TO WIN FAVOR

But "Tipperary" Will Be Dear to Irish Hearts for Many Generations to Come.

"It's a Long Way to Tipperary" was written in 1911 by Jack Judge, a singer in the English music halls and of pure Irish blood. A friend, Harry Williams, assisted him in the work; but virtually words and music are Mr. Judge's own. He carried the manuscript from publisher to publisher without success, until in 1912 he tried the London house of B. Feldman & Co. Bert Feldman liked the piece and was willing to publish it if Mr. Judge would agree to certain minor changes. One was the repetition of the word "long" and another was the lengthening of the third syllable of the word "Tipperary"—both toward the end of the chorus. Mr. Judge consented and the song was published, as it also had been written, with not a thought that it would become, two years later, a marching song of soldiers in a great war, and so known wherever English is "said" or "sung." At first the song had only a slight sale. But Mr. Feldman kept his confidence, and, as the story goes, one day when the composer was deploring the cool reception of the piece at Edinburgh, the publisher said to him: "Take my word for it, that not only Edinburgh but all the world will one day sing with your song."

And it did. "Tipperary" will never be forgotten by the English. It has an inner meaning dear to them.

The Divine Sarah Bernhardt.

Among the many distinctions of the Divine Sarah is that of having impersonated death more frequently than any other artist on record. Some years ago a devotee calculated the number of death scenes in which Madame Bernhardt had played, and computed that her deaths by self-administered poison numbered over 10,000, her leaps into a scenic Seine over 7,000, and her suicides by revolver shots over 5,000. The realism of her acting in such scenes utterly overwhelmed the Sultan, Abdul Hamid. Once, and once only did she play before him in the private theater at Constantinople, when he left his seat and declared he never again wished to see a woman who imitated death so realistically.

Forgot the Rules.

A Greek who had been in this country four years and heard many stories about hunting rabbits, decided he wished to go hunting. He found an American who would take him. The Greek thought it great sport. He played dog and "scared" out the rabbits and the American boy shot them. After a while the Greek wished to try his luck at shooting, so the American showed him how to handle the shotgun.

They scared up a rabbit; the Greek put the gun to his shoulder, but did not shoot.

The American exclaimed: "Why don't you shoot?"

The Greek replied: "I forgot which eye you have to squeeze."

Rope and Telephone Wires.

Rope from ships that have sailed the seven seas—that has been tied to every port in the world—ends its career by guarding the nation's telephone conversation.

From junk rope is made the high grade of paper which insulates every wire in a piece of telephone cable. Over 13,000,000 pounds of old rope were fed to the giant vats which tore, cooked, washed and beat into a pulp the makings of 7,000,000 pounds of cable paper used by the Bell Telephone system last year.

HOLDS OPEN HOUSE

The new Charles River Country Club held open house Saturday afternoon at clubhouse, 482 Dedham street, Oak Hill. Several hundred members and friends inspected the club's spacious quarters and went over the new golf links.

Officers of the club and members of the board of governors were on hand to go over the 18-hole course and point out its unique features. There are more than 3 1/2 miles of fairways, much of which was cut through dense woods and underbrush. The course is resplendent with Autumn foliage, and this added to the pleasure of those who tramped over the course.

The decorations in the clubhouse were in keeping with the season, and tea was served by the ladies of the club. There was music and dancing also. The house committee consists of Alfred E. Alvord, chairman; E. S. Childs, A. P. Underhill, E. B. Stratton and Robert Reynolds.

CITY OF NEWTON

PUBLIC BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT

Proposals for the Erection of a Schoolhouse

The Public Buildings Department of the City of Newton invites proposals for the erection of a proposed new schoolhouse in that part of Newton called Newtonville, on land located between Walnut and Crafts streets, Newtonville, in accordance with contract, specifications and plans, copies of which may be obtained at the Office of the Architects, Brainerd, Leeds & Kellogg, 89 Franklin St., Boston, Mass., on and after Wednesday the 26th of October for the General Contract, and on and after November 2nd for the Plumbing, Heating and Electric. Plans and specifications will be loaned on deposit of $10.00 which deposit will be refunded on return of plans. The bidders must use the form of proposal to be obtained at the above office, and the successful bidder must furnish a bond in a form satisfactory to the City (copies to be had from the Architects) in a sum equal to fifty (50%) per cent of the contract price with a Surety Company authorized to do business in Massachusetts as surety to secure the due performance of the contract and full protection for the City. Proposals will be received by the Public Buildings Commissioner at his Office until 2.30 P. M. Nov. 9, 1921, City Hall, West Newton, at which time and place all bids will be opened and publicly read.

All proposals must be accompanied by a certified check upon a National Bank or Trust Company doing business in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for the sum of five thousand ($5,000) dollars for the general contract, one thousand ($1,000) dollars for the heating contract, five hundred ($500) dollars for the plumbing contract, and five hundred ($500) dollars for the electric contract, payable to, and to become the property of the City of Newton if the proposal which it accompanies is accepted and the bidder neglects or refuses to comply with the terms of the proposal and to execute the contract and furnish the bond required by this invitation within ten (10) days notice to him or it in writing that his or its proposal has been accepted.

The competency and reliability of bidders and of their proposed sub-contractors will be considered in making the award. The City does not obligate itself to accept the lowest or any other bid and any contract made will be subject to appropriations and grants to meet payments thereunder.—Advertisement.

KNOW ART OF CONTENTMENT

Cats Set Excellent Example to the Restless Men and Women of the Present Day.

The treasures in the Egyptian section of the British museum were a source of great interest to the crown prince of Japan during his visit to London. These rooms are special favorites of the public, and for the children the Egyptian cats have a special fascination. Curious-looking things they are but they are cats even if their type is not of the type of the present day.

The Egyptians looked upon the cat as the very symbol of contentment, and all who know a hearth where a cat sits before the fire will agree with them, and since contentment is a good thing, the cat should be in demand at the present time. Madam Puss certainly sets an example of making the best of things. In a London drawing-room a workwoman was left alone to fit some chintz covers on the chairs. When she was going she looked at a cat on the rug by the fire, and said, "It is a very friendly cat; it did not at all resent me being here."

The mistress of the house glanced at the cat and replied, "I am glad it gave you a welcome, but as a matter of fact it is as much a stranger as you are. I have never seen it before. It must belong to some people who have recently left the neighborhood, and as there is no fire to sit by at present in its own home, it contentedly goes to the next place where it finds one, and not only makes itself at home but evidently makes other people feel at home, too."—Christian Science Monitor.

BOYS PROVED THEIR HONESTY

Small New York News Vendors "Made Good" Without Having Given Promissory Notes.

One of the great New York newspapers pays an astonishing tribute to the young merchants who sell its wares upon the streets. This newspaper, like practically every other, printed an "extra" after the big Jersey City prize fight. When the papers arrived at Times square the young man whose business it was to sell them to the newsboys, taking their cash in return, found himself overwhelmed by an eager flock of youngsters who grabbed the papers as fast as he could open the bundles and raced away to dispose of them without going through the usual formality of paying for their stock.

Many a boy could have kept all the money he received as profit and neglected to pay for his papers, but, so the paper declares, as soon as the storm of selling was over the boys returned to the neighborhood and settled, until the cash turned in was exactly what it should have been for the number of papers sent out from the office of publication.

That was only ordinary honesty, it is true, but a kind of honesty met with seldom enough to be uncommon. Yet it would be expected by those who are familiar with newsboys. The newsboy doesn't expect to be cheated, and he certainly doesn't intend to cheat anybody. More power to him. —Hartford Times.

Settling a Complicated Question.

One of the queerest requests that has reached state officials for several months is a petition signed by eight beekeepers at Kale, Mo., asking that owners of a sorghum mill near by be requested to screen the mill so as to prevent great loss to the petitioners because of the death of their bees after visiting the mill. After a long and tortuous journey through federal and state boards, the petition finally reached the board of agriculture, and Jewell Mayes replied that after a careful search of the statutes he believes the beekeepers have no recourse at law, but are liable themselves under the statutes prohibiting trespassing. —Jefferson City correspondence Sedalia Capital.

Stripping Hemp by Machinery.

Many hemp-stripping machines of a simple type are in operation on the hemp plantations of the Davao gulf region of Mindanao, and two three-horsepower oil engines connected with sets of four stripping machines each have recently been installed in that region. The machines pull the hemp over a knife in much the same manner that it is cleaned by hand. They are comparatively inexpensive and are operated by one man. With the aid of one of the machines one worker can strip a picul (about 140 pounds) of fiber in a day, which would be a large amount of work for one week if done by hand.

Who Owns a Glacier?

When the retreat of a glacier leaves a piece of ground uncovered, whose is it? The state's, says the law of France and of Italy. The canton's, says the general law of Switzerland. But in the Grisons the commune is held to own both the glacier and the ground it covers, so that a body like a parish council often possesses some millions of tons of good blue ice. —Manchester Guardian.

How Shall They Park?

Akron, O., recently, by ordinance, eliminated all angular automobile parking, with the result that accidents have been cut 25 per cent in downtown sections and street car service has been improved. In Buffalo practically all parking has been changed from the parallel method to the perpendicular, which allows three cars to park where one formerly did.

SCHOOL NOTES

HIGH SCHOOL

The Senior class of the Technical High School recently held their annual meeting in which the class officers were elected. This year in particular the interest was exceedingly keen. The results were: president, Martin A. Hines; vice-president, Ethel Miller; treasurer, James Ganley; secretary, Blanche Murphy.

The election was held in true political style with Mr. Horace Kidger presiding.

The Juniors of the Classical High School held a meeting in the Assembly Hall on Tuesday, October 18th, to elect members for the 'Student Council.' They also formed a dance committee.

Members of the Glee Club met in the Assembly Hall on Wednesday, October 19th, for a rehearsal.

"Good English" week will be observed all over the country from November 7-11, and the Newton High School has prepared an elaborate program.

This year they will emphasize oral English more than the omission of slang, etc., of recent years. Enunciation, pronunciation and the beauty of English will be demonstrated by fifteen pupils who will give three-minute speeches to the classes during the week. Speakers from outside will also contribute to the program.

As is the custom, the Freshman classes will give a special program and entertainment.

On Wednesday the students of the Technical High School heard Mr. Wm. L. Bates, Headmaster of the Lowell School of Roxbury, give an interesting talk on the activities of the Newton Choral Society, of which he is a member.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

Two classes, the eighth and the seventh, took advantage of the opportunity offered by the New England Telephone Company this week to inspect the workings of the system. The exchange at Newton Centre was visited on Tuesday by the eighth class and on Thursday by the seventh class. The work of the operators, their hours, scale of wages, qualifications, and training were found to be interesting subjects for investigation. Some illustrated subject booklets were brought away to assist the classes in their coming studies, in vocational guidance, of the work of the telephone operator.

Miss Sullivan's class, the eighth, just missed the 100 per cent mark in attendance last week. One tardy mark was the only flaw in the record during the week.

The lesson on Wednesday in vocational guidance in Miss Dow's class took the form of a debate on the question of fruit farming in New England: "Is Fruit Farming a profitable and desirable occupation to engage in?" Esther Vana, Newton Hanscom, and Mildred Marcy argued in favor of the occupation, while Thomas McDaniel, Frances Warren, and Richard Walsh spoke against it. John Fontannay presided over the debate.

Miss A. E. Jones has been obliged to give up her work temporarily, on account of illness in her home. Mrs. Willard A. Marcy, a former Emerson teacher, is in charge of grade three during her absence.

Principal Jones of Boston visited the primary classes on Wednesday to see speech work.

Hyde School

The children in Miss Sampson's fourth grade enjoyed a twenty-two mile automobile ride around Newton on Tuesday of this week. This trip is taken annually in connection with the study of the geography and history of Newton and is made possible through the generosity of the parents in loaning automobiles.

Tuesday afternoon, October 18, twenty-five children from Vocational Guidance classes went with Mrs. Blake, more to visit the Telephone Office in Newton Centre. The chief operator assisted by the clerk gave a demonstration and explanation of the various operations necessary to complete a telephone call.

The championship shield won by the baseball team of last Spring has recently been presented to the Hyde School by the Playground Department and is now hung in a conspicuous place in the upper corridor.

The eighth grades of the Hyde School met Tuesday morning and elected the following officers: Philip Lingham, president; Granger Hapgood, vice-president; Kathryn Smith, secretary; Dorothy Goddard, treasurer.

Miss Green's class (grade 5) proudly reports no tardy marks this year.

Burr School

The lectures by Earl Barnes are to begin Nov. 8th.

Fifteen members of the 8th grade, with Miss Higgins, visited the telephone exchange in West Newton on Monday. They had a very interesting hour. The rest of the eighth grade hope to make the same trip next week.

The 8th grade girls have entertained their teachers in their cooking class.

"The Echo" will be on sale the first of next week. A better magazine than ever before is offered.

Milk served out of doors does taste better than when served indoors. The 7th and 8th grade boys and girls are buying much more milk this year than last.

In arithmetic our 8th grades are considering the taxes of Newton, how the rate is established, etc., from actual figures found in the Report of the Board of Assessors.

Mr. Harold Cook addressed the Burr School this morning on the subject, "Forestry." He illustrated his lecture with lantern slides. This talk is in connection with the Science and Vocational Guidance work.

The Mothers' Club held a very successful whist party in the hall of the Stearns School on Monday evening, Oct. 17th. In addition to the prizes given by the mothers, contributions were given by the Nonantum Market, Perlmutter and Dane, Kendrick & Co., Fox Drug Co., and E. H. Mahoney. Ice cream and cake were for sale and the proceeds will be used for the year's expenses.

Initiation night was held Tuesday, Oct. 18th, by the Senior Girls' Club of Newton. Fourteen new members were initiated and "rode the goal" according to the council's directions. A registration for a home nursing class was taken, instructions to begin Monday, Oct. 24th.

The teachers of the Stearns School have been invited to spend the weekend at Sandwich, Mass., as guests of Miss Isabelle Swann.

The school football team had a walk-away match with the eleven representing Peirce on West Newton Common, Thursday afternoon, winning decisively by the score of 72-0. Bernard Lyman at quarter again starred for Lyman, making six long runs, resulting in touchdowns each time.

Conzi, at full back, proved his mettle also, scoring four times, gaining the Peirce line as well. He also was a power on the defense, breaking thru on the Peirce backs before they were started, time and time again, for losses.

De Luca and Rufo, guards, Russo and Morrell, half-backs, also shone brilliantly. The team has a large squad and is playing consistently. The members of the squad are: Backs, Russo, Conzo, Morrell; ends, De Luca, Rufo, Coyne, Slamin, Mackin, J. Lyman; quarterback, B. Lyman; tackles, Lanni, Ciambelli, Lombardi; guards, Curteau, Lilan, Marino, Binks; Reuben, Rufo, Cardelli; centre, Terreo.

Lasell

Rev. H. Grant Person of the Elliot Church, Newton, had charge of the vesper services on Sunday evening.

Miss Katherine Howe of Helena, Arkansas, has been chosen captain of the very popular this fall, many going out for practice. The team has just been made up and is to play its first outdoor game on Friday with Lexington High, the game taking place on the Woodland grounds.

A sail to Nantasket was taken by a number of girls on Saturday afternoon. A picnic supper was served on the beach, the party returning home by moonlight.

Fannette Darling of Worcester enrolled in the Woodland Park School this past week.

Bigelow School

On the afternoon of October 9 the one-act play entitled "The Truth About Jane" was given in the Assembly Hall by the following girls from Miss Nixon's class: Virginia Stokes, Virginia Spurrier, Dorothy Barba, Louise McGuire, Elizabeth Schofield, Florence Stickel, and Miriam Hayes.

Both Miss Dyer's and Mr. Lane's divisions of Eighth grade, Miss Searle's and Miss Nixon's divisions of Seventh, and Miss Tewksbury's class had an average attendance of more than 98% for the first four weeks of the School Year.

The Eighth grade boys have two strong basketball teams. The seventh grade boys are also organizing for basketball.

A girls' Field Hockey team is to start Saturday.

The school orchestra consists of 5 violins, 2 mandolins, 1 cornet, 1 horn, 2 drums, and the piano. Regular rehearsals are held weekly.

Peirce School

The Peirce School played the Waltham South Grammar School to a 6 to 6 tie at the West Newton playground on Saturday morning. The game came to a sudden termination when Captain Colon of the Waltham team sustained a broken leg which necessitated his removal to the Waltham Hospital. The accident came in a scrimmage when the visiting Captain became caught under several players.

Mason School

The pupils of Grade 8 are having an interesting correspondence with boys and girls of Wrangell, Alaska.

These far-away friends tell of the game and fish found there; of their skill in the use of firearms and also of the climate and occupations.

Letters written also to Montana, Texas, Porto Rico and other parts of our country are a very delightful way of becoming acquainted with the life and industries of remote sections.

The eighth grades accepted an invitation of the Center Newton Telephone Exchange and Wednesday morning visited the rooms. They were greatly interested in watching the speed and accuracy of the workers.

We are now looking forward to a lecture soon to be given by Mr. Rogers on telephones.

Such a visit helps the boys and girls to see the value of speed and accuracy as we teach in the school room.

RICHARDSON—JOHNSON
Miss Lena May Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Johnson of Waban park, Newton, was married on Monday to Mr. J. Guy Richardson of Dorchester. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride by Rev. Charles R. Ross of the Methodist Church, Newtonville.

The bride was gowned in white brocaded satin with a veil caught with orange blossoms, and she wore a necklace of pearls, the gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. The maid of honor, Miss Amy F. Johnson, sister of the bride, wore peach taffeta and carried Ward roses.

The best man was Mr. George Richardson, brother of the groom, and the usher was Mr. Howard C. Thomas of Auburndale.

The house was tastefully decorated with autumn leaves, ferns, and yellow chrysanthemums for the reception which followed the ceremony. Music was furnished by Miss Marguerite Barnes, pianist, Miss Evelyn Barnes, violinist, and Miss Virginia Farmer, cellist.

Mr. Richardson is a veteran of the World War where he served with the 101st Engineers.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MOTOR CORPS

The Sunday School of the West Newton Unitarian Church has organized a Motor Corps for the transportation of its present members and all those wishing to become members who reside in the neighboring villages of Newtonville, Waban and Auburndale. Automobiles will call at the homes of the children every Sunday morning at 9:15 A. M., returning immediately after the close of the Sunday School Service at 10:30 A. M.

The names and addresses of those wishing to avail themselves of this convenience should be sent to Mr. Edmund Ogden, Perkins street, West Newton, Tel. W. N. 455-M.

Additional automobiles are needed and all those who can volunteer for every Sunday or occasional Sundays are requested to communicate with Maynard Hutchinson, 25 Fountain street, West Newton, Tel. W. N. 1318-M.

EDITORIAL

The financial aspects of Mayor Childs' administration ought to interest the taxpayers of this city and a study of the budget recommendations for the past six years will show what the Mayor would have done to the taxpayers had he not been held down by a conservative board of aldermen.

As it might not be considered quite fair to the Mayor to criticize his budget recommendations for his first years in office, we will begin with his third year, that of 1916. In that year, the Mayor and the aldermen were practically agreed, the Mayor recommending $1,698,982 and the aldermen cutting it down by only $1,524. In 1917, the Mayor wanted $1,786,115, the board approving $1,657,616, a difference of over $128,000, saving the taxpayers $1.78 on the rate of that year. In other words, if Mayor Childs had had full authority in 1917, the tax rate would have been $21.58 instead of $19.80. In 1918, the figures were even greater, the Mayor asking for $1,792,054, the board approving but $1,644,300, making a difference of $1.97 on the tax rate of that year. In 1919 was better, the board cutting off $53,242, or 68 cents on the tax rate. In 1920 there was a saving of $90,975 by the board, making a difference of $1.05 in the rate. The present year, 1921, the Mayor asked for $2,628,226 and the board allowed but $2,463,004, making a difference of $1.83 in the tax rate.

In contrast with these large differences between the mayor and the representatives of the tax payers, the board of aldermen, it is interesting to review how mayors and aldermen had worked together in the past. In 1904, under Mayor Weed, the mayor asked for $1,179,517 and the board allowed a slight increase, or $1,181,117. In 1906, under Mayor Warren, the request was for $1,097,604, and the board approved $1,102,009, another slight increase. In 1908, under Mayor Hutchinson, the request was for $1,243,590 and $1,243,982 was granted, while in 1910 under Mayor Hatfield, the recommendation was for $1,276,715 of which $1,249,710 was allowed.

These figures seem to indicate that the mayors of the past have given their budget recommendations far more careful scrutiny than has been done by the chief executive for the last eight years.

There were good reasons why the aldermen did not transfer any money in 1920 and 1921 from the Excess and Deficiency account to help out the tax rates in those years. The municipal finance law, by prohibiting appropriations charged directly to the tax levy, after the tax rate has been declared (usually around August 1st) compels the city to take any additional appropriations after that date from its Excess and Deficiency account, and for the past two years the exact status of that account has been hard to ascertain. With but $19,000 in that account on October 1st, it is going to be hard sledding for the city to pay its expenses to December 31st of the present year.

With the chairman of the assessors stating to the aldermen that he understands that the surplus account of the city is around $245,000 and the statement of the Comptroller of Accounts that the Excess and Deficiency account was about $19,000 on October 1st, it is not to be wondered at that the average taxpayer may be somewhat puzzled. The point of the whole matter lies in confusing the city's surplus, which includes supplies and other inactive assets with the cash balance. Even Mr. Bailey might find it difficult to pay salaries and wages with sewer and drain pipe.

The proposed widening of Jefferson street is most advisable but it will be an expensive undertaking, which the city can ill afford at the present time. The establishment of a building line however, might protect the city from heavy damages when the street is widened in the future.

Governor Cox has made another admirable appointment in the selection of ex-senator Thomas Weston, Jr., of this city as a Special Justice of the Newton Police Court. Mr. Weston has all the qualifications necessary to make an excellent judge.

With the land damages item for school land on Walnut and Crafts streets rising above $35,000, we hope it will be a warning to the city fathers to go slowly on similar lines in the future.

Mayor Childs this year loses one of his former campaign arguments, namely, that he is the young man's candidate. Alderman Rogers is three years his junior.

It costs the city around $140 a day to pay its interest charges on money borrowed in advance of tax payments. You can save money to the city by paying your tax bills promptly.

We wonder if there is any political significance in the resuscitation at this particular time of the ancient and long buried Neagle case, by Mayor Childs?

Auburndale has waited long and rather patiently for its new fire station and full deserves what it is to receive.

DEPOSITORS THE BEST AGENTS

The National Drive for 1,000,000 new savers by May, 1922 in the Mutual Savings Banks of America has resulted in an awakened interest in thrift and saving in the Savings Banks of our City.

The depositors are bringing in their friends and relatives and introducing them as new depositors. This is a most encouraging sign, and proves that the average person who has an account knows its value.

It has also resulted in bringing forth an unexpected number of questions about Savings Banks and their operation.

Very few people know that all the profits in a Savings Bank belong to the depositors, that there are no stockholders to be paid dividends.

Few depositors realize how an account in a Savings Bank can be used as a basis for credit. Almost every day the banks receive requests from depositors to advise some large store of the amount of their deposit so that they can obtain an account with the store. A Savings Bank account is the very best recommendation for credit.

Few people realize how a Savings Bank helps to build up a city by loaning money to build houses, churches, stores and apartments. The Savings Banks of Newton have aided thousands of people to own their own homes and have made three year mortgages at six per cent even when they could have invested the money at higher rates in other securities. More than one half the deposits in the Savings Banks of Newton are invested in first mortgages on real estate. The more depositors in the Savings Banks the more money the banks can loan to develop the City.

MILITARY FUNERAL

Edward L. Sullivan, formerly Private in Company C, 101st Infantry, will be buried with full military honors on Sunday afternoon from the home of his parents, 1322 Centre street, Newton Centre. Sullivan's body reached Newton Centre on Wednesday morning from Hoboken. On Thursday afternoon the body was taken to the State Armory, West Newton, where it laid in state until Friday evening, at which time it will be taken to the Sullivan home. A guard of honor composed of former members of Company C will be on duty day and night over the casket.

Newton Post, American Legion, Company H, 101st Infantry, M. N. G. and the Veterans of Company C will perform escort duty on Sunday at the funeral and interment will be in St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury.

Sullivan was one of the most popular members of the old Newton Company. He enlisted in 1916 for Mexican Border duty, serving with honor in El Paso, Texas, during the summer and fall of that year. When the 5th and 9th Mass. Infantry regiments merged to make up the 101st U. S. Infantry, "Eddie" was transferred to the new organization and sailed for France in September of that year. He met his death in October 1918, during the Argonne drive. He was one of the youngest members of his Company at the time of his death.

ANNUAL BARN FESTIVAL

Over five hundred guests gathered at the Newton Catholic Club on Friday night to participate in the festivities connected with the second annual Barn Party, held under the auspices of the Club. Of this number scores were garbed in costumes varying from the "hayseed" to the Darktown belle and her beau, with others in a novelty effect.

The grand march for the costumed guests started at nine o'clock and the long procession filed gayly around the hall to the laughter of the others. The "parade" was led by "Pinkee" Robblee of West Newton with a cow. The cow was followed by a black and white goat, led by "Joe" Curran, Jr. The goat bore on its back a cloth covering on which was the legend, "Good bye Bock Beer" and it created a sensation from the start. The Village Band came next. The musicians (?) were Alderman Timothy Hickey, John R. Kite and Frank Kane and what they lacked in harmony was more than balanced by their noise. "Joe" Curran, Sr., "dolloed up" as a scarecrow was the next celebrity in line and his costume evoked considerable applause, being so realistic that even the goat had qualms of conscience.

A long line of costumed men and ladies followed in double column. During the march the orchestra played a lively step but the alleged band drowned out the music. Among those who received prizes were "Pinkee" Robblee and his cow, Joseph Curran, Jr. and his goat, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Fogwill, the Band, and Miss Alice Fitzpatrick.

General dancing followed until midnight. During the evening sweet cider, doughnuts, lollypops, cake and ice cream were served and the winners of the prizes created considerable laughter as they received their awards. First prize was a bushel of potatoes, second prize a bushel of green tomatoes and farm produce of every description down to a bunch of celery were numbered in the prizes.

MOST BEAUTIFUL GIRL

Miss Hilda Heglesen of Whitlow road, West Newton, just over the Walnut line, was adjudged the most beautiful girl in Greater Boston at the contest held in conjunction with the dancing party conducted by the famous Danny Duggan at Nutting's-on-the-Charles on Tuesday night. She was picked from several hundred possibilities by a set of five judges, all men from other sections of Greater Boston, including Boston newspaper men. As a reward she was presented with a beautiful diamond ring by Mr. Duggan. Miss Heglesen received an ovation that lasted for several minutes when her name was announced as the winner and she was showered with congratulations by the gathering. She accepted her award modestly and appeared surprised that she should be thus honored.

RED CROSS GIVES ANNUAL BUDGET

$19,361,657 Allotted for Current Program of Relief and Service.

Medical Aid for European Children Will Cost $6,000,000 This Year.

Washington.—Expenditures totalling $19,361,657 for carrying through its program of relief and services in the United States and overseas are outlined in the budget of the American Red Cross for the current fiscal year. This total is more than $5,000,000 lower than the expenditure during the last fiscal year, when the disbursements reached $24,492,741. It is announced at National Headquarters in a statement calling attention to the necessity of continued support of the organization by response to the Annual Roll Call, November 11 to 24, if the vital work of the society is to be effectively carried on.

Outstanding among the items of the domestic budget is the appropriation of $3,669,256 for work in behalf of the disabled ex-service man and his family. This appropriation represents the amount allotted to this work from National Headquarters only and does not take into consideration the millions being spent in chapters for relief of the World War veteran. It is in the chapter that the greater amount is spent in meeting this obligation of the Red Cross, the announcement continues, as manifested by figures of the fiscal year 1920-1921 when the total was approximately $9,000,000, of which $2,692,004 represented the disbursement of National Headquarters while the remainder was the chapters' contribution to this field of Red Cross service.

Vast Work for Disabled

Chief among the sub-divisions of the appropriation for work with veterans is that which concerns itself with assistance to disabled men and women in government hospitals. This item of $1,700,000, an increase of more than $500,000 over the appropriation for the same work in last year's budget, will provide those personal services for the disabled and their families which are indispensable to supplement those provided by the government. The director of the Veterans' Bureau has recently expressed his desire that the Red Cross should continue and extend these "humanizing services." Other items of the appropriation for veterans' relief are proportionately increased. An additional appropriation of $469,600 has been made for Red Cross work in connection with regular Army and Navy hospitals and with the regular Army and Navy.

For disaster relief, the Red Cross has set aside for the current twelve months an appropriation of $543,976, virtually doubling the appropriation for the same purpose for the fiscal year 1920-1921.

More than $2,000,000 is provided for service and assistance to the 3,600 Red Cross chapters by the national organization.

Helping Destitute Children

Other items of the domestic budget include $498,546 for miscellaneous activities, including contributions restricted for special purposes and $768,600 for management. Each of these items represents large reductions over similar appropriations of the previous year.

From a fund of $10,000,000, $5,000,000 of which was contributed through the European Relief Council campaign and $5,000,000 allotted by the Red Cross for child welfare work in Europe, there remains $8,765,108 still available, of which it is estimated that $6,000,000 will be required for this work during the current year. For Red Cross participation in the joint effort to relieve famine conditions in Russia, for final work in the China famine, for Junior Red Cross and other overseas activities including the closing of the old general relief program in Europe $4,978,000 is made available.

In announcing the national budget, the Red Cross makes it clear that the figures do not include chapter expenditures or place any cash estimate on the invaluable service of volunteers in chapters.

CARRYING ON SERVICE FOR DISABLED VETERANS OF THE WORLD WAR THAT IS COSTING $10,000,000 A YEAR, THE AMERICAN RED CROSS IS HELPING FULFILL THIS NATION'S OBLIGATION TO ITS DEFENDERS. HELP THE RED CROSS CONTINUE THIS WORK BY ANSWERING THE ANNUAL ROLL CALL NOVEMBER 11-24, 1921.

For Rent.

The groceryman was "kidding" little Marie one day and asked her whose girl she was, to which she replied: "Papa's." "Well, then, whose little girl is Maybelle?" "She belongs to mamma." "What about brother James, then?" he said. She was nonplussed for a minute, then said: "Oh, he's just for entertainment."

Whale Meat Resembles Beef.

The meat of the whale extends in great boneless masses, in uniform quality, from the base of the skull to the tail fin. In appearance it is similar to beef, but is somewhat coarser in texture. Its flavor is said to suggest venison. One of the best "cups" of the whale is the heart, which weighs 3,000 pounds.

—An eruption of lava at sea is called a seaquake and the effect is the production of huge waves and violent commotion of the water of the sea. In 1854, during an earthquake at Shoda, Japan, the waters of a bay were first agitated, then retreated, leaving the bottom bare in places where the water had been 30 feet deep. A wave 30 feet high then rushed in and swept everything in its path. Other earthquakes waves have destroyed cities and shipping; part of the destruction in the Messina earthquake was caused by a wave produced in this way.

—Bad Luck to Owe Money. The halibut fishermen of the Pacific have a reputation for honesty. They invariably pay all their bills before starting on a fishing expedition. They regard it as bad luck to leave any unpaid accounts behind. These men do not work for wages. They pay all expenses for their equipment and then share the proceeds of the trip.

BUSINESS MEN WANT MUCH

Some Qualities That Applicant for a Job Had to Show in a Character Test.

A New Yorker who, for reasons of delicacy, must be nameless, was recently gratified with a tempting offer of employment.

The firm which sought his services required from him a scientific character reading by an expert. He was referred to a local psycho-analyst retained by the concern.

The expert rated him high on latent ability, but deficient in the essential business qualities of "self-esteem and selfishness."

He did not get the job, says Leslie's. "Sorry," he was told, "but your character shows there isn't enough iron in your makeup."

Ho, for the good old days when a mean man was still an "ornery cuss" and generosity was yet respectable. Time was when a man's kindness recommended him for a job and gave him reasonable hopes of advancement.

Now, a growing number of employers insist that his worth be weighed in advance with a pair of apothecary's scales and gauged with a machinist's micrometer. And woe to him if the acute psycho-detective discerns in him a tendency to meekness or human sympathy! He suffers the besetting business vices of modesty and unselfishness!

How deeply, we wonder, have the doctrines of these latter-day prophets penetrated the collective business mind of the country at large! Must the model citizen who listens dutifully on a Sunday morning to a sermon on the brotherhood of man hurry home to a learned treatise on how to despise his neighbor?

What a theme for G. K. Chesterton—or Nietzsche!

HER LIFE AN INSPIRATION

Difficulties Overcome by Helen Keller Should Shame Any One From Discouragement.

Mark Twain once said, "The two most interesting characters of the Nineteenth century are Napoleon and Helen Keller." Helen Keller, the Detroit News recalls, was a normal child until 19 months old. At that time a serious illness left her blind, deaf and dumb. Even during these early years in the dark she learned many things through the sense of touch. Her chief playmates were a little colored girl and an old setter dog.

She was nearly seven years old when a teacher was found to undertake what seemed an impossible task. This teacher, Miss Anne Sullivan, began at once to talk into her little pupil's hand with her fingers. The first word Miss Sullivan spelled into her hand was "doll"; the next word was "cake." The words were quickly spelled back, even before the little girl knew what they meant. Very soon, however, the spelled words with the hand language were connected with a real doll and real cake. Within a month she knew thirty words and could talk them back with her fingers.

As soon as she grasped the thought that all objects have names she learned very fast. Within three months her vocabulary had increased to about 300 words, and within a year to 900 words. She is now a noted writer and lecturer.

Indian Name Restored.

The United States geological board has restored the ancient Indian name to the Cataract canyon and creek in Grand Canyon National park. This is Havasu, the Sky-blue Water.

Havasu canyon, in the western section of Grand Canyon National park, is destined within a few years to become one of the scenic points, which visitors to the national park will desire to see. In its depth there is a primitive Indian tribe living. They are the Havasupai, the people of the Sky-blue Waters.

Less than 200 Indians live in this charming garden where old fig orchards yield enormous crops and corn grows 10 feet high. The tribe has just held its own for many generations.

English Sparrows Eat Dandelions.

At least one good mark may be set down for the English sparrow, so commonly regarded as a pest. He is fond of the seeds of dandelion, and when the flowers have given place to the fuzzy "blow-balls" spends much of his time cleaning them from the lawn. In this country, as in England, the sparrow is also fond of young peas, and often ruins the early crop by picking off flowers and leaves. In some Chicago suburbs it is now impossible to raise peas without protecting them with a net. Ridding the sparrow's good offices in ridding the lawn of dandelions will offset his attack on the peas is a problem.—Science Service.

Transylvania Silk Worm Culture.

Silk worm culture in Transylvania, which was highly developed under the Magyar regime, but which declined during the war, is again engaging attention, and the department of agriculture has taken steps to forward the industry. According to Hungarian law, still effective in this district, the products of this industry must be delivered to the government for a fixed amount. It is estimated that 150,000 kilos of silk cocoons, representing a value of 5,000,000 lei, can be purchased this year.

850 DISASTER DEATH TOLL FOR ONE YEAR

Red Cross Gives $1,871,000 Relief When 65,000 Families Are Made Homeless.

Forty-three disasters, resulting in the death in the United States of 850 persons and the injury of 2,500 called for emergency relief measures and the expenditure of $1,871,000 by the American Red Cross during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, says an announcement based upon the forthcoming annual report of the Red Cross.

These disasters caused property damage estimated at $30,000,000, affected sixty-seven communities and rendered 65,000 families homeless.

The year's disasters were of varying types, including several which previously had never been thought of as falling within that classification. The Red Cross furnished relief in seventeen fires of magnitude, five floods, seven tornadoes or cyclones, one devastating storm, three explosions, including the one in Wall street; one building accident, two typhoid epidemics, the most serious being that at Salem, Ohio, which affected 9 per cent of the population; one smallpox epidemic, in the republic of Haiti; one train wreck, the race riot at Tulsa, Okla.; the famine in China, emergency relief in famine among the Indians of Alaska, the grasshopper plague in North Dakota and an earthquake in Italy.

Pueblo Most Serious

By far the most severe of the disasters in the United States during the period covered by the Red Cross report was the Pueblo flood early in June, 1921. The rehabilitation problem confronting the Red Cross in Pueblo was one of the most difficult in recent years. When the first news of the horror was flashed throughout the country, the American Red Cross National Headquarters responded with a grant of $105,000 for relief work.

Governor Shoup of Colorado, appreciating the long and successful experience of the Red Cross in organizing disaster relief work, placed the entire responsibility for the administration of relief in its hands.

In response to appeals from President Harding, Governor Shoup and other governors of western states and through local chapters of the Red Cross and other community organizations, public-spirited citizens brought the total contributed for Pueblo's rehabilitation to more than $325,000.

The terrible havoc wrought by the flood waters is a matter of record. More than 2,300 homes were affected and 7,351 persons were left homeless. Estimates of $500,000 as an absolute minimum for rehabilitation were made by Red Cross officials in charge of the relief work.

Fast Work in Wall Street

The Wall street explosion was notable in that relief workers of the Red Cross were on the scene twenty minutes after the disaster occurred. The race riot at Tulsa also was unique in disaster relief annals in that outside of a small emergency relief fund contributed by the Red Cross, the only relief measures outside the city consisted of the service of social workers, nurses and a trained executive whose object was to assist local forces in directing their own efforts.

In decided contrast with the previous year, only one tornado assumed the proportions of a major disaster. This occurred on April 15, in the border sections of Texas and Arkansas with the city of Texarkana as the center. The significant feature of this disaster relief work was the fact that it covered so much rural territory as to make necessary a large number of relief workers.

The famine in China, necessitating relief expenditures totalling more than $1,000,000 by the American Red Cross was by far the most serious of the foreign disasters in which the Red Cross gave aid.

Builds Up Its Machinery

In connection with the administration of disaster relief measures, an increasing effectiveness on the part of the Red Cross to deal with emergencies was manifested during the past year. In 328 chapters of the American Red Cross there have been formed special committees to survey the resources of their respective communities and to be prepared in case of disaster. In others of the 3,402 active chapters, a network of communication has been formed through which instantaneous relief may be dispatched to any part of the United States.

That its work in this field may be continued with ever greater effectiveness, the American Red Cross is appealing for widespread renewal of membership during its Annual Roll Call, to be conducted this year from November 11 to 24.

LIFE SAVING CORPS ENROLLMENT 10,000

Growth of Red Cross Life Saving Corps throughout the country continued unabated during the last fiscal year, a summary of the year's achievements by that Red Cross Service shows. There are now 100 Corps with a total membership of more than 10,000 members, of which 1,270 are sufficiently skilled in the work to act as examiners. Among the outstanding achievements of the Red Cross in this field during the last year was the organization at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, of what is perhaps the largest life saving corps in the world.

Auburndale

—Mr. Harry D. Priest has sold his estate on Aspen avenue and Studio road.

—Mrs. T. A. Lyman of Crescent street is visiting relatives in Keene, New Hampshire.

—Miss Ruth Stickney has been chosen president of Dramatics at the College of Secretarial Science, B. U.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Preston and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Beardsley spent the week-end at Mr. Preston's cottage at Pocasset, Mass.

—The combined organizations of the Church of the Messiah are to hold a supper and bazaar on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, December 3.

—Bishop Hulse of Cuba visited the Church of the Messiah and addressed a gathering under the auspices of the Girls' Friendly Society on Wednesday evening of this week.

—Some of the members of the Eastern Star who are on the Wednesday table at the coming Fair are to give a private dance in Norumbega Hall on Friday evening, Oct. 28.

—Mrs. H. E. Turner has returned from the Newton Hospital where she has been confined with a broken ankle. She was taken at once to her summer home at "Charlemont" to enjoy the beauties of the late Autumn foliage by the river.

—The first meeting of the Auburndale Brotherhood was held Tuesday evening with a good attendance.

—A unusually good supper was served by the committee in charge. After the business meeting, Mr. E. J. Winslow, chairman of the program, introduced Mr. Raymond L. Bridgman, the president of the club, who gave a most interesting account of the recent Conference at Williamstown, which was listened to with the deepest interest. The Brotherhood is fortunate in having for its president one who can keep it informed upon these vital subjects.

Three lectures on Civics will be given in the Auburndale club house by Miss Margaret McGill, head of the History Department in the Newton Classical High School. These lectures, under the auspices of the Auburndale Woman's Club are open to the public and will take place at 7.30 on three Friday afternoons, October 28, November 4 and November 11. The topics, particularly appropriate just before the Newton City Election, will be approximately as follows: 1. Types of City Government in the United States; 2. City versus Federal and State Governments; Special Functions of City Government; 3. City Government in Newton.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts Middlesex ss. Probate Court

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Mary E. Andrews, late of Newton in said County, deceased.

WHEREAS, certain instruments purporting to be the last will and testament—have been presented to said Court for Probate, by Angeline Andrews Richards, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the seventh day of November, A. D. 1921, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, George F. Lawton, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of October in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

The Club Editor wishes to thank the clubs for copies of Year Books already received and will be grateful for further copies wherever they can be spared, for they are of great assistance in keeping the run of club meetings and in promoting accuracy in the presentation of club notices, especially in regard to the names of members mentioned therein. Those at hand show careful and tasteful execution and are a credit to those responsible for them. Their inclusion in the Year Book is one of the things for which you pay your fee. You have no conception of what has gone into its preparation until you have done it yourself. Get out yours and consider it carefully, and then say your own personal word of appreciation to the secretary, who has done it for you. And if by chance your name or your telephone number has gone in wrong, be very lenient and consider how few mistakes there are in view of the number there might have been.

What becomes of the Year Books after they go into the members' homes? Are they read, or are they tucked away and forgotten, or do they sometimes even find their way into the waste basket? Lay members, read your Year Books from cover to cover. Know what your club is proposing to do, besides what is announced upon the program. You are not getting your money's worth unless you do, for the Year Book is one of the things for which you pay your fee. You have no conception of what has gone into its preparation until you have done it yourself. Get out yours and consider it carefully, and then say your own personal word of appreciation to the secretary, who has done it for you. And if by chance your name or your telephone number has gone in wrong, be very lenient and consider how few mistakes there are in view of the number there might have been.

Local Announcements
The Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club opens its season tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry N. Milliken. "Measure for Measure" will be studied under the leadership of Mrs. W. E. Moore.

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands will meet with Mrs. Frank Frost on October 24th. Mrs. Stone will give a sketch of the life of Dante, and there will be readings by Mrs. Charles G. Wetherbee.

On Monday afternoon the Christian Era Study Club will visit the studio of the president, Miss Ella B. Smith, and view her studies of Bermuda. The regular meeting of the club has been postponed one week.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will continue its study of "The Inferno," under the leadership of Mrs. C. Peter Clark next Monday afternoon at the home of Miss Harriet Ward.

The Newton Centre Woman's Club will hold its first meeting of the season on Thursday, October 27, at 2:30 P. M. It will be Presidents' Day, and there will be a musical program, "The Triad," by Gertrude Tingley, mezzo contralto, Jessie Hatch Symonds, violinist, Millicent Chapman, pianist.

The West Newton Woman's Educational Club will meet on Friday, October 28, at 2:30 P. M., at Players' Small Hall, when Mrs. J. A. Draper will speak on "Practical Suggestions for the Home Dressmaker," under the auspices of the Home Economics Committee.

The Travel Class will meet on Monday, Oct. 24th, with Mrs. Clendenning Smith, 26 Sewall street, West Newton.

Local Happenings
The third year of the Newton Community Club was ushered in most auspiciously last Thursday afternoon, with the new president, Mrs. Sidney Peterson, presiding. Each committee in turn reported plans of work for the coming season, showing much planned along many varied lines, so that each member can find something in which to become interested and an opportunity to render needed service.

Following the business, Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden, vice-president of the Newton Federation, presented the needs for increasing the Philanthropic Fund of the Federation, and presented the plan of voluntary giving on the part of club members. The afternoon's entertainment consisted of a short recital of Folk Songs by Constance and Henry Gideon. Examples of those of the American Negro, of the Kentucky Mountains, and of the Yiddish brought over by New Americans were charmingly rendered by Mrs. Gideon with Mr. Gideon at the piano, occasionally taking a part, and explaining each before it was presented.

At the close the members adjourned to the dining room where refreshments were served under the direction of the Social Committee, Mrs. W. D. Bingham being chairman for the day. Mrs. Franklin E. Smith, Miss Jessie M. Fisher, Miss Sally A. Cutler, and Mrs. W. H. Mitchell poured, while the members whose names begin with G and H served. The rooms were tastefully decorated with garden flowers, cosmos prevailing. The officers of the club were in line to greet the members and guests.

There was an unusually large attendance at the first meeting of the year of the executive board of the Newton Federation at the Newton Club on Monday morning. Considerable routine business was transacted and the plans of the various committees presented. The board heard with regret of the closing of the Bureau of Household Occupation through the lack of adequate financial support. A note of appreciation of Mrs. Seaver's efficient services as executive head of the Bureau was ordered. An appeal for Near East Relief was answered by an appropriation of $25. The plan of asking voluntary contributions from the members of the clubs belonging to the Federation was presented and approved. It was voted to undertake the sale of Christmas seals as in former years, Newton's share of the proceeds to be used for the Health work in the schools. An appeal for deeper interest in evening recreation for the young people was presented by Mr. Dixon of the Playground Association. He stated that Newton has some of the finest playgrounds in the country, but that there is a further need for providing recreation in the evening for those a little older, who have little opportunity for the things that are wholesome.

Guy C. Caldwell's lecture-recital on "American Trees, Birds, and Wild Flowers," brought out a large number of the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls on Monday evening, and was much enjoyed by all. The pictures shown added greatly to the interest.

Mrs. William I. Lawrence read a most interesting paper, "An Hour in Japan," before the Newton Club on Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Henry A. Wentworth, in which she gave a vivid picture of customs and people and gardens, as she knew them herself from residence there in 1891, and showed later developments, especially in the bettered condition of women. Mrs. Lawrence was followed by a paper from Mrs. John F. Dutton on "The Art of Japan," illustrated by many pictures and valuable works of art, loaned by different club members. An unusually full and instructive morning was enjoyed by the large number present.

At the meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands on Tuesday afternoon it was announced that the recent Rummage Sale had netted the club $450. Rev. Abraham M. Ribbany, the speaker of the afternoon, took for his subject, "From the Paris Conference to the Washington Conference," instead of the one announced upon the program. His audience listened with keen interest to his description of the one at Paris, of which he was an eyewitness, and were deeply impressed with the problems to be solved in Washington. Mr. Ribbany is optimistic at the results of the coming conference.

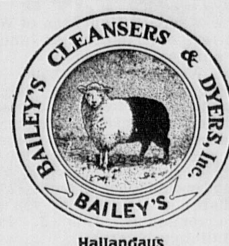

Every effort on the part of the social committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club to make the opening reception on Tuesday afternoon, October 18, an unqualified success was amply repaid by the ready response upon the part of the members. Mrs. Donald E. Rust's beautiful home lent itself charmingly for the occasion.

The house was artistically decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and ferns while huge branches of oak leaves and other autumn foliage formed the proper setting for the brilliant blossoms.

Members of the social committee, of which Mrs. Ralph Conant is chairman, informally introduced the guests to the receiving line, which included the hostess, the president of the club, Mrs. J. C. Hazen, the club secretary, Mrs. E. E. Wakefield, and the chairman of the program committee, Mrs. H. B. Cabot. A delightful surprise was given the guests by a very pleasing musical program by Mrs. Carrie Gilman (Continued on Page 9)

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

Mr. Willis F. Gross, C. S. B., Speaks on "Christian Science: the True Import of the Word"

That interest in the subject of Christian Science is unabated in this community is evidenced by the large attendance at Players' Hall, West Newton on Friday evening of last week, the audience filling the main auditorium, the stage and overflowing into the Sunday School room. The lecturer, Mr. Willis F. Gross, C. S. B., of Chestnut Hill, was introduced by the First Reader of the Newton Christian Science Church, Mr. Harry I.
Hunt, who said:

History shows that every religious teacher who has spoken in advance of the accepted beliefs of his time has met with opposition. The Bible abounds in accounts of the reception accorded to the prophets of old. Even Jesus of Nazareth was not recognized as a great teacher by the theologians of his time, though he healed the sick and raised the dead. Because of the works which he did, however, it is recorded in the Gospel of St. Mark that the common people—the multitude—heard him gladly.

In our own day, Christian Science has been opposed and mislabeled, because it has been misunderstood. But because of the healing works wrought by this Science, happily the time has come when the multitude hears the message of Christian Science gladly, for the very good reason that its message of hope and health, of salvation from sin and suffering, meets the need of all mankind.

The lecture this evening is to be delivered by a Christian Scientist of long experience, a former president of The Mother Church, who is both qualified and authorized to speak upon the subject of Christian Science. It is as a fellow-ownman, as well as a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, that I take great pleasure in introducing to you the speaker of the evening, Mr. Willis F. Gross, of Chestnut Hill, who will now address you.

Mr. Gross' lecture in full is as follows:

Many important events in history stand out as milestones marking the way of human progress out of Egyptian darkness and bondage, through the wilderness of toil and struggle, up to the vision of a new era. From the beginning of human experience earnest seekers for truth and righteousness have trod the straight and narrow way, lovingly obedient to the law of God as they understood that law, and we of to-day reap the benefits of their labors and sacrifice. We can not be too grateful for the good we have received, neither can we appreciate too highly the faithful endeavors of those noble and illustrious men and women who not only taught God's love for humanity, but who also demonstrated the availability of good as the effectual remedy for all our ills.

Mary Baker Eddy, Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science and author of Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, was one of the world's greatest benefactors and we study her life and her works with ever increasing love and gratitude. Her discovery, in 1866, of the divine Principle of Christian healing marked the beginning of a new era in religious teaching and practice. For eighteen hundred years Christ's Christianity had been accepted as the ideal religion, and the adherents of this faith considered it the most potent influence for good that had ever enriched human experience. The Sermon on the Mount was the fulfilling of law and prophecy.
It was more definite and more practical than the teachings of Moses and the prophets and it was more successful in turning thought into right channels and more effectual in directing human affairs, because it was divested of all material theories and practices.

The influence of Christianity is seen in every step of human progress. It has exalted the loftiest ideals and inspired the greatest sacrifices. It has ever been the source of strength and courage to those faithful pioneers of Truth who considered not their own but another's good. This religion was a thing of vital importance to the primitive Christians and they esteemed all else of little value in comparison.
The early disciples of Jesus were so divinely imbued with the spirit of his teachings that nothing could turn them from the faith. Many were persecuted even unto death, but these faithful followers of Christ were ever-able to say with Paul, "In all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us."

The advent of Christianity was the greatest spiritual awakening the world has ever known, and the Founder of the Christian religion was the highest earthly representative of the divine image and likeness. During the centuries which followed, all Christian people have put their trust in him as the Saviour of men. His teachings were understood only in part and so the significance of his works was not fully recognized.

If we base our conclusions on the Biblical record of the early Christians it must be clear to us that they had a more practical idea of salvation than is generally entertained to-day. They esteemed their faith in God as the effectual remedy for all discomfiting conditions, and so the words of the apostle, "Behold now is the accepted time, now is the day of salvation," meant more to them than they do to the people of this age. So long as faith was manifest by works it was vitally important and its influence was felt, but when speculation took the place of demonstration and men were taught a theoretical rather than a practical religion, salvation became a future possibility instead of a present reality.

Christianity Is Spiritual Christianity, as taught and demonstrated by its Founder, Christ Jesus is a purely spiritual religion. It was a radical departure from the forms and ceremonies of Judaic worship.
Jesus declared that the time had come when "the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth." He taught that true worship is expressed in spiritual living and not in the observance of rites and ceremonies. So long as his followers were able to demonstrate their faith in healing sickness and destroying sin, Christianity was maintained in its purity, but when a sense of materialism blinded the eyes of the people these works were no longer in evidence and thus the spiritual import of the gospel was lost.

Teaching and practice gradually became more and more material until the true idea of Christianity was almost lost sight of; but God had not left himself without a witness. There were a few spiritually minded persons who had eyes to see and they earnestly protested against the material teachings and practices which had the sanction of the established church. These protestations were received with favor on the part of many earnest seekers for truth and a great awakening came about the middle of the sixteenth century. This revival of spiritual activity was so widespread that it is known in history as the Reformation. This awakening did not wholly succeed in establishing primitive Christianity with its attendant blessings and benefits, but it was of vital importance in that it laid the foundation for the greater work to be accomplished when the world was made ready for it.

When spiritual leaders, who revived the waning faith of the people and quicken the desire to know God and to serve Him acceptably, arose at various times. It is noteworthy that in all ages the men and women who were most successful in turning thought away from materialism to the contemplation of spiritual things were those who had been most faithful in the practice of the purest and best religious teachings of their day. These faithful followers of Christ prepared the way for the fuller unfolding of God's ever-presence and love.

Christian Science

The greatest spiritual awakening of recent centuries began with the discovery of Christian Science, a little more than half a century ago. This awakening has increased in strength and momentum with every passing year. The light has never waned and there has never been a time when the vision of the slightest day has decreasing interest in this new-old teaching of the Christ.

Mary Baker Eddy, the acknowledged Leader of the Christian Science movement, was a woman of exemplary character; a devout Christian from early childhood, and a faithful friend of humanity, respected and loved by all who knew her. Like other great reformers, Mrs. Eddy had been carefully instructed according to the highest and best spiritual thought of the age, and she was faithful in her endeavor to put into practice the teachings of Holy Writ. The life of Jesus as it was portrayed in the Scriptures was her ideal and she believed that it is possible for men to follow his example even to the extent of doing the healing works which he declared would be done by all who understand his doctrine.

The search for health during many years of invalidism led to the investigation of nearly every method of healing which promised relief. One thing after another failed her and she pondered the meaning of her mother's oft repeated words of comfort and assurance, "God is able to heal you."
An accident resulted in injuries which neither medicine nor surgery could reach and her life was despaired of.
In this hour of extremity she turned to the Bible for strength and consolation and as she read the account of the healing of the paralytic as recorded in the ninth chapter of Matthew, the healing power of Truth was manifested and she arose from her bed, completely restored.

This marvel of the nineteenth century was the beginning of the Christian Science movement, a movement which encircled the globe and turned a score of years ago bringing health and joy to unnumbered thousands. The healing of sickness and sin was the foundation on which Jesus established his work, and the healing of sickness and sin is the very corner stone of Christian Science teaching and practice.

It was evident to Mrs. Eddy that she had regained her health in a manner not to be accounted for by the teachings of the medical schools or by any other teaching based on material hypotheses. Her attending physician earnestly desired to know what had wrought the miracle, but she could only assure him that it was the work of God. There was no human source to which she might turn for an answer to the question as to how her healing had been accomplished. She tells us that she found nothing in ancient or modern writings, save the teachings of the Scriptures, which could enlighten her in the least and thus she was led to study her Bible even more faithfully than before. She learned that she must find a new basis of interpretation, since the generally accepted explanations of Holy Writ had not made it clear to suffering humanity that God is willing to heal the sick as well as to save the sinner. As she searched diligently for the spiritual meaning of the inspired word, the light of Truth gradually dispelled the darkness of material belief and revealed the universe of God's creating perfect, harmonious, and eternal.

Spiritual Interpretation
In the spiritual interpretation of the Scriptures, Mrs. Eddy discovered the divine Principle of Jesus' teachings and works to be God. This statement leads us to the consideration of the fact that Christian Science is the spiritual import of the Inspired Word.
The material interpretation of Jesus' teachings has rendered them impractical and impossible of demonstration, while the spiritual interpretation makes them readily understood and possible of application to all the affairs and experiences of daily life.

When interpreted materially the Scriptures often seem to be contradictory, but when interpreted spiritually it is found that each declaration of Truth is in accord with every other and there are no contradictions in the inspired writings.

It is in the matter of Scriptural interpretation that Christian Science has departed from the generally accepted religious doctrines. If Mrs. Eddy had not forsaken the material interpretation for the spiritual she would not have discovered the divine Science of Jesus' teachings. Having experienced the healing power of Truth, she was persuaded that an intelligent answer to the question how she had been restored to health could be found. The study of the Scriptures in the light of her wonderful experience enabled Mrs. Eddy to grasp the spiritual fact sufficiently to formulate the rules which make possible the practical application of the inspired teachings.

Science and Health

Mrs. Eddy gave to the world the results of her study and research, not, however, until she had demonstrated the correctness of her conclusions by healing the sick and reforming the sinner. These conclusions are clearly set forth in the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures. Faithful study of this book in connection with the Bible imparts the understanding which enables the earnest seeker for Truth to demonstrate Christian Science by healing sickness and destroying the false sense of pleasure in wrong doing.

The author of Science and Health and other works on Christian Science was a most successful writer, teacher, and leader. In all that she did she evidenced her fitness for the great work to which she was called. Mrs.
Eddy was ever faithful over the things of Spirit; she constantly turned to divine Love for wisdom and guidance and this was the secret of her remarkable achievements. For many years she stood with staff in hand, ready to move on when God pointed the way, and it is to her untiring efforts, her unceasing vigilance, her supreme devotion to that which purifies and elevates character, her countless heroic sacrifices, little known even to her nearest friends—it is to these that we and all the world are indebted for the unprecedented prosperity of the cause of Christian Science.

Mrs. Eddy the Discoverer

Repeated attempts have been made to show that some one other than Mrs.
Eddy discovered Christian Science, or that Mrs. Eddy simply revived an old teaching and gave it a new setting.
One thing of greatest importance seems to have been overlooked by these critics, namely, that no one who sought to show that Christian Science was discovered by some one else has ever demonstrated that the understanding gained from the study of other writings enabled him to heal the sick. Christian Science is a demonstrable and this fact reveals the great difference between a theoretical and a practical teaching.

Mrs. Eddy's writings are distinctively original. No religious teacher since the days of the apostles has taken such a broad, comprehensive view of Scriptural teachings, neither has there been any one who arrived at the same definite conclusions concerning the universal application of these teachings to the activities of human experience. Early critics admitted that Mrs. Eddy's writings were original, but they said they would never be read, much less would they have any pronounced effect on the thought of the age. Forty years have passed since these opponents of Christian Science thought they had effectually disposed of this new teaching;
what is the result? Never was there so great a demand for her writings as there is to-day. The time has come when it is difficult to find a person in this hour of extremity who has not read her book, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures. This shows that what Mrs. Eddy wrote concerning God, man, and human experience commands more than a passing consideration by all thinking people.

Let us take one instance of the originality of her writings. The first sentence of her answer to the question, "What is the scientific statement of being?" reads as follows: "There is no life, truth, intelligence, nor substance, in matter." (Science and Health, p. 468.) Where in the literature of recent centuries is to be found a statement anywhere similar to this?

The belief of substance, life, and intelligence in matter is the very basis of mortal existence; it is the prolific source of all earthly woes as well as of the fleeting joys of human experience. Mrs. Eddy's statement is indeed original and it strikes at the very foundation of evil in all its phases.
No statement since the Master's declaration, "The flesh profiteth nothing," has aroused so much opposition on the part of materialistic thinking. No one sentence has revealed greater possibilities or required greater sacrifices of mortal man finding satisfaction in the indulgence of material passions.
It shows that if one would find the kingdom of harmony within, he must first practice the purely spiritual teachings of the Nazarene.

Jesus' Mission
Jesus of Nazareth was the Founder of the Christian religion and a careful study of his works as well as of his teachings is indispensable to a right apprehension of his mission on earth. He made plain the way of salvation from all evil, disease and sin, and he showed us the way to the kingdom of heaven. It is a fatal mistake to conclude that the mission of Jesus was merely to teach men how to prepare for happiness in a future life. "I am come," said he,
"that they [men] might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." The demonstration of his teachings met the human need and those who were blest thereby did have life more abundantly, even on this plane of existence.

The prophet Isaiah foresaw the coming of this healing religion and he wrote, "Then shall the eyes of the blind be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped. Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb sing." This prophecy was fulfilled literally in the

Only Effect of Christian Science

We have observed that before prayer can become effectual it must be altogether unselfish, honest, and sincere. "Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God," were the words of him who came declaring the way of salvation from all evil. Selfish desire, whether inspired by ignorance or evil intent, can avail nothing. Human thought must become reconciled to the divine will before it can apprehend the unseen verities of harmonious being and realize that what blesses one becomes a blessing to all the world.

The only effect of Christian Science is to purify thought and render it submissive to the will of God. If the effect seems otherwise it is either because Christian Science is not understood or the student knowingly turns from its teachings. If one is living in the consciousness that God is Love, the desire of the heart can not possibly injure another. His every thought, word, and deed will be a blessing, and the fundamental teaching of Christian Science, that man is life reflection of God—the reflection of Love, Life, and Truth—will be demonstrated.

Forgiveness of Sin

One of the beneficial effects of prayer is the overcoming of sinful desires. It is held by all believers in the Christian religion that the forgiveness of sin is essential to salvation and that prayer is the only means by which this desired end can be attained. We are sometimes asked, What does Christian Science teach concerning the forgiveness of sin? The overcoming of sin is the necessary work to be accomplished for humanity and in this work Christian Science is most successful. It succeeds where other teachings have failed.

It is believed by many that the forgiveness of sin means the remission of the penalty due to wrong doing, but this is not in accord with the teachings of Holy Writ. The law of God is clearly set forth in these words of Paul, "Whoever a man sows shall also reap." This law can not be set aside or rendered of none effect. The inevitable result of sin is suffering and there is no way of escape. What, then, constitutes the forgiveness of sin according to the teachings of Christian Science? Even the destruction of the desire to sin; there can be no other forgiveness. The desire to sin is an erroneous belief of the carnal mind, even the belief that it is possible to gain something or to find pleasure in wrong doing. Mortals must be saved from this delusion or they will never escape the suffering which sin produces. So long as the sinful desire remains it must bring suffering, for mortals are punished by their sins. The effectual forgiveness of sin, the forgiveness which truly repents sinners, is the destruction of sinful thoughts. If a sinner wishes merely to escape the suffering he has brought upon himself, he is not truly repentant. The desire to escape the consequences of sin accomplishes nothing, but the longing to be delivered from the inclination to do wrong is true repentance. The wise man is willing to suffer if this is necessary to his deliverance. Sin is forgiven when the desire to sin is destroyed and not before. The destruction of sin is a present salvation from sin.

Baptism

The question of baptism is closely associated with the forgiveness of sin in the teachings of the various religious denominations, and because it is a religious ceremony it has occasioned not a little controversy. The conclusion that baptism is essential to salvation is based on these words of Jesus, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." It seems to be generally accepted conclusion that Jesus here referred to water baptism, inasmuch as he was baptized by John, and the controversy has been occasioned by a difference of opinion upon what mode of water baptism meets the divine requirements.

John the Baptist said concerning his baptism, "I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance; but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, and he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire." It is impossible to interpret these words of John literally, or materially, and so it is concluded that they must have a spiritual significance. Is it unreasonable to conclude that it was this baptism, the baptism of the Holy Ghost and of fire, to which Jesus referred in the words just quoted? Spiritual baptism is the thing needful. If water baptism is accepted as a religious ceremony, it must be admitted that it is but the outward symbol of that spiritual baptism which is essential to salvation. Paul declared there is "one Lord, one faith, one baptism," and a careful study of the apostle's writings shows that he refers to spiritual baptism. Christian Science departs so far as possible from all material observances, and so the baptism recognized in the Church of Christ, Scientist is spiritual baptism. When we have this understanding of the word "baptism," the observance of a material rite is no longer necessary.

Atonement

The doctrine of atonement, as well as the question of baptism and the forgiveness of sin, has ever been a perplexing theological problem. It is generally considered that the atonement means a reconciliation between man and God who had become estranged by reason of man's disobedience. The Scriptures declare that Jesus is the mediator between God and men. Human philosophy has interpreted this to mean that Jesus' life of labor and sacrifice effected a reconciliation between God and man and thereby it became possible for all who accept him to be their Saviour to escape the consequences of sin. It is believed by some persons that because of Jesus' sacrifice God is willing to pardon repentant mortals and receive them again into His presence. This seems to imply that because of man's offence God had become less than infinite, eternal, and unchanging Love and it required the sufferings of the cross before He was willing for men to be delivered from the consequences of sin.

According to Christian Science God is divine Principle and changes not. Nothing that mortal men can say or do can change God. Principle is perfect and nothing can add to perfection. It follows, then, that if man is separated from God by reason of his own wrong doing, the only possible remedy is for him to forsake his evil ways and unrighteous thoughts. To enable mortals to do this was the purpose of Jesus' mission. Instead of seeking to appease the wrath of God, he labored to teach mortals the utter falsity of evil which had blinded them to the fact that God is Love.

The second chapter of the Christian Science text-book is devoted principally to the consideration of the atonement. On pages 18 and 19 we read: "Atonement is the exemplification of man's unity with God, whereby man reflects divine Truth, Life, and Love. Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated the reality of that which cannot have proceeded from God, and so he has more than one creator. Whatever prevents the recognition of God to be the only power, cause, and creator is sin and constitutes wrong thinking."

The Wise Builder

Jesus drew the line very sharply between Truth and error, good and evil, right and wrong. When his words are comprehended aright, i. e., when their spiritual import is discerned, it is understood that he taught how to overcome all evil and how to gain all good. He showed very clearly that mere profession counts for nothing. It is what a man does that reveals what he really believes. It is impossible to separate right thinking from right doing.

Jesus concluded his Sermon on the Mount by illustrating the great difference between those who hear and obey and those who hear but fail to obey. The former he likened to a man who built his house on a rock, and it stood even though the fury of the elements was turned against it. Those who hear and yet fail to put into practice what they hear, he compared to the foolish man who builds on the sand. Because it has no foundation his house falls when the rain descends and the winds blow. All that is built on the belief of a power, cause, or creator apart from God is built on shifting sands and it will fall. It may stand for a time, but its ultimate destruction is inevitable. A house built on the sands may be as attractive as one built on a rock and for a while it may answer the purpose fully as well, but there comes a time when the great difference between the two is manifest. In the same manner the difference between truth and error is ultimately revealed.

The conclusion reached by Mrs. Eddy and expressed in these words, "There is no life, truth, intelligence, nor substance in matter," (Science and Health, p. 468), shows how mortals do build on the sand though they know it not. Previous to Mrs. Eddy's discovery of Christian Science even Christian people had not thought it necessary to be unscientific in belief; there is life, intelligence, substance, and truth in matter; on the contrary they thought they had scriptural authority for accepting material sense testimony in this connection. Take away this fundamental error of mortal belief and what would occasion the indulgence of sinful thoughts, or what would be the foundation of disease and suffering?

The words of Mrs. Eddy just quoted agree with that remarkable utterance of the Master so little understood, "The flesh profiteth nothing." Every conclusion reached by Mrs. Eddy is supported by the words and works of Jesus. His words have been read for centuries and his works have been accepted as demonstrations of divine power, but the universal application of his teachings has been impossible because the vital importance of his works was not realized. Christian Science has given the correct interpretation of the Master's teachings and all who understand his doctrine are able to demonstrate the power of Truth to heal the sick, comfort the sorrowing, reform the sinner, and set at liberty them that are bound by the illusion of a power apart from God. Christian Science helps men to understand what the great Teacher meant when he said, "It is the spirit that quickeneth; . . . the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life."

COMMUNITY MOTION PICTURES AT WABAN

Waban, known not so long ago, as "the least of all the Newtons," had the proud distinction, last spring, of being heralded as the second community in the whole country to pledge its full quota of the $3,000,000 being sought by Mount Holyoke College for an Endowment Fund.

This act of the Waban Alumnae was a simple one of faith—faith in the worth of their Alma Mater and faith in their own ability to somehow, sometime redeem that pledge. The time has now come when they mean to justify their faith by works.

Feeling convinced that there exists in Waban a demand among both children and grown-ups for clean and attractive moving pictures they propose to supply this want by a series of Community Motion Pictures. These will be presented in the fine new auditorium of Waban's pride, the new Albert Edgar Angier Schoolhouse.

The first performance is scheduled for Friday evening, October 28, at 7 P. M., to be followed by a second showing of the pictures at 8.30.

The second evening will be December 2, and after that it is hoped that a performance will be given on every alternate Friday evening throughout the winter.

Mrs. Herbert S. Kimball of 24 Pilgrim road is chairman and will be very glad to give further information and to welcome to the pictures patrons from the surrounding villages.

Keep House Plants Moist.

A piece of sponge, quite wet, and kept in each house plant has been found to result in greenness and freshness instead of the withering which so often overtakes house plants. Their failure to do well is due not so much to the heat of the house as to the dryness of the atmosphere. The saturated sponge should be pressed in among the leaves and stalks as near to the center of the plant as possible.

Edwards, formerly of New York City, but now of Newtonville. Mrs. Edwards is a pianist of rare artistic ability and added much to the enjoyment of her selections by her descriptive analysis of each composition.

At the close of the recital refreshments were served in the dining room, where Mrs. Cheney Hatch, Mrs. Lincoln Richter, and Mrs. A. M. Lyon poured and several members of the social committee assisted.

The West Newton Women's Educational Club had a delightful picnic on Friday, Oct. 14th, at Lake Boon. Various members of the club offered their automobiles to take the ladies to the picnic grounds. A box luncheon was enjoyed at noon, with ice cream and hot coffee served by the committee.

In the afternoon interesting games and contests were conducted by the Travel Class, Home Economics Class, the Legislative Committee and the Scholarship Committee. A beautiful bouquet was presented to the new president, Mrs. Harry S. Wells.

The arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald, whose ability in this direction is well known, and she was ably assisted by Mrs. Percival Waters.

The travel class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club opened its eleventh season of study on Monday, October 17th, at 2.30 P. M., at the home of Mrs. John R. McLean, 77 Cornell street, Newton Lower Falls. Mrs. Emma Dimond assisted in entertaining.

The subject for this year's study is Italy, and an interesting program has been prepared by Mrs. Chester S. Jennings, leader.

Mrs. Guy C. Holbrook gave an excellent paper on "Italy—the Mother of Civilization," and Mrs. Bernard Early followed with a splendid article on Sicily, which was much enjoyed.

Seventeen clubs in the Newton Federation with a total paying membership of 3,838 women. Divide this number by 4 and the answer is 959 1/2—this is within 40 1/2 of 1,000. The goal is $1,000 by Jan. 1, 1922.

If each of these 3,838 women will give 25 cents we shall have $959.50. If eighty of them will give fifty cents we shall go over the top with no further trouble. Let us meet this need quickly and then have time to think of other things. How much easier than selling tickets!

Here are some of the opportunities the Federation has met in the past: Dental Clinic, Salem Fire, Library Fund at the Vocational High School, Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A., Dennison House, Halifax Sufferers, Playground Work, Well Baby Clinics, Out Patient Department of the Newton Hospital, Bureau of Household Occupations, West Newton Music School, and Welfare Bureau.

The forecast for the coming winter is not a pleasant one when we consider the question of unemployment. The Welfare Bureau is facing a deficit for the first time. The Federation has always been morally and financially behind that organization and they need us now more than ever before. But that is only one of many ways that the Fund has been used.

Let us all together fill the Philanthropic Fund of the Federation before the first snow falls.

LESSONS IN SPANISH

To all Ambitious Newtonians:

Every person appreciates the great value of being able to speak and write in any foreign language. French may be necessary to round off a classical education, but to the average worker, to the person who intends to follow a business career, to the person who never tires of learning, Spanish, to put it mildly, is well worth knowing.

Far-sighted business men, realizing that the United States is the logical country to carry on business with the Spanish-speaking countries of Latin America, and knowing that such a state of affairs will come to pass within the next few years, are urging the younger generation to learn Spanish.

And to acquire themselves with Spanish business customs.

The School Board of Newton has heartily co-operated with these men by establishing a class in Spanish in the night school of Newton. Any person who wishes to learn Spanish can fulfill his desire by enrolling in this class.

Great success in learning Spanish will undoubtedly be had by the members of this class. Mr. Francisco Argente of Newtonville, who has for many years taught Spanish successfully in the Newton High School, is the instructor in charge of this class, and under his able leadership, Spanish is made easy.

This is a rare chance to learn something for nothing, and to those who once studied Spanish but have neglected to look after it, this is an opportunity to renew their acquaintance with the language and to learn a few things in addition as well.

The class meets every Monday and Wednesday evenings during the Winter from 7 to 9 P. M. in Room 303 of the Technical High School, and is free.

You who have always wished to learn Spanish, come to the Newton Technical High School, Walnut street, Newtonville, next Monday, at 7 P. M., and enroll in this class. Don't let your age make any difference—the present class of fifteen includes youths of sixteen, and men and women of forty and fifty.

NEWTON BOWLING LEAGUE

The Newton Bowling League began its winter schedule this week on Wednesday with but seven teams entered. When Neighborhood Newton Hunnewell, Cochato, Maugus, Commercial and the Middlesex Sportsman's Association.

The clubs bowl regularly on Wednesday night of each week through the season.

This week Commercial won all four points from Hunnewell, on the latter's alleys, alto Dexter of the home team set a high mark at 612 for three strings. Waban won three points from the Newton Club at Newtonville, with Ely of the home club making the high single of 226.

Saving Time With House Plants.

When potting a plant that will some time need repotting make a "lining" for the pot, using pieces of old wire fencing, tightly wired into shape. This enables one to repot the plant without disturbing the roots and the wire pot can be placed with the plant in the larger pot also, making it possible to repot again without disturbing the main roots, though the coarse mesh has not prevented roots from filling the new soil beyond its confining limits. You can keep ferns beautiful for many years by this system.—Mrs. M. C. S. Colo.

Gliding Can Brightened Easily.

A mixture that is said to clean gliding in made of one gill of water, two ounces of purified nitre, one ounce of alum, and one ounce of common salt. When dissolved, brush the gliding with a camel's-hair brush soaked in the mixture. To revive gliding this restorer is recommended; Beat up well one ounce of chloride of potash or soda with three ounces of whites of eggs.—Popular Science Monthly.

Human Gambling Tools.

A set of small dice supposed to have been cut from the molar teeth of a notorious French criminal and professional gambler, who died by the guillotine, together with a dice-box made from a toughened piece of his skin, was one of the curios disposed of by a Paris curio dealer.

Mr. Horgan was graduated with valedictorian honors, and was presented with the golden key of his class fraternity. His valedictory address has received special favorable comment from all the International Pharmaceutical Journals.

—The first supper of the season at the Methodist Church on Wednesday was a great success. There was a very large attendance. Following the supper there was an interesting program. Mrs. Franklin Jones sang a solo, and Mr. and Mrs. Raines, a duet. Mr. D. Fletcher Barber, in a witty speech, told of the year's work. Mr. George Strandberg told of the Church School. Mrs. Dale E. Brown of the Ladies' Aid, Mr. A. H. Crosby of the Church paper, and Mr. Leon Marsh of the young people's work. Rev. George S. Butters spoke of the cordiality of the church. The pastor presented each person present with a questionnaire asking each to tell thereon what each was willing to do for the church during the coming year.

CENTRAL CLUB, NEWTONVILLE

The first meeting of The Central Club, for the 1921-22 season was held at Central Church last evening. This large and influential club is made up of the men of the church and many outsiders. Its activities embrace all avenues of church and civic benefit. The meeting just held was an "Experience Meeting," at which the pastor, Mr. H. H. Lichter, related many interesting incidents of his summer sojourn at Chautauque and on a lecturing tour in the Middle West. The experiences of Mr. Carl Smith and his presentation of the farmers' problems was of much interest as were the remarks of Mr. H. W. Orr, who touched on his auto tour into Canada and the utter disregard of the Volstead law provisions along the border.

Mr. Patry gave a demonstration of the benefits to be expected from the use of Walter Camp's set of exercises called "The Daily Dozen." Their were many interesting experiences which had to be put over for another meeting owing to the lateness of the hour and the wish to do full justice to the refreshments arranged for by the "A & B" group. W. H. Allen, chairman, of the Clubs Membership.

There were gratifying accessions to the membership roll and all signs point to a successful club year.

A feature of the evening was the community singing led by Dr. H. W. Shedd at the piano and the selections later played by him which were greatly enjoyed.

The officers of the Club are President, Lincoln Righter; Vice Presidents, Prof. Gorham W. Harris and Walter T. Kelley; Directors, Alderman Charles H. Morse, Carl D. Smith, Francis J. Flagg and the pastor, Mr. Lichter, all of whom with Mr. Fred W. Rust, constitute the Executive Committee.

Meetings are planned for the third Wednesday of each month through June of 1922.

To Bore a Conical Hole Through Wood.

When you have a conical hole to bore, such as for a handle hole in a wooden maul or other similar place, leave the outer of an expensive auger bit a trifle loose and begin boring at the side where the smaller end of the hole is wanted. The inner edge of the cutter lip being angular, the cutter will gradually draw itself out from the body of the bit, making the hole larger as the bit goes into the wood.—Popular Science Monthly.

Que. Word Explained.

The real derivation of the word "esquire" is, as everyone will remember, from "escuyer," old French for "shieldbearer," and so came to be applied to the chief retainers of knights. When the feudal days passed the word remained.

THE MOTHERS' REST

Interesting Reports Read at Annual Meeting and Officers Elected

The annual meeting of the Mothers' Rest Association of Newton Centre was held on October 20, in the Methodist Church, Newton Centre. The meeting was preceded by a luncheon served in the church dining room at one o'clock by members of the committee on House and Grounds of the "Rest," Mrs. Loton D. Jennings, chairman. There were 71 ladies present. The meeting, at 2 o'clock, was called to order by the President, Mrs. Everett D. Burr, who introduced the pastor of the church, Mr. Ralph Davis, who then conducted devotional services, Scripture and prayer. The usual business followed; the secretary's annual report and that of the treasurer for the year 1920-21. The treasurer, Mrs. Warner R. Holt, reported total receipts $3,943.88, added to last year's balance of $1,017.66—$4,961.54. Total expenditure $3,235.07. Balance $1,726.47. Transferred to Building Fund $900.00; Bal. October 29, 1921 $826.47.

The reports of the various committees followed. The matron, Mrs. Myra Taylor, spoke of her year at the Rest giving many interesting incidents and expressing the gratitude and appreciation of the women and children who had been given a two weeks' vacation there. A recommendation from the Board of Managers was presented to the meeting and after explanation and discussion it was voted to consolidate the two funds of the Association. The Building Fund and the Everett D. Burr Memorial Fund, making one Fund to be called "The Everett D. Burr Memorial Building Fund." The interest of this fund may be used, by vote of the Board of Managers for maintenance of the present buildings or the work of the Association, but the principal may only be reduced by unanimous vote of the Board with consent of the Association.

The President called for the report of the nominating committee, which was given by Mrs. H. P. Bradford, chairman, and these officers were unanimously elected: President, Mrs. Morgan L. Cooley; first vice-president, Mrs. Albert S. Hutchinson; second vice-president, Miss Julia L. Fowle; secretary, Mrs. D. Bradley Rich; treasurer, Mrs. Frances Stevens; auditor, Miss Ann Watters; six additional members: for three years, Mrs. George A. Holmes, Mrs. Edith R. Longsdorf; for two years, Mrs. Gladys C. Osgood, Mrs. John F. Milner; for one year, Mrs. Sylvanus G. Morse, Mrs. Loton D. Jennings. The president welcomed the newly elected president, Mrs. Morgan L. Cooley, a vote of thanks was given to the retiring officers, and a recommendation of the Board of Managers was presented by the Secretary, i. e. In accordance with this recommendation the Association unanimously elected Mrs. Everett D. Burr honorary president.

Some men start a fight in a pool room and others marry "brainy" women.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, held at the Public Library Building on Tuesday evening, it was voted to reorganize the Newton Chamber and a committee appointed from the board to create a special reorganization committee to bring this about. The special committee from the board includes President John T. Burns, 1st Vice President Joseph B. Jamieson, and three former presidents, John H. Gordon, Horace W. Orr, and Arthur W. Hollis. The members of this committee were directed to associate with themselves the strongest possible group of Newton citizens, representing all sections of the city and to be chosen from the community as a whole rather than entirely from the present membership of the Chamber. This larger group will have full power to reorganize the Chamber, increase its membership, determine its program of work, nominate officers for the enlarged organization, in fact to take any and all steps deemed necessary to give Newton a modern and efficient civics and trade association to be known as the Newton Chamber of Commerce.

The directors voted to place the plans for the November meeting of the Chamber in the hands of the proposed reorganization committee.

Harold Moore, who recently resigned as secretary, was elected a member of the board of directors, to fill an existing vacancy. Arrangements were made, in the event of a railroad strike, to register volunteers for railway service in common with other chambers of commerce through the state. The registration office will be at the temporary office of the Chamber, at 363 Centre street.

Mr. Clifton C. Mowry who has recently been elected secretary of the Chamber has been for the past three years a field secretary of the Mass. Chamber of Commerce and in that capacity has come in contact with many chambers of commerce throughout the state. He will study the situation here in Newton for a trial period of three months.

UNION BAZAAR

When you enter the Y. M. C. A. building on Tuesday, November 8, you will want to visit first Mrs. D. Morley Lodge's hot fudge table, for there your order must be placed at least thirty minutes, before the candy can be delivered. The orders will be filled in the sequence in which they are given, so that it may be more than half an hour before that delicious hot fudge will be yours, but it will pay for the waiting and meantime there will be so much of interest in the rest of the Bazaar that you won't be tempted to count the minutes. You will not need to go without candy, either, while you wait, for Mrs. Stafford Johnson is ready to supply your every want. Truly her table is a toothsome spot. Delectable home-made candies—of every conceivable variety invite you to a feast which makes the ambrosia of the gods pale in comparison. There are sugar-plums and lollypops to delight the hearts of the little people. If they look sharply enough they will find some marvellous animals, too, which they do not meet every day, for Mrs. Johnson has made one of Eugene Fields' charming poems come true. Can you guess which?

The boys and girls will certainly want some candy to take with them to the children's entertainment on Tuesday afternoon, November 8, for it looks now as if one would be obliged to go early to secure a seat. The tickets are already on sale. There are only two hundred and fifty seats in the hall so it is highly advisable to procure tickets at once. Mrs. Pierson and Mrs. Murray are presenting "A Harvest Party" where the fun grows apace and the unexpected happens. They refuse to divulge any more of the surprise they have in store for you, so

THE BOY SCOUTS

The executive says:
Scouts, Play the Game! In every walk of life the fellow that can play the game through till the end is the man that will win out and be a success. Scouting is a great game. It never grows old, neither does it weary one in playing it. It has the incentive to perseverance, pluck, and stick-to-it-iveness. It impels boys on to attain the highest of all things—CHARACTER—by learning to do for oneself. Scouting is the one program that combines pleasure with business and makes a success of it. Hence, play the game through to the finish. Make another rank before the close of this year, become a First Class Scout with Merit Badges before next June. That's the game. Play it as you play baseball and win.

Troop Notes

Troop 1—Newtonville, under the leadership of Mr. R. W. Cotton of 37 Washington Park began a new period in its history when upon meeting in its regular sessions last week it reorganized and adopted Articles of Organization. These articles will tend to make the troop a business organization where scouts besides the usual training in scoutcraft will receive training in Parliamentary matters. Troop 1 plans to be in the front line of Scouting again this year and will give the other troops a race both for the Silver Swimming Shield offered by Mr. John Eddy of Newtonville for the Best Troop in Swimming, and also for the Silver Cup at the Annual Spring Rally. Two new scouts were added last meeting to the troop. They were Scout Robert Kincaide, and Scout John Buswell, Jr., both of Newtonville.

NEWTONVILLE IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Newtonville Improvement Association was held on Wednesday evening, October 19th, at the home of the Secretary, Mr. C. G. McDavitt, Hill street, with the following members of the Committee present: Messrs. Fred C. Alexander, Charles I. Balcom, Ernest J. Bartlett, Harry D. Cabot, Bartlett F. Kenney, C. G. McDavitt, Lewis E. Moore, Horace W. Orr, John R. Prescott, Lincoln Righter, Augustus L. Wakefield and William H. Zoller.

The status of the proposed zoning ordinance for the City of Newton was explained. The members of the Association are to be given due notice of any public hearing in the matter that may be held in Ward 2. A report was given by the special committee, appointed to represent the Association at hearings before the Commissioners of the Division of Highways of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works in the matter of the application for license to erect or maintain billboard, sign or other outdoor advertising devices.

Consideration was given to a communication from a committee of the "Central Council of Social Activities in the City of Newton" inviting the Newtonville Improvement Association to participate with all other civic organizations in the city in the effort which is being made to provide a clearing house for thought and ideas to the end that duplication of effort may be eliminated and in the hope that through such interchange there may be greater effectiveness in promoting the welfare of the city. It was agreed to join in this movement and the President, Mr. H. D. Cabot, and the Secretary, Mr. C. G. McDavitt, were appointed to represent the Association in the Central Council.

As the result of action taken at this meeting there will be sent to members of the Association at least every six months a Bulletin outlining the activities of the Executive Committee.

A report was made by a special committee appointed to consider a complaint received by the Executive Committee of conditions at the Newtonville Branch of the Public Library. It is expected that improvements recommended by the Association will be made.

There was a general discussion of what were stated to be dangerous traffic conditions at Newtonville Square. A committee was appointed to study the situation and to confer with the municipal authorities with regard to regulation of traffic.

This is a subject that should be of much interest to all mothers, and we hope to have a large attendance. Mrs. Percival R. Wood will have the meeting in charge.

—At the first rehearsal of the Auburndale Woman's Club Chorus, held in Stirling Hall on Monday afternoon, a most enjoyable season's work was begun. All old members are urged to be on hand next week. A little constructive enthusiasm right now will make this the best season yet. Mrs. McCormick and the members of the Chorus cordially welcome new members. If you can sing just a little, if you like to sing, and if you believe the Chorus to be a valuable department of our Club, come to Stirling Hall next Monday at 2.30. This invitation is extended to all Club members, including Juniors, for whose train schedule allowance will be made.

THE AUTOMOBILE COURSE

The class in gasoline automobile instruction under the auspices of the State Dept. of Education began on Wednesday evening at the Newton Vocational High School. This class will meet on Wednesday evenings at 7.30 P. M. for a course of ten lectures designed to give automobile owners an understanding of the construction and proper care of their automobiles.

NEWTON COMMUNITY HOUSE

We still feel hopeful about our work looking forward and bending every effort that we may be able to open our community centre by spring. Your contribution will be greatly appreciated for us to realize our aim. Our Boy Scout troop is being put into shape just as fast as possible and the boys are just enthusiastic over it; it certainly will fill a gap in the boys' lives. If you have any work for boys I shall be glad to hire it as it will help them toward getting their suits; I have a young man for butler work, also women for housework.

Save Coal—Kerosene is Cheaper

THIS fall—make your home cozy and comfortable with a Perfection Oil Heater. It will provide warmth just where and when you want it, and it will save you from starting your furnace before it is really needed.

The Perfection is so simple and easy to operate. Just the thing for the children's bedroom on those sharp, frosty mornings! And it can be carried easily to any other room in the house, where extra heat is needed.

It saves lighting the furnace before the real cold weather starts, and it is most economical as compared with coal.

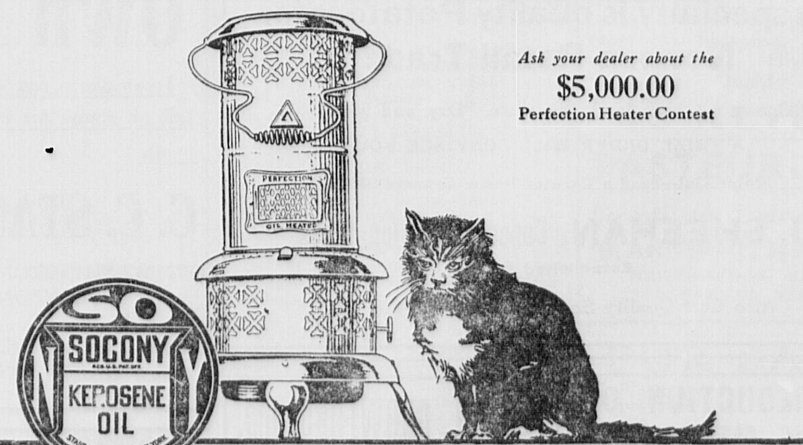

Sold by hardware, housefurnishing and department stores, in blue or black finish, with or without nickle trimmings. Ask your dealer to show you one.

For best results use Socony kerosene.

PERRIN—MORSE

A very attractive wedding took place on Saturday, October 22nd, 1921, at 8.15 P. M. at the Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, Auburndale, when Miss Eva Mabel Morse, daughter of Mrs. Ella E. Morse of 421 Wolcott street, Auburndale, became the bride of Mr. Richard Balch Perrin of Roxbury.

The bride, who wore white chiffon satin and princess lace, was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Herbert Baker Morse of Auburndale. She was attended by Mrs. Mary Burr Morse of Auburndale as matron of honor in orchid taffeta and silver lace, and Miss Blanche E. Boynton of Roxbury and Miss Katherine L. Baker of Medford as bridesmaids in yellow taffeta. The little flower-girl was Miss Alice Furbish, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Furbish of Auburndale.

Mr. Arthur M. Wiggin of Brookline was the best man. The ushers were:
Mr. George P. Beckford of West Roxbury, Mr. Harold W. Brackett of Braintree, Dr. Chauncy M. Carpenter of Brookline, Mr. Alfred W. Godfrey of Cambridge, Mr. James D. Gordon of Brookline and Mr. Marshall S. P.
Smith of Newtonville.

After the wedding a reception was held in the church parlors.

In the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Perrin were: Mrs. Ella E. Morse and Mrs. George Edward Perrin of Brookline.

Mr. Perrin is treasurer of the Boston Insurance office of Hollis, Perrin and Kirkpatrick, Inc.

Mr. and Mrs. Perrin will make their home in Wellesley Farms.

NEWTON Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The annual canvass of the Newton Young Men's Christian Association will begin Thursday, Oct. 27th, and continue until Nov. 1st. During that time the officers and directors hope to secure $18,000, the amount necessary to successfully carry on the many phases of the work for the year beginning Nov. 1st, 1921.

Among the most successful activities of the past year has been the Frank A. Day Camp for boys where 100 boys had the pleasure of living out of doors for ten to eight weeks, the free swimming campaign, and the teaching of 180 boys and men
how to swim, the dormitory rooms which have been used continuously all the year, and regular activities of the social, religious, and physical departments. Special mention should also be made of the community service which is given without charge to many groups of boys and girls in all parts of the city.

All the money given or pledged at this time will be for the expenses of the new year beginning Nov. 1st, 1921.
There are no back debts to pay. A large number of contributors is desired. Will you help?

The organization for the canvass which began on Thursday, Oct. 27th, is as follows:

Director of the Canvass: J. A. Stafford; Chairman of Executive Committee, C. D. Kepner; Division A, F. D.
Fuller, Chairman; Division B, Rupert
C. Thompson, Chairman; Division C,
Rev. A. W. Cooke, Chairman; Division
D, Tracey A. Rudd, Chairman. Eighty men have volunteered to help in the canvass.

NEWTON WOMEN INTERESTED

Several Newton ladies are interested in the good work now being done by the Boston Y. W. C. A. Mrs.
Charles W. Norby of West Newton the newly elected president, has been connected with the Philadelphia Y. W.
C. A., and was prominent in Hostess work during the war. At the Blue Triangle in Mechanics Building, Miss Anita Tarbell of Newton Highlands is in charge and Mrs. Arthur C.
Badger of Oak Hill is a member of the committee in charge.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

HIGH SCHOOL

The Technical High School has been having a campaign for subscriptions to the school magazine, called the "Dynamo." This magazine has developed from a weekly paper to a large, beautifully bound magazine which every pupil is proud to have in his or her library. Mr. Ian Frazer, the business manager, has taken steps to make it the most successful year for this magazine since its origin. Miss Ethel Miller is the Editor-in-Chief.

Miss Hill, a graduate of the class of 1918, gave an interesting talk on the leather preservative, called "Korite" to the students of various classes in the Technical High School Oct. 25th.
Practice for Hockey candidates was held in the Gymnasium on Oct. 26th.
Although quite a few reported, the bulk of hockey material is still out on the gridiron with the varsity football squad.

The Girls' Field Hockey schedule is as follows:—

Milton, Nov. 3rd, at Milton; Lasell,
Nov. 9th, at Newton; Winsor, Nov.
12th, at Winsor; Lexington, Nov. 16th, at Newton; Alumnae, Nov. 26th, at Newton. The preliminary Class game will be Nov. 7th at Newton. Final Class game will take place the 21st of November.

The Newton Classical High School will hold a dance in the Gymnasium on Nov. 10th, at 2.30 P. M. Spalding's Orchestra will furnish the music for this dance which is called the "Harvest Carnival."

The Harvest Carnival of the Newton Classical High School given under the auspices of the History Department and the Senior Class of the same Thursday afternoon, November 10th, at 2.30 in the gymnasium. Dancing, special entertainment and a general good time for all.

The matrons will be: Mrs. Norman
W. Bingham, Mrs. Stanley E. Horton,
Miss Margaret McGill.

Entertainment Committee: Madelon
Bartlett, Marjorie Tucker, Helen Pratt, Alfred Stafford, chairman, Welles
Holmes, Edwin Loughey, Miss Margaret McGill, Mr. Alfred W. Dickinson faculty advisors.

Lasell

Lasell played its first hockey game of the season on Friday afternoon,
Lexington High being its opponent.
The game was played on the Woodland Park athletic grounds and was very closely contested, the score being 3 to 1 in favor of Lasell.

The junior school enjoyed a sight seeing trip through Old Newton and Cambridge on Saturday afternoon.
The pupils of the junior school finished the tennis tournament this week
Marjory Winslow winning the trophy.
A number of the girls have joined the Girl Scouts. The meetings are being held in Gardner Gymnasium with Mrs.
Galbraith of the Allen School as instructor.

Dr. and Mrs. Winslow are the guests of honor of the Connecticut Lasell Club this afternoon at Hartford, where the organization is holding its annual luncheon and reunion.

A large number of Lasell girls are attending the Symphony this evening.
This afternoon the students of the junior school are being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Borst at their home, Little Tree Farm, in Framingham. The festivities will be in the nature of a Halloween Party.

Albert Angier School

Parents whose children are in the Albert Angier School are feeling a just pride in the opening exercises of the school which are conducted by the children themselves. Recently a skit on "Politeness" was given at the school which was exceedingly interesting, and from which many an older person might well learn much.

Claffin School

The eighth grade visited the Newton
North Telephone Exchange in Newton, Friday afternoon. They enjoyed the trip very much and were deeply appreciative of the courtesy of the operators.

On Tuesday afternoon the Horace Mann-Claffin football team played the Peirce School at West Newton. The game resulted in a score of 14 to 0 in favor of Horace Mann-Claffin.

This is the second game the Horace Mann-Claffin has won from the Peirce.
The score of the first game was 31-0.
Grade IV took a geography ride on Thursday, Oct. 27, to visit points of interest in their home city. The automobiles were supplied by the parents.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

The pupils of the fourth grade, numbering 50 in all, with their teacher, Miss Kelly and Miss Anderson, made a trip through the city of Newton on Monday morning. The party went in five autos and one truck and was under the personal direction of Miss Bragg. The trip was made in the interests of the study of local geography.

A new Reflectoscope made by A. T.
Thompson & Co. has been purchased out of the school fund.

Miss Mildred E. Manter, department teacher of mathematics, has returned to the city and will resume the duties of her position next Monday. Her return in September was impossible on account of illness.

Stearns School

A joint meeting of the Senior Girls' Club and the Junior Girls' Club was held on Tuesday, Oct. 25, at 8 o'clock.
Miss Harriet Cole, of Boston, spoke on "Posture" and a very interesting informal discussion followed. Refreshments were served and dancing enjoyed until ten o'clock.

Five delegates of the Newton Girls' Club will attend the Directorate of the Mass. League of Girls' Clubs which will be held at the Girls' City Club, 8 Newbury street, Boston, on Saturday, Oct. 29. The five members representing the club are Gertrude Bradley, Grace Stubbart, Anna Morrisson, May Fisher and Ruth Stubbart.

Miss Bradley will give a report of the out-door meeting held at Snowshoe Cottage, Wellesley Farms, on Saturday, Oct. 15th.

The Stearns School teachers thoroughly enjoyed a week-end party with Miss Swann at her home in Sandwich.

The football team has practised faithfully the past week in preparation for the hard game expected with the Mason boys next week. New formations were run off in smooth order and much distance is looked for from them. The squad still increases in numbers for the chance to obtain letter is still open. The Mason game is a letter game.

Mason School

A very enjoyable lecture was given on Wednesday morning by Mr. Har-bert S. Rogers, commercial manager of the N. E. Tel. and Tel. Co., to the pupils of grades seven and eight. It was accompanied by slides which pictured clearly the workings of the exchanges.

The schoolrooms of the Mason are looking very attractive just now with their plants and decorations for Halloween.

We have seen many parents in our building this week. That's good. We would like to see many more, for it is always helpful not only to the teachers, but we believe to both parents and the children.

The geography trips around the city have been completed by the three fourth grades. The children enjoyed the auto ride, the object of which is to give the children some general idea of their home city.

Members of the student council for Room 11: Norman Harris, Asa Fiske, George Bailey, Esher Winslow, Catherine Stone, Mary Donnelly.

Burr School

The boys of the 7th and 8th grades have collected enough money for an indoor base-ball to give to the school.
The girls of the 7th and 8th grades are making a team for Captain ball.

A new system is being introduced in the Burr School this year on the departmental plan. It includes the four classes of the two 7th and 8th grades.
The thirteen subjects taught are divided between the four teachers as follows: Miss Kingman (8th grade) arithmetic and drawing; Miss Cornwell (8th grade) language with and vocational guidance; Miss Higgins (7th grade) history, spelling and science;

Miss March (7th grade) geography and reading. Classes pass from one room to another for different subjects. When the supervisors come, Mr. Daniels for drawing, Mr. Walton for music, and Mr. Kuntz for health work there is a specially arranged program for the day.

Col. French will speak on Nov. 3 in the Burr School Hall on Washington, D. C.

The Auburndale football team played Waban yesterday.

NEW ORGAN

The Frank A. Day Memorial Organ will be opened by a Memorial Service in the Eliot Church, Newton, next Sunday morning at 10.30 o'clock. This large four-manual organ has 70 speaking stops, 30 couplers, 28 piston combinations, and 12 pedal combinations.
There is an echo organ of 11 stops at the opposite end of the church from the main organ, and a set of chimes over the ceiling of the church. The organ which is the gift of Mrs. Frank A. Day was built by Casavant Brothers of St. Hyacinthe, P. Q. The musical selections of the memorial service will consist of three organ numbers, three selections for the chorus and quartet and a tenor solo, besides suitable responses. They will be rendered by the chorus of 35 voices, Miss Louise K. Brown, soprano; Miss Jessie M.
French, contralto; J. Garfield Stone, tenor; Walter H. Kidder, bass and Everett E. Truette, organist and chomaster.

EDITORIAL

The people of Newton should clearly understand that the office of mayor means considerably more than extending the welcome of the city or making speeches at banquets and other public occasions. Under Mayor Childs so much emphasis has been placed on this purely ornamental part of the duties of our chief executive, that we are liable to forget that the mayor has the entire supervision and control of the executive departments of a city that is spending nearly three millions of dollars each year. Referring once more to the mayors who have served the city in the past, we recall that Mayors Wilson, Weeks, Weed, Warren and Hutchinson rarely appeared in the lime light, but gave all their attention and ability to the practical side of the work of the office which they so well filled. The election of Mr. Rogers will once more bring to the top this phase of the duties of mayor.

The unfounded rumor which has been heard around the city this week that Mr. Rogers, if elected Mayor would take steps to cut down the salaries of our school teachers, is wholly untrue. As a member of the board of aldermen for the past two years, Mr. Rogers has given his unqualified support and approval to the salary program of the school committee.

The city of Newton is fortunate in having men like Mr. Albert M. Lyon, who are willing to serve the public as members of the board of aldermen. Mr. Lyon's long service as a member and chairman of the school committee will add to his usefulness as a member of the board of aldermen.

The collapse of the threatened railroad strike merely emphasizes the difference between the Wilson and the Harding administrations.

MANUFACTURING FACTS

Some interesting facts have been brought out in the census concerning the manufacturing in this city for the year 1919 as compared with that of 1914. While the number of manufacturing establishments decreased in that period from 58 to 48, the number of persons employed increased from 2431 to 2586, the wage earners from 2154 to 2368, the capital invested from $5,581,000 to $9,216,000, salaries and wages from $1,578,000 to $2,877,000 and the value of products from $5,823,000 to $14,389,000.

you must wait as patiently as you can till November 8 comes to answer all your questions.

The flower table surely promises to be "a loveliness spot." Cut flowers, potted plants—in full bloom, ferns—several rare varieties, some of which will make charming center-pieces for the table—bulbs, winter baskets, bright with berries—a joy for all the coming months, are a few of the delights awaiting you there. Mrs. Powers, the chairman, asks—that any having baskets—which they are willing to donate, will leave them at Eliot Church in her name; also that any who are making automobile trips into the country where berries are to be found, will if possible, gather them and report to her at Vernon Court.

Did you ever see two hundred-ninety cakes—all together? That is what Mrs. Spurrier will have waiting for you at the Bazaar and every cake will be home-made. That is true of everything on her table, from the forty dozen doughnuts to the delicious rolls and beautifully browned loaves of bread. There are to be luscious pies, too, making one think of grandmother's at Thanksgiving, jellies and jams, preserves—and pickles,—potato salad, yes, even fish-balls, so that no family need go hungry because the mother is busy at the Bazaar. Food is perishable, so make the financial success of this department assured by generous purchasing. The committee guarantees that you cannot spend money to better advantage anywhere.

Troop 2—Anburndale—Hikes

Troop 2 under the leadership of Mr. Hillard of Weir street, made its first hike to its new Camping Ground at Weston. It was a splendid trip and after ground was cleared and a supper by the open fire, stories and other fun was enjoyed by the twenty-four scouts who participated. Mr. Hillard's troop is developing into one of the best all round troops in the Council and the Executive upon his official visit spoke at length to the boys which resulted in the whole troop determining to make advancement in scout rank this year.

Troop 8—Centre Newton

Scout Executive Sharratt made his first official visit to Troop 8 on Tuesday Evening of this week. Mr. Paul Waters, the Scoutmaster, and the scouts of the troop are making preparations for a splendid year in Scout Work. Ex. Sharratt spoke to the troop about the Council's plans for the year, and also emphasized the necessity of each scout playing the game of scouting to the end.

Troop 12 of West Newton

Troop 12 of West Newton is under way. Plans are forming and registrations are coming in. Rev. Mr. Hill with his efficient assistants plan to develop this troop to a fine standard.

NEWTON AT B. U.

Registration in Boston University, College of Liberal Arts now totals almost 1000 students. The entering class in this department numbers 200 students, which is the largest known. In the entering class of the whole University with its many departments, 1622 are working for a degree and 1017 are special and evening students. This is the registration up to date, but with such a large entering class, it is expected that the total enrollment in the whole University will number about 3000.

Twenty-four students from Newton and vicinity have enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts. They are as follows:

Otis Clapp, Alice C. Tyler, Joseph N. Brown, Jr., Winifred M. Dodge, Helen M. Regan, Edmund Fitzgerald, Loretta M. Hughes, Eleanor B. Sullivan, Mary B. Bowditch, Emily M. Gillis, Emily S. Howard, Kenneth K. Day, Bessie C. Noble, Philip R. Palm Mountain, Catherine C. Whitteley, Faith K. Addison, John A. Christie, Betty Cole, Eleanor Daboll, Robert A. Stimes, James R. Church, Elbra D. Gordell, Gertrude C. Butler, Margaret E. Morse.

ANOTHER VETERAN TO BE BURIED

First Sergeant Harry W. Bock, Jr., nephew of Mrs. Kate Robert of 12 Raymond Place, West Newton, will be buried with full military honors on Sunday afternoon, his remains having arrived in West Newton from France on Thursday night.

First Sergeant Bock died in action in France while serving with Company A, 11 Infantry, 5th Division, shrapnel and machine gun bullets ending his career in an advance on the enemy in the Du Carrol Woods near Dun-sur-Meuse. He was buried where he fell. Enlisting in February, 1916 in the Regular Army, while residing with his parents in Oklahoma, where his father was a missionary among the Indians, Bock was assigned to the 11th Infantry, then stationed at Douglas, Ariz. With the declaration of war, the regiment was transferred to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., and Bock was promoted to first sergeant. His regiment, with the 5th Division, sailed for France in April, 1918. For a time he attended an Army Candidates' School but rejoined his regiment near Verdun in September.

Yesterday and today the body laid in state at the Army in West Newton, a guard of honor from Newton Post, American Legion, performing honors. The remains will then be taken to the home of his aunt on Raymond Place, where they will remain until Sunday at 1:30.

Services will be held at the Newton Centre Baptist Church at 3:00 o'clock and interment will be in Newton Cemetery. Members of Newton Post will act as military escort for the occasion.

All former service men are invited to attend the funeral, in uniform if possible. Men will report to Commander C. Ray Cabot at the corner of Homer and Centre streets, Newton Centre at 2:30, Sunday afternoon.

Newton Centre

—Dr. George E. May, who has been seriously ill at the Newton Hospital, is now recovering.

—Mrs. Fred Stuart of Langley road entertained guests from Worcester at luncheon last week.

—Paul Woolley, a student in Princeton, is reported as gaining high honors in that college.

—Mr. George A. Stuart of Hammond street, Chestnut hill, sailed this week for a trip to Europe.

—The Sir Galahad Club held its first meeting last Friday night. Mr. John D. Babbage is the leader.

—There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at Trinity Church at 10:45 on Tuesday, All Saints' Day.

—Mr. Hassler Capron of Elmwood street has written the play to be given in Waban by the Girl Scouts in December.

—Miss Stuart of Langley road is designing the costumes for the Girl Scouts play to be given in Waban in December.

—Photographs, the Christmas gift that's always timely for friends, for family, and you. Make the appointment today. Lila J. Perry, Bank Bldg., Newton.

—Mrs. John H. Sanborn, formerly of Newton Centre, is spending a few weeks at her residence in Brookline.

—The many friends of Miss Elizabeth Osgood, formerly of Eliot, were delighted to hear that she had been made president of the Student Council at Mt. Holyoke College. Miss Osgood's record at college is a splendid one.

—The Men's Club of Trinity Church will hold a dinner next Wednesday at 6:30. Following the dinner, an interesting and instructive film describing the "Story of Rubber" will be shown, also one of Charlie Chaplin's films.

—Miss Catherine Miriam Curley of Chestnut Hill and Dr. Francis James Martin of Newton Centre were married at the Church of the Sacred Heart on Wednesday, the ceremony being performed by Father Curtin. Miss Margaret J. Curley, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Mr. Fred Martin, brother of the groom, best man. After a trip to the White Mountains until Dec. 1st Mr. and Mrs. Martin will make their home on Ward street. The bride is a graduate of the Newton School, and the groom a graduate of the Harvard Dental School, and married during the war with the 101st Field Hospital service.

ANNUAL BANQUET

There were over 250 members and guests present Wednesday evening at the 11th annual banquet of the Newton Catholic Club at the club hall. Mayor Edwin O. Childs spoke on the work of the club for the past year, and Rev. Robert P. Barry, formerly a Newton High baseball star, had for his subject "The Psychological Effects of the War." Hon. Edward F. McSweeney, J. H. Higgins of Waltham and Pres. John H. Gordon also spoke. Songs from the club's coming minstrel show were led by "Gene" McDonald, coach. The committee in charge consisted of Frank Kane, chairman, Alderman Timothy Hickey, William D. Nugent, Harold Green, John R. Kite and Joseph D. Curran. Mr. George M. Cranich was toastmaster.

TIED FOR FIRST PLACE

The Newton High eleven, tied with Malden for first place in the Suburban League, will take the field this afternoon against the sturdy Rindge Tech team. This game was originally scheduled for tomorrow but the authorities at both schools agreed to put the contest a day ahead.

Rindge brings a team to Clafin Field that is going to be hard to beat. The Brown and White outfit has been on the short end of games with Cambridge Latin and Malden, but in both of those contests the Rindge lads made the winner fight hard from whistle to whistle and the scores of both games were close. Like every team that is considered an underdog, the Rindge followers can imagine nothing sweeter than a victory over the highly rated Newton eleven. The boys from Cambridge are ready for the game of their lives this afternoon, and if defeated they will have no excuses to offer.

Newton looks to be about two touchdowns better than Rindge, and we shouldn't be at all surprised if today's score read something like that. Of course, there is always a chance that Rindge may play "over its head" and spring the unexpected, while it is also possible for Newton to get the jump on the visitors and run up an extra large score. But provided both eleven run true to form the final score should read somewhere in the vicinity of 14 to 0, with the Orange and Black on top.

Newton's 7 to 0 victory over Medford last Saturday was no surprise. While neither Capt. Stafford's nor Capt. Gillis' team played up to customary form there was no question as to Newton's superiority. The Orange and Black failed to hold onto the ball as well as expected, while Medford, in turn, failed to display its much-touted ability to recover fumbles. "Shad" Osborne was easily the star of the contest and his playing demonstrated the fact that he must be carefully considered for a place on this year's All Interscholastic eleven. Newton may breathe a trifle easier now that the Medford team has been met and conquered, although we believe there is still a powerful punch left in Coach Mansfield's team and that Medford is going to be a telling factor in deciding Who's Who in the 1921 Suburban race.

The scholastic football situation grows more and more interesting as the days go by. At this writing there are four teams in this part of the State that look good for championship honors. Newton, Malden, Haverhill, and Waltham constitute the Big Four at the close of the season. No one of the four has met defeat, and Newton is the only member of the quartet that has not been scored upon. Haverhill won the State title last year by defeating Newton, but unless Coach Broderick's team takes back its decision not to play any Massachusetts eleven in case of a tie for top honors, Haverhill must be considered out of it. Newton and Malden will settle their big question within the next few weeks, while the Waltham-Newton game at the Watch City will either make or break the Waltham team. The title race is certainly an interesting one and to pick the winner is the most difficult of tasks. If one was to hold a straw vote among the sports followers of Greater Boston the chances are that Malden would receive the greatest number of votes. But we have high hopes in Newton and all dyed-in-the-wool Newton fans are pulling for Coach Dickinson's boys to come out on top.

LASELL ANNUAL MEETING

The meetings of the Corporation and of the Board of Trustees of Lasell Seminary, Anburndale, were held on October 17 at the Seminary. This was the first annual meeting since the school passed into the control of the new Corporation officered by a Board of Trustees.

The following were elected members of the Corporation: Dr. C. C. Bragdon, Pasadena, Calif.; Mrs. Charles S. Davis, 57, Newton Centre; Mrs. Frank P. Fabens, Salem; Mr. Andrew D. Pierce, Malden; Dr. Thomas Chalmers, West Newton; Mrs. Maude Simes Harding, '06, Brighton, President of the Lasell Alumnae Association; Mrs. Ella R. Cushing, '73, Miami, Fla., treasurer of the Lasell Alumnae Association; Miss Carol Rice, '16, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. B. F. Merriam, '85, Framingham; Mrs. Laura Hale Gorton, '16, Hartford, Conn.

The first five of the above list were also elected members of the Board of Trustees.

The election of officers was as follows: President, Dr. Guy M. Winslow; Vice-President and Treasurer, Mr. Charles F. Towne; Clerk, Mr. J. Porter Russell. Executive Board: The above three and Mr. Joseph B. Jamieson, Mr. Charles E. Valentine, Mr. J. P. Vescott, Jr., Mrs. Etta Austin McDonald and Mrs. Andrew D. Pierce.

Reports of the present condition of the school were given by the President and the reasurer, and plans for the future were discussed. There are enrolled this year in the Junior and Senior Schools combined, 100 students, 241; Day pupils, 32. In the face of the economic problems which have impeded the forward movement of many educational institutions, Lasell seems to be facing a bright future. The enrollment for '22-'23 is most encouraging.

MILITARY FUNERAL

Full military honors were paid to Edward L. Sullivan, formerly Private 1st Class, Company C, 101st Infantry on Sunday afternoon. Company H, 101st Infantry, M. N. G., under command of Captain John A. MacClellan, Newton Post 48, American Legion, under Commander C. Raymond Cabot and the Veterans of Company C, under command of Major Henry D. Cormier, formed escort that performed the final rites in honor of the youthful soldier who made the supreme sacrifice near Verdun in October, 1918, while his company, as part of the Yankee Division was engaged in the final offensive of the war, that brought Germany to its knees.

Brief services were held at the Church of the Sacred Heart at 2:00 o'clock and thousands of friends in addition to the uniformed delegations gathered to pay homage to one of the few Newton Centre boys who died on the field of battle. As the remains were being carried on the shoulders of members of Sullivan's old company, from the hearse to the church and on the return journey, the escort was drawn up on either side of the steps of the church standing at salute, the National and State flags drooped out of respect.

Rev. Timothy A. Curtin, pastor of the church, officiated at the services. At the close of the services, the cortege formed on Centre street, headed by a detail of police. The procession marched over Centre and Bacon streets to Hammond street where it disbanded, with the exception of the firing squad, bugler and pall bearers. The funeral cortege continued to St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury, where hundreds had gathered. Rev. Fr. Curtin officiated at the committal services at the grave. A firing squad, composed of former members of Company C, fired the three volleys over the open grave, the salute rendered only to American soldiers, and Bugler Turner of Company H sounded Taps. The flag that had draped the casket during its journey from France was then presented to the mother of the departed soldier.

LODGES

Tuesday night, in Odd Fellows Hall, Newtonville, Court Genoa, Catholic Daughters of America, presented "The Greatest Plague in Life" and the proceeds from the affair will be devoted to St. Gabriel's Monastery. The cast performed with the ease of professionals and the hall was filled with a very appreciative audience. Among those who took part were Mrs. Joseph De-

AUTOMOBILE INSTRUCTION

The State is furthering careful driving through a course in Gasoline Automobiles to be given under the Division of University Extension at the Newton Vocational School on Wednesday evenings for 10 consecutive weeks. Recognizing that a knowledge of the mechanism of his car assures the driver of the ability to do the right thing at the right time, the State is offering this course to promote safe driving as well as to afford automobile owners of the Newtons an opportunity to learn how to keep their cars in proper repair. Principal Michael W. Murray of the Vocational School has interested himself in the organization of this class, and it is mainly through his efforts that the gasoline automobile course is being offered here.

The Division of University Extension has secured the services of Lee L. Smalley, an automobile expert to instruct the students in the operation of their cars. Safety on the highways is a measure to the driver's ability to handle his machine properly, according to Mr. Smalley, and the class will give the student familiarity with his machine that should help him to avoid preventable accidents.

Membership in this class is open to all residents of the Newtons and vicinity and registrations for the course will be received at the first regular class meeting, Wednesday evening, November 2nd at 7.30. Application for membership may also be made through the office of the Principal of the Vocational School.

THE PLAYERS

The Players are presenting their 3rd series of plays this week at Players' Hall, West Newton, giving performances on Saturday, Monday, and Tuesday evenings as well as tonight and Saturday night, five evenings in all. The play is "Billied," a comedy in three acts and the characters are taken by the Misses Katherine Roqueiro, Mary Newhall, Helen Smith, Mrs. Pitt F. Drew, Mrs. Francis Newhall, and Messrs. L. D. Bentley, E. Irving Locke, W. V. V. Marsh and Wm. M. Fawcett. The ushers were Messrs. Arthur G. Hosmer, Arthur T. Lovett, Robert A. Whidden, Clifton Leatherbee, Sinclair Weeks, H. L. Albright and Chas. E. Hatfield.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. POOLE, Editor.

"Early Days in the Women's Clubs," will be presented by seven able leaders in the club world at the meeting of the Presidents' Club at Hotel Vendome, next Tuesday, November 1st. This club was organized in 1916 for social purposes chiefly, as means of keeping up friendly relations among women who have served as presidents of clubs belonging to the State Federation. Every year Newton has been represented upon its executive board, and this year it is Newton's proud distinction to have the presidency. Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, having been chosen to the office last June at the annual meeting. The plans for the coming year include a question box, through which this year's presidents may have some of their perplexities answered, ten minutes at each meeting being devoted to it. It is expected that the programs will be wholly provided by home talent, and that a much larger time will be given to the social side. Any women who have served as presidents of their respective clubs are urged to join, if they have not already done so. The dues are small, the meetings few, only five during the season, and the responsibilities light, and the return in good comradeship fully equal to all that goes into it. One does not have to be asked to join. All that is necessary is to send in your name, stating the name of your club and the year of your service.

Club correspondents are requested to send in their news written on one side of the paper, and separate notices upon separate sheets of paper. Write legibly, especially names. Use large sheets of paper and write wide apart to admit of editing when necessary. Above all send in promptly, that they may be received not later than the first delivery on Thursday, but preferably on Wednesday. Address all communications to 94 Charlesbank Road, Newton.

State Federation

Monday, October 31, 12 o'clock. Fall Presidents' Conference at Attleboro. The meeting will be held in the Second Congregational Church, Park St. The chairmen of the departments will present their plans for the year, and Dr. Healy will speak upon "Juvenile Delinquency." The president, one member of the executive board, and one member from the club at large are invited to attend. The delegates provide themselves with luncheon before arriving in Attleboro, as no arrangements have been made for lunching there. Take train from South Station, Boston, at 11 A. M.

Professional Women's Club

The Newton members will be interested in the first luncheon of the Professional Women's Club of the season, which will be held at the Copley Plaza on November 14th, in the big ball room, because of the fact that Judge Jean H. Norris, who spoke before the Newton Community Club last winter, will be the guest of honor. Other guests will be the English, French, and Belgian consuls; Mrs. Cordelia MacDonald, the original "Little Eva" of "Uncle Tom's Cabin"; Genevieve Tobin of the "Little Old New York Company," and other stars who will be in town at the time.

Local Happenings

The Waban Woman's Club opens the season Monday, October 31, with an auction bridge to raise funds for its philanthropic work. Mrs. Edmund Winchester is in charge of the arrangements. Afternoon tea will be served, and candy will be on sale.

On Monday, October 31, the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will have one of its special days, meeting with Miss Harriet Ward for luncheon at one o'clock, a change from the place noted in the calendar.

Mrs. Ernest F. Drew will be hostess for the postponed meeting of the Christian Era Study Club which will be held next Monday afternoon. "Affairs in Scotland" will be treated by Miss Wells. Mrs. Coffin will review "Woodstock." "The Great Puritan Movement" is the general topic for the season.

November 1st, the Auburndale Review Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles E. Valentine, with "Island Possessions of the United States," as the special topic for consideration.

The regular program meetings of Newtonville Woman's Club open on Tuesday afternoon with a dramatic reading by Elizabeth Pooler Rice. A food sale will be conducted by the Music committee.

The year's program includes a large variety of subjects presented by eminent speakers. There will be a Home Afternoon; a Musical Extravaganza will be given three performances for the benefit of the club's housing fund; a Christmas Party will be held on December 20, when a group of little children of Newton will be made glad. The teachers of the high schools will be guests of the club to hear Dr. Alfred Stearns, of Phillips Academy, Andover. Other speakers will include Dr. George H. Blakeslee, Dr. Richard Burton, Mary Boyle O'Reilly, Captain Andre Morize, Charles Crawford Gorst. The annual musicale will take place in March, Georges and Renee Miquelle being the artists.

The Woman's Club of Newton Highlands will hold its next meeting, Tuesday evening, November 1st, in Lincoln Hall, at 8 P. M. Ernest Harold Baynes, the noted naturalist, will give an illustrated lecture on "Our Wild Animal Neighbors." Guest tickets may be procured of the treasurer or at the door.

The Newton Social Science Club will open its season with a business meeting on Wednesday morning, at the Grace Church parish house. Besides the regular business there will be reports of various Federation meetings and conferences.

Miss Sarah Louise Arnold, dean emerita of Simmons College, will lecture before the Community Service Club of West Newton on Wednesday, November 2, at 2:30 P. M. in the parish house of the Unitarian church. Her topic will be "Changing Aspects of the Homes of America." Members may secure guest tickets from the treasurer, or at the door.

Mrs. Claude U. Gilson has already begun her course of lectures on Current Events before the club, the second having been held this morning. The subsequent dates are, November 11, and 25, December 9, and January 13. These are held in the parish house of the Congregational Church.

Mrs. Grace M. Poole will open her course on Current Events before the Newton Community Club on Thursday, November 3, at 2:30 P. M. Attention is called to the change of hour from last year. This course is open to all members of the club without extra fee. Tickets for non-members may be secured from the treasurer, Miss Emma E. Walker.

The class in Parliamentary Law with Mrs. Electa M. Sherman as leader, will open on Monday, November 7, at 3 o'clock. As the membership is limited applications should be made immediately to Miss Helen F. Hull, 29 Ivanhoe street, Newton. Non-members will be received, if there are vacancies.

Mrs. Frederic J. Fawcett, chairman of the Literature department of the club, has arranged for a most unusual and valuable series of eight or ten informal talks upon the more recent work in fiction, poetry, drama, and essay, by Mr. Norreys Jephson O'Connor, a young poet of distinction. These will be given in the card rooms of the Hunnewell Club on the first and third Wednesday afternoons at 3:30 P. M., beginning November 2nd. Mrs. Frank Ashley Day, Jr., 115 Sargent street, is treasurer of the committee, and is anxious to receive the subscriptions in time to return tickets to the members before the first lecture next Wednesday. The course is also open to non-members.

The Newton Ladies' Home Circle meets as usual next Thursday, November 3, at 2 P. M., in G. A. R. hall, Newtonville.

On Friday, Oct. 29th, at the Auburndale Men's Club, the Juniors are giving the first of a series of assemblies for the winter. It is to be hoped that all the young people will assist them in making their initial dance a great success.

Local Happenings

On Monday, October 24th, the Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, was entertained by Mrs. Glendinning Smith at her home on Sewall street, West Newton. Mrs. Willard C. Church was the assisting hostess. Mrs. Harry S. Wells, whose subject was "Cities of Southern Italy," gave many interesting facts regarding the customs of the people, as well as descriptions of the various cities, and Mrs. Lou Bacon described Naples and its beauties in an entertaining manner.

At the close of the literary program Mrs. Smith rendered two songs most delightfully, accompanied by Mrs. Ralph Hatch, after which curios from various foreign countries were shown.

The Current Events class of the Newtonville Woman's Club was successfully launched on Tuesday afternoon with a very large attendance. Mrs. Grace M. Poole, the leader, discussed at length the problems of disarmament, she touched upon the Non-Partisan League of North Dakota, and analyzed the work of the present Congress.

Dr. Harry Levi, of Temple Israel, speaking before the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon, brought home to every member most forcibly the imperative need to render impossible a recurrence of any future warfare.

"I have always felt," he said, "that if we could make people know the real cost of war, we would make further war impossible. Now we know the (Continued on Page 7)

Henry F. Miller PIANOS

Established 1863

We are showing a large stock of small Baby Grand pianos especially designed for small rooms or apartments.

Henry F. Miller quality was never more conspicuous than in this truly remarkable piano—the ideal musical instrument for the home.

A very reasonable sum will exchange your old, out of date piano for one of these beautiful small grands.

cost. We are just near enough to, just far enough away from the world war to be able to understand the staggering price we had to pay for it. It ought to compel us to employ every possible means to make further war obsolete. We need to have recourse to every practical expedient that will lessen the likelihood of war. And the limitation and reduction of armament is a promising means to this end. So long as one country arms, the rest are bound to do so. And the better prepared one people is to wage war the better all the other nations must prepare themselves.

"America is pointing the way. America has a wonderful opportunity. But first of all we must approach the forthcoming conference with absolutely clean hands and pure hearts. We are the one disinterested country. We are, all things considered, in a better position than any of the lands interested. We have initiated the conference. The world is looking to us to help it out of its slough of despond, out of the depths that threaten wholly to engulf it. And ability must mean a conscious consecrated sense of responsibility. The destiny of the world lies in our hands. Do we appreciate the gravity of the situation?"

Turning from Dr. Levi's impassioned address to the program for the afternoon, Mrs. Jennie B. Culver of the Taunton Women's Club, carried our hearts and minds away from warfare to our grandmothers' treasure chests, where were gleaned the most wonderful and beautiful shawls of every imaginable kind from the looms of India and China to the dainty productions of our own countries. These were described very interestingly, while the living models, Mrs. Harold Goward, Mrs. Herbert Fisher, and Miss Caroline Stavers, in beautiful old gowns, displayed the shawls through the audience. Mrs. Frank Fox and Miss Mignon Watson with violin and piano played music appropriate to the occasion.

Before and after the entertainment the Junior members assisted the Education Committee in a most successful cake and candy sale, which netted a goodly sum for the scholarship fund.

HUNT-KITCHIN

Miss Blanche Charlotte Kitchin, daughter of Mrs. Lillian E. Kitchin of Oak street, Newton Upper Falls, was married last Saturday at her home on Oak street, Newton Upper Falls, to Mr. Frank Hunt, Jr., of Pleasant street, Worcester. Rev. Frederick Palladino of the Methodist Church.

The bride wore a gown of white canton crepe with veil, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Ethel Hunt, sister of the groom, wore a dress of blue canton crepe and a large picture hat, and carried pink roses.

The best man was Mr. Gordon G. Kitchin, brother of the bride. A reception at the home of the bride followed the ceremony, the bridal couple being assisted by their parents. About one hundred guests were present, and the bride received many beautiful and useful gifts.

After November 1st, Mr. and Mrs. Hunt will make their home in Worcester, Mass.

A meeting and luncheon of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church was held on Wednesday.

Dr. Walter B. Lancaster of Pleasant street is attending the meetings of the Ophthalmological Society at Philadelphia.

A goodly representation from the Methodist Church attended the banquet of the Boston Social Union in Boston on Monday.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Church held an interesting and novel Hallowe'en party in the chapel last Saturday night.

Mrs. Melver Woody and son, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lewis L. Jones of Waban Hill road, returned to Dallas, Texas, this week.

The Neighborhood Club held the first meeting of the season last Tuesday night at the home of Miss Dorothy Taylor on Grant avenue.

The girls of the Junior and Intermediate Departments of the Church School of the First Baptist Church, will hold a Hallowe'en party this afternoon. The program is arranged by the Caritas Class.

Mr. Albert H. McAuslan who has recently been associated with the Newton Centre Office of Henry W. Savage, Inc., as manager, has decided to make a change in business, and Mr. Merrill C. Nutting, who has been connected with the same office for two years, will assume the new management of the office.

On November 16, the Copley-Plaza Hotel, Boston, will be operated for a day for the benefit of the Frances Willard Settlement work. Mrs. George S. Mumford of Chestnut Hill, and Mrs. Frank H. Stewart of Montvale road are to be Assistant Managers of the event. Mrs. Arthur C. Badger of Dudley road will be in charge of the grill room, while Mrs. Frank H. Stewart and Mrs. Charles W. Bond will have charge of the bazaar.

The Autumn Social of the First Church was held on Tuesday evening. It was an eventful occasion. Following the supper, there was a reception at which Mr. and Mrs. Noyes and Miss Ruth Porter, the new church assistant, received. During the evening, Mrs. Robert B. MacKnight and Mr. R. Frederick Fairchild sang several numbers, Mr. Ralph Maclean played, and Miss Elsie May Gordon read. Community singing in which everybody joined concluded the evening.

Dr. Tehyl Hsieh will speak in Trinity Church, next Sunday evening at 7.15 in the fourth of the series of Disarmament Services. His subject will be "What About China?" Dr. Hsieh has been called "The Roosevelt of China." He will attend the Conference at Washington on the Staff of the Consulting Representatives, under the auspices of the Chinese Trade and Labor Bureau. He speaks English fluently and he has been stating the case for China before many of the Chambers of Commerce of this country.
